TAX CUT 'IMPORTANT' STEP

—ACID HITS MARYLAND TROOPER—

Dogs, Fire Hoses Halt Negro Demonstrators

Princess Anne, Md. (AP)—Police dogs and fire hoses were used to disperse Negro students in two separate racial demonstrations in this small college town Wednesday.

At least one officer was seen using his night stick on a student as arrests were made after the demonstrators sat down in the street and refused to move. After that incident, students threw rocks, bottles and sticks at police as they retreated toward the campus.

Fifty-nine students were reported treated at the Maryland State College campus health center, and police said acid was thrown on a state trooper during one scuffle.

Other students were treated at the Princess Anne jail, where 27 students—including four women—were taken. Those arrested, all Negroes, were charged with disorderly conduct and falure to obey a lawful command of a police officer.

One student, identified by Sheriff Isaac Dorsey as Gerald Brown, was sent from the jail to Peninsula General Hospital in Salisbury, some 14 miles away.

A hospital spokesman said Brown, 19, apparently had been hit with a blunt instrument near the left ear. He was held overnight for observation.

3 Others Treated

Three other Negroes were treated at the hospital. The spokesman said he didn't know if they were Maryland State College students, but they gave campus addresses.

State troopers dispersed jeering crowds of whites and Negroes from a downtown intersection at night. About 50 Negroes and 150 whites were urged by loud speaker to go home.

The trooper injured by the acid, Colin Macindoe, was released after treatment at the hospital. Acid had eaten away part of his pants legs and socks.

Dog Bites

The injuries threated at the health center, a spokesman said, included dog bites, scratches and bruises. Several students were to be taken to Peninsula General for X-rays.

From 250 to 300 students marched into the business district of this town of 1,300 residents in the fist demonstration. Police, aided by dogs, dispersed the crowd after about 45 minutes.

Later, another 150 students headed for town but firemen stopped them two blocks from the campus with fire hoses. Two students were knocked from their feet by the water. This demonstration lasted about 30 minutes.

After Refusal

Those arrested included John Wilson, 20-year-old leader of the Student Appeal for Equality, which staged the demonstration after Wilson and two other leaders were refused entrance to a segregated restaurant.

There was no disorder as the students marched along the two-block business district of Somerset Avenue, clapping their hands and singing integration songs. Trouble started when they sat down in three circles on the street and refused state police commands to leave.

Troopers slowly drove two trucks through the sitting students, dragging and pushing the demonstrators out of the vehicles' path. As they passed, however, the students sat down again at the urging of Wilson, who darted from group to group with encouragement.

Economy Bolstered

. . . LBJ SIGNS PACT

Washington (AP) —President Johnson signed into law Wednesday night a tax cut for most individual taxpayers and corporations and proclaimed it "the single most important step we have taken to strengthen our economy since World War II."

Johnson acted on this biggest tax cut in the nation's history within a few hours after the Senate passed the measure, 74 to 19, ending its year-long, sometimes stormy voyage through Congress. It reduces taxes for 80 million individuals by one-fifth, on the average, and for 550,000 corporations by about 9% starting with 1964 returns.

After the signing ceremony in the East Room of the White House Johnson spoke to the nation in a hastily arranged television-radio broadcast, saying:

"We have made this bill an expression of faith in our system of free enterprise. The ability of this tax bill greatly to improve the vigor of our economy rests in your hands as individual consumers and businessmen.

Greater Abundance

"If American enterprise responds to this new opportunity with increased investment and expansion — with new production and new products —with the creation of new jobs — then the tax cut will bring greater abundance to all Americans. Then the federal government will not have to do for the economy what the economy should do for itself."

Johnson called this "a bold economy, chosen over a higher level of government spending.

But Johnson said more important is what a strong U.S. economy means to preservation of freedom in the world. There is "no asset more precious to freedom, and no guarantee more vital to liberty than a robust American economy," he asserted.

Then in an allusion to the remark several years ago by Soviet Premier Khrushchev that communism would bury capitalism, Johnson declared:

"No one can bury us—or bluff us—or beat us—so long as our economy remains strong."

The President noted that although the tax cut was "inspired and proposed by our late, beloved" President John F. Kennedy, it was passed with support of both Democrats and Republicans in Congress.

Some Detail

Johnson went into some detail into what the new tax bill would do for a few sample taxpayers and corporations.

He put the average individual cut at "nearly 20%," a notch higher than an earlier Treasury estimate of around 19%. He said this will amount to $9.2 billion a year—$8 billion this year—of the total $11.5-billion tax cut, which is balanced out with some tax increases and tightening of deductions.

"The important point," the President said, "is that this bill means increased income for almost every taxpayer and business in America—and those earning the least will receive the largest percentage reductions."

Passes Quietly

The measure zipped through the Senate quietly in the final stage. The oratory and most of the formalities were completed after House passage Tuesday.

On passage, 53 Democrats and 21 Republicans voted for the tax cut. It was opposed by 10 Democrats and 9 Republicans. The House had passed the bill by a similar wide margin.

The first impact of the long-awaited tax cut will be felt on March 5, when the withholding of income taxes by employers drops from a basic rate of 18% to 14%. This rate applies to workers who list no exemptions and varies according to the number listed with the employer.

Regional Planning Efforts Launched

Waverly — Efforts to form a Regional Planning Council for a five-county region encompassing Omaha and Lincoln and other communities were launched Wednesday night at a meeting here.

Participating were 35 representatives of the two metropolitan centers, Waverly, Bennington, Nebraska City, Ashland and Millard and several Nebraska state agencies.

Meeting discussion outlined the rapid urban growth of the area and the need for cooperative planning for its orderly future growth.

'Depends on Planning'

Randall Sims, League of Municipalities field consultant, keynoted the meeting:

"This region extending from Omaha to Lincoln will grow. But how fast and how well it grows depends upon planning for zoning, transportation, recreation and industrial development."

The counties of Douglas, Cass, Sarpy, Saunders and Lancaster are proposed for the regional council, but Washington, Dodge and Otoe will also be invited to join.

The group agreed to explore the formation of such a planning council and appointed a seven-member committee to develop a plan of action for consideration at a meeting tentatively set for April 1.

Named to the committee were Harry P. Anderson, Millard mayor; Douglas Brogden, Lincoln-Lancaster County planning director; Alden Aust, Omaha planning director; John Sampson, Omaha attorney, Larry Heeren, Nebraska Resources Division; and Sims as chairman.

A representative of the County Officials Association will be asked to become the seventh member.

Sims said the five-county region's present population of 625,000 will increase to 755,000 within the next 10 years.

Consolidated Approach

"This means 150,000 persons who are going to want jobs, schools, homes and recreation," Sims told the meeting. "There needs to be a more consolidated approach in planning for the future."

Lee Fettig of Northern Natural Gas said a study, sponsored by his company, indicates the Omaha-Lincoln region must work together if this urban area is to compete with such regional areas as Kansas City, Minneapolis-St Paul and Denver for population growth, industry and business.

Hal Schroeder of the Salt-Wahoo Watershed District said Corps of Engineers dams impounding 3,000 to 4,000 acres of water will soon be complete near Lincoln, but stressed the potential of other water recreation facilities keyed to smaller soil and water conservation projects.

It was generally agreed that the Regional Planning Council should be an advisory and planning agency with only power of recommendation to the various governmental subdivisions participating in the program.

It was stressed that other metropolitan regions have successfully adopted such planning agencies and the Omaha - Lincoln urban and suburban complex "should at least begin talking about common problems and exploring areas where cooperative planning is desireable."

Participation on the proposed Regional Council would be voluntary and any cooperative efforts of the various governmental subdivisions would be done under 1963 state enabling legislation for joint cooperation between governmental subdivisions.

Rural-Area Representatives 'Best Hope For Agriculture'

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Nebraska Farmers Union members were told Wednesday the best help for agriculture would be the election of "congressmen from rural areas who think like farmers."

The advice came from Reuben Johnson, National Farmers Union Legislative Coordinator, Washington, D.C. at the Nebraska group's 51st annual meeting, at the Nebraska Center.

Full parity for basic agricultural crops is one of the state FU's top aims. Such parity, members claim, would benefit agriculture, labor and industry.

Johnson said that only with the support of 94.8% of the "big city" Democrats was it possible to pass the Feed Grains program in Congress, and that only 83.2% of the rural Democrats supported the program.

'GOP Opposed'

He said Republicans from both areas opposed the measure.

"If big city congressmen continue to determine agriculture programs, it is obvious that the time is not too far away when we will need less expensive and more effective supply adjustment and price support programs if we are to get the congressional support necessary to continue them," he said.

Johnson challenged supporters of a free market, recalling the low prices of the 1930's, when farmers had no support prices.

"Do we have to go through an economic wringer every generation to learn that the so-called free market for agriculture will only bring low prices?" he asked.

Government 'Only Hope'

Johnson called government "the only hope" of the individual farmer in competition with processors and manufacturers who buy his products.

FU members are asking joint participation with other agriculture organizations to prove that agriculture is the state's most important business and that therefore it should have "first chance to supply the American market."

In a move to voice protest against excessive meat imports, the group adopted the following resolution:

"Be it resolved that since frozen and boned meat is not adaptable to proper and adequate inspection at U.S. ports, it should be excluded from U.S. import trade as a safeguard to health."

Tax discussion centered on three recommendations made by the legislative committee that the organization reject a state sales tax or combination sales-income tax. The committee recommended support for a state income tax patterned after the federal income tax system.

National Council

The Nebraska FU recommended the establishment of a national farm organization council, composed of a representative of each of the national farm organizations.

Other resolutions approved:

—Support for the continuation of two per cent interest on Rural Electrification Administration loans and protests against removing ceilings on GI, REA, and FHA loans.

—Support for the creation of one statewide wholesale public power district.

—Support for additional trade schools, on the condition that any new schools not be located in a "town discriminating against non-resident high school students."

The meeting continues through Thursday with sessions open to the public that will include a panel on "What's Ahead in Livestock Marketing."

HOOVER SHOWS 'IMPROVEMENT'

New York (AP) — Doctors reported a definite improvement Wednesday in the condition of former President Herbert Hoover, 89, seriously ill since Sunday.

"He is alert and taking nourishment by mouth," a bulletin said.

It said the 31st president was "still having some respiratory difficulty" from a pulmonary infection, but that the infection was responding to therapy and that kidney bleeding had stopped.

Lung Cancer Heaviest In Omaha, Lincoln

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story was written by a student in depth reporting at the University of Nebraska's School of Journalism

By JAMES RISSER

A new study shows that Omaha men apparently are dying of lung cancer at a rate more than one and one-half times that of Lincoln men and almost three times that of men in an area including Seward, York, Beatrice, and Fairbury.

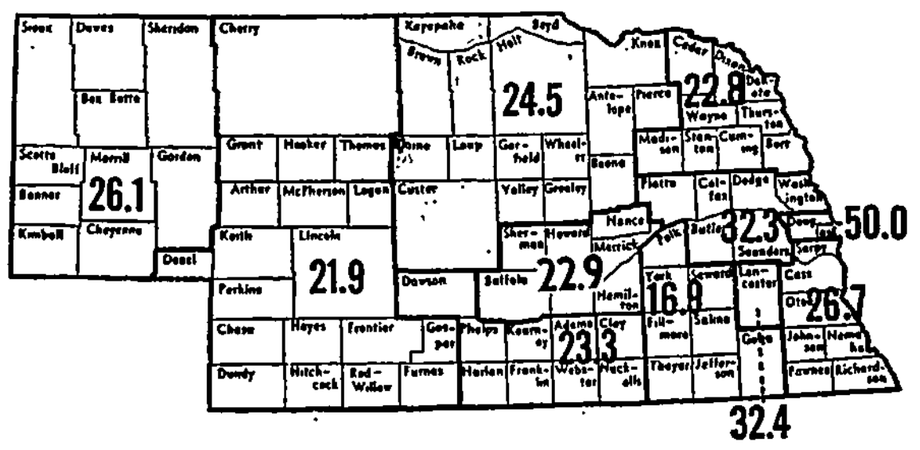
These findings were announced Wednesday by Dr. George Pickett of the U.S. Public Health Service. Dr. Pickett, who is on a two-year assignment doing cancer control work with the Nebraska Department of Health, discovered the striking differences through a statistical study.

His figures, covering 1958 through 1962, show the disease taking its greatest toll in the more highly populated eastern part of Nebraska, although the lowest incidence was found in an eight-county area immediately south and west of Lincoln.

Douglas Highest

Douglas County is highest with an annual average for the five years of 50 cancer deaths per 100,000 male population. Lancaster County is second with 32.4.

With the exception of these two counties, Dr. Pickett divided the state into nine areas, each containing approximately 50,000 male residents. (The map shows the average annual death rate per 100,000 male population in each area.)



The study was done on men only. "Nebraska has so few female cases that the statistics would not be as reliable as for males," according to Dr. Pickett.

The 1960 statewide rate was 30.2 lung cancer deaths per 100,000 population for males, as compared to less than five per 100,000 for females. The male rate increased 527% from 1940 to 1960, while the female rate stayed almost constant.

"In order to make the final ratings more accurate, an adjustment was made for age differences in the 11 blocks," Dr. Pickett said.

Big Question

The big question, left unanswered by Dr. Pickett's study, is what causes the startling differences. Is there some unexplained protection from lung cancer for those living in certain areas of the state?

"People shouldn't assume that they have constitutional protection against lung cancer based on where they live," Dr. Pickett said. "I suspect that what's protecting them is not where they live, but how they live."

"I think cigarette smoking has to be considered the primary factor," he said. "This has to be the logical conclusion and is substantiated by the findings of the Surgeon General's advisory committee," Dr. Pickett said studies have established that more people smoke in urban than in rural areas, he said.

The recent Surgeon General's report cites numerous studies which show a higher rate of death by lung cancer in urban areas than in rural. Nevertheless, the report points out that there is a large difference in mortality rates between smokers and nonsmokers, irrespective of where they live.

Religious Factor

"I would suggest that in addition to the normal difference between urban and rural smoking habits, the figures are further affected by concentrations in Nebraska of religious groups that forbid smoking," Dr. Pickett said.

Other factors which could possibly contribute to the differences, according to Dr. Pickett, are variances in air pollution, and statistical errors caused by inaccurate recording of residence and cause of death. Persons who go from smaller population centers into Omaha or Lincoln for treatment are sometimes erroneously recorded as city residents when they die, he explained.

Dr. Henry M. Lemon, director of the Eppley Cancer Institute in Omaha, acknowledged the importance of the statistics, but called for further studies.

"I am not sure that smoking habits differ greatly in urban and rural areas, although there is some evidence of this difference," Dr. Lemon said.

Dr. Lemon raised the possibility of more respiratory irritants in the urban areas, which could result in greater retention of tar deposits in the lungs. "However, Omaha is not in an area of major air pollution," he said.

Cigarettes Blamed

Dr. Edwin D. Lyman of Douglas County Department of Health believes that more cigarette smoking in urban areas such as Omaha is the primary cause of the statistical differences found by Dr. Pickett.

Air pollution has been overemphasized as a cause of the urban-rural difference in lung cancer, according to Dr. Lyman. "I think the air pollution that counts is the pollution that the individual intro-

CORE Head James Farmer Will Speak Here May 14th

James Farmer, one of the top national leaders of the civil rights movement, will appear at a public dinner meeting in Lincoln next May, it was revealed Wednesday night.

Farmer is national director of the Congress on Racial Equality (CORE), one of the most active of the national organizations organizing sitins and other demonstrations for equal rights for Negroes.

The dinner, scheduled for May 14, is to be co-sponsored by the Malone Community Center, Action Coordinating Team and the Social Action Committee of the Lincoln Unitarian Church.

Farmer was one of the few civil rights leaders not present at the March on Washington last August, because at the time he was in jail in Plaquemine, La., as the result of a civil rights demonstration there.

Farmer had been jailed before for civil rights actions; after being arrested in 1961 as one of the Jackson, Miss., Freedom Riders he gave instructions from the Jackson jail for the broadening of the Freedom Ride attack on segregation at bus station facilities.

Farmer's appearance will follow by two months the appearance here next week of Dr. Wyatt Tee Walker, executive director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and key lieutenant of Martin Luther King. Dr. Walker will speak at the Nebraska Conference on Religion and Race.

Lung Cancer Heaviest In Omaha, Lincoln

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story was written by a student in depth reporting at the University of Nebraska's School of Journalism

By JAMES RISSER

A new study shows that Omaha men apparently are dying of lung cancer at a rate more than one and one-half times that of Lincoln men and almost three times that of men in an area including Seward, York, Beatrice, and Fairbury.

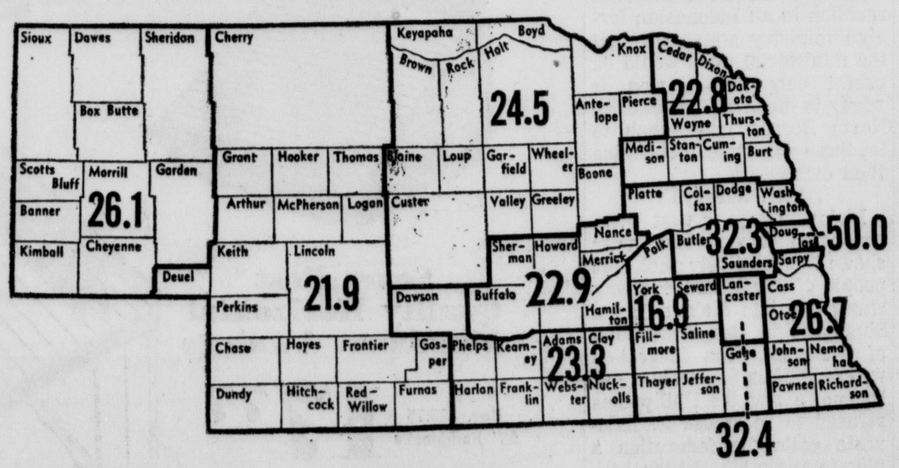
These findings were announced Wednesday by Dr. George Pickett of the U.S. Public Health Service. Dr. Pickett, who is on a two-year assignment doing cancer control work with the Nebraska Department of Health, discovered the striking differences through a statistical study.

His figures, covering 1958 through 1962, show the disease taking its greatest toll in the more highly populated eastern part of Nebraska, although the lowest incidence was found in an eight-county area immediately south and west of Lincoln.

Douglas Highest

Douglas County is highest with an annual average for the five years of 50 cancer deaths per 100,000 male population. Lancaster County is second with 32.4.

With the exception of these two counties, Dr. Pickett divided the state into nine areas, each containing approximately 50,000 male residents. (The map shows the average annual death rate per 100,000 male population in each area.)



By the study was done on men only. "Nebraska has so few female cases that the statistics would not be as reliable as for males," according to Dr. Pickett.

The 1960 statewide rate was 30.2 lung cancer deaths per 100,000 population for males, as compared to less than five per 100,000 for females. The male rate increased 527% from 1940 to 1960, while the female rate stayed almost constant.

"In order to make the final ratings more accurate, an adjustment was made for age differences in the 11 blocks," Dr. Pickett said.

Big Question

The big question, left unanswered by Dr. Pickett's study, is what causes the startling differences. Is there some unexplained protection from lung cancer for those living in certain areas of the state?

"People shouldn't assume that they have constitutional protection against lung cancer based on where they live," Dr. Pickett said. "I suspect that what's protecting them is not where they live, but how they live."

"I think cigarette smoking has to be considered the primary factor," he said. "This has to be the logical conclusion and is substantiated by the findings of the Surgeon General's advisory committee." Dr. Pickett said studies have established that more people smoke in urban than in rural areas, he said.

The recent Surgeon General's report cites numerous studies which show a higher rate of death by lung cancer in urban areas than in rural. Nevertheless, the report points out that there is a large difference in mortality rates between smokers and nonsmokers, irrespective of where they live.

Religious Factor

"I would suggest that in addition to the normal difference between urban and rural smoking habits, the figures are further affected by concentrations in Nebraska of religious groups that forbid smoking," Dr. Pickett said.

Other factors which could possibly contribute to the differences, according to Dr. Pickett, are variances in air pollution, and statistical errors caused by inaccurate recording of residence and cause of death. Persons who go from smaller population centers into Omaha or Lincoln for treatment are sometimes erroneously recorded as city residents when they die, he explained.

Dr. Henry M. Lemon, director of the Eppley Cancer Institute in Omaha, acknowledged the importance of the statistics, but called for further studies.

"I am not sure that smoking habits differ greatly in urban and rural areas, although there is some evidence of this difference," Dr. Lemon said.

Dr. Lemon raised the possibility of more respiratory irritants in the urban areas, which could result in greater retention of tar deposits in the lungs. "However, Omaha is not in an area of major air pollution," he said.

Cigarettes Blamed

Dr. Edwin D. Lyman of Douglas County Department of Health believes that more cigarette smoking in urban areas such as Omaha is the primary cause of the statistical differences found by Dr. Pickett.

Air pollution has been overemphasized as a cause of the urban-rural difference in lung cancer, according to Dr. Lyman. "I think the air pollution that counts is the pollution that the individual intro-

3 More Jurors Seated

. . . FOR RUBY

Dallas (AP)— Two men and a woman were added Wednesday to Jack Ruby's murder trial jury, bringing the total sworn in to eight. A casual defense telephone call knocked off another candidate seemingly on the threshold of acceptance.

A jury panel of two women and six men of the 12 needed now is on hand to try the 52-year-old Ruby, operator of a Dallas strip tease joint, for the shooting Nov. 24 of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

The trial began Feb. 17 before Judge Joe B. Brown, and has picked up acceleration this week after the defense was turned down in repeated efforts to have it transferred out of Dallas, arguing there was bias here against Ruby.

Recessed

Before the trial recessed overnight, 14 prospective jurors were called, bringing the total for the past nine days to 94.

Chief defense attorney Melvin Belli told newsmen he would not be surprised if testimony in the case gets under way by Saturday.

Latest jurors are R. J. Flechtner Jr., 29, dark-haired father of two children and a salesman for a paper company, and Mrs. Gwen L. English, 45, a brunette bookkeeper married to a railroad electrician but childless, and J. G. Holton Jr., 31, a stocky, dark-haired mail carrier and father of three children.

Police Reserve

Holton was accepted although he is a police reserve in a Dallas suburb. Earlier, another auxiliary policeman had been disqualified from jury duty.

A jury candidate, Jimmie C. Braswell, 29, an engineer with a college education, was under examination when defense attorney Joe Tonahill left the courtroom. He said afterwards he was acquainted with a first cousin of Braswell living in Jasper, Tex., which is Tonahill's home town. Tonahill telephoned the cousin, Bob Braswell, to ask about the candidate's qualifications and said he was told:

"He's a good boy, Joe, but he guarded the Oswald home and he's an auxiliary policeman."

Brought Out

With this information, the defense brought out in questioning that Braswell is a reserve police officer in a Dallas suburb. On the night after the Nov. 22 assassination of President Kennedy, he did guard duty outside a home where members of Oswald's family stayed.

CAROLE TYLER . . . she wouldn't talk.

Baker's Secretary Reproaches Solons

. . . REFUSES TO TALK

Washington (AP) — Bobby Baker's shapely private secretary turned her flashing dark eyes on a row of senators Wednesday and reproached them for trying to conduct "an invalid invasion of my right of privacy."

Nancy Carole Tyler — she gave her full name and nothing else — followed her boss in refusing to testify before the Senate Rules Committee on Fifth Amendment grounds that it "might tend to incriminate me."

The 24-year-old beauty queen from Tennessee denied with quiet emphasis that she is guilty of "any moral or legal wrongdoing" but on the advice of her lawyer she declined to answer any of the more than a score of questions put by committee counsel.

Most Fetching

By far the most fetching figure that has appeared thus far in the four months of the Baker inquiry, the chestnut-haired secretary offered no objections to live television coverage of her appearance.

In fact she seemed to welcome an opportunity to read to a nationwide audience a prepared statement in which she said, "The sole purpose of this investigation seems to be to bring down upon me and others the violence of public reaction because of my alleged past associations."

Declaring that "alleged information" about her has resulted in worldwide stories that "I have indulged in some improper conduct to say the least," Miss Tyler gazed steadily into the TV cameras and said:

"I pray that the public will keep an open mind regarding me."

The 73-year-old committee counsel, L. P. McLendon, assured her that "you are not on trial, and never have been."

"There have been no criminal allegations against you," he said. And the committee has no evidence that "you have committed any crime against the federal government."

Nevertheless, he said, the committee had the stern duty of investigating present and former Senate employes and he pointed out that she was a former Senate employe.

Chic Suit

Miss Tyler, who wore a chic white suit with big black buttons and elbow-length gray gloves, was Baker's secretary when he was secretary to the Senate Democratic majority.

When he resigned under fire last Oct. 7 she accompanied him to a downtown law office as his confidential aide.

When the 35-year-old Baker refused to testify Tuesday on how he parlayed his $19,600-a-year Senate salary into a $2-million fortune, he objected to the television cameras and the committee ordered them removed, along with still and newsreel cameras.

Contempt

Baker invoked the Fifth Amendment and other constitutional protections and was advised by the committee that he faces possible contempt action.

After Wednesday's session which lasted less than an hour in contrast to Baker's 2½-hour stint, McLendon was asked by newsmen if the committee would consider holding Miss Tyler in contempt.

"Of course we will," he said. "We'll have to."

Businessmen Like Predictability, Respect

(EDITOR'S NOTE—Businessmen say prosperity depends in part on a good relationship between business and government. In a series of interviews across the country, AP business news writer Darden Chambless asked leading businessmen how they thought government should act toward them. He reports his findings in the following story.)

New York (AP) — How should government act to inspire confidence among American businessmen?

When government finds the answer, it will have taken a large step toward continuing prosperity.

New jobs and nice fat payrolls are born when businessmen confidently risk money, buy new equipment and build new plants.

Businessmen say they don't know themselves what puts them in a buoyant mood. Business leaders interviewed on a coast-to-coast tour indicated they can't agree on the type of president, the general government policy or the specific practices that give them confidence.

Requirements

But they can pretty well agree on two crucial requirements:

1. Predictability — ("There are so many unavoidable variables in business," says pipe-puffing Kenneth F. Julin, president of Leach Corp., aerospace components maker in suburban Los Angeles, "that if you throw in the additional variable of government attitudes, it just about brings operations to a halt.")

2. Mutual respect and understanding — ("Business doesn't ask any favors," says Leonard F. McCullom, president of Continental Oil Co. "It would just like a clear understanding of the role it plays in the economy.")

These two qualities, these businessmen indicate, can be far more important than conventional divisions between Democrat and Republican, conservative or liberal, spender or nonspender.

Help Explain

These comments might help explain why the spoken word was enough to splinter business confidence in 1962 (when the late President Kennedy blasted U.S. Steel for raising prices), yet why confidence sturdily withstood such a calamity as the President's assassination Nov. 22.

Businessmen say the steel clash shook up businessmen because it raised disturbing questions for the future: Where the President might crack down next, what method and agencies he might employ to exert pressure. Also, they felt, it indicated that he had little respect for businessmen or understanding of what makes business tick.

These businessmen then point to the different impact of the tragedy last November. Despite the fact that it was a total shock and that it came at the crucial time when businessmen were approving new budgets, business barely faltered. The stock market plunged but then shot up quickly.

Consideration

Ernest Marsh, president of the Santa Fe Railway, recalled in his Chicago office a board meeting Nov. 26, the Tuesday after the Friday assassination. Up for consideration was a $100 million capital expansion program. It had been drafted well before.

"We thought it over carefully," Marsh said, fingering a cigarette lighter. "President Johnson had announced he would continue previous policies. We had a virtual pledge he was going ahead with plans for tax reduction.

"We decided," Marsh said, "that these comments indicated no drastic change under the new regime. So we acted without change and granted the appropriation for the $100 million."

Other Places

Businessmen said this sort of thing apparently happened across the country. Other boards were reassured by their assessment of Johnson as a familiar and predictable quantity. Business confidence held up strong.

This same kind of assurance is what business needs on a running basis, these businessmen said.

The two qualities of predictability and understanding are important too, these businessmen say, in making sense out of business attitudes on government spending and government regulation.

Not What, But How

"It's not so much what government does that alarms us," says Cris Dobbins, president of Ideal Cement Co. in Denver. "It's how it does it."

He continued: "I don't think businessmen mind regulations if they are spelled out. But what worries us is when they are left open to interpretation by people far down the line.

"One of the worst things in recent years has been the doubt as to what rules really are, and what they will be in the future," Dobbins says.

Confusion

Gardiner Symonds, an honor graduate of the Harvard Business School and now chairman of sprawling Tennessee Gas Transmission Co., says:

"What's wrong with a great deal of liberalism is the confusion it brings. The New Frontier crowd had everybody in a turmoil."

"The liberals fundamentally don't believe in business making money. Business can't cooperate with them because they frankly don't want business to run with the ball and succeed."

Businessmen are concerned over the federal deficit, the growing debt, the high cost of financing the debt and what they see as threats to future fiscal soundness.

Star Customer

They also are aware of the role of the federal government as a star customer, with its budget of $100 billion a year.

John Madden, president of James B. Clow and Sons, Inc., Chicago producer of cast iron pipe, says, "A high level of economic activity depends on continued government spending in some manner."

Madden straightened his gold-rimmed glasses and said, "If you get a real, balance-the-budget type of government that would be for cutting out everything unless we had the money to pay for it, I think we'd have quite a recession to face.

"Any precipitous chop-off of the money available for public spending would be a bad thing," he said.

These businessmen note also that their federal taxes don't rise or fall directly with Washington spending (as taxes can locally). A billion-dollar "war on poverty," for instance, probably wouldn't affect their profits. But a seemingly minor rule change, interpretation—or merely the sour disposition of a revenue agent or inspector — can cost them real money, they say. Thus, the "spending" is far from the worst sin government can commit.

Continental Oil Company's McCollum, a member of the Business Council of top industrial leaders that advises presidents, says that except for the far left or the far right, any administration can win business confidence.

Not Pro Or Anti

"A president should not be probusiness. He must not be pro — or anti — anything, as head of a government," McCollum says, peering through Ben Franklin style glasses.

"Business doesn't expect a palsy-walsy relationship, just a hard, clear, undertanding and mutual trust," he said. "If you get a healthy in-between position . . . that gives you all you need."

Indonesia Agrees To New Talks, But They Are Apparently Doomed

Denpasar, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesia agreed Wednesday to new Malaysian peace talks but appeared to doom them in advance. It said the meetings can be fruitful only if Malaysia is ready to discuss plebiscites in its Borneo states of Sarawak and Sabah.

Malaysia requested the new round of talks on the foreign ministers' level, but declared they must take up only the immdiate withdrawal of the 200 or more guerrillas in Sarawak and Sabah. Indonesia has refused to withdraw the guerrillas until a political settlement is made.

The foreign ministers of Indonesia, Malaysia and the Philippines will meet again in Bangkok, Thailand, probably next week. The Philippines is the third party in the crisis, having claims on Sabah.

Up To Thailand

Thailand was named to enforce the cease-fire in North Borneo when the three foreign ministers meet in Bangkok last month. The cease-fire was worked out by U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy on a trouble-shooting mission to Asia for President Johnson.

Deputy Premier Subandrio, who also is Indonesia's foreign minister, and Foreign Secretary Salvador P. Lopez of the Philippines said in Denpasar they suggested March 3 for the second ministerial meeting.

They are in Denpasar, capital of the Indonesian island of Bali, with President Sukarno and President Diosdado Macapagal of the Phillppines.

Preferred

Both Subandrio and Lopez said they still preferred a three-power summit meeting.

In the Malaysian capital of Kuala Lumpur, Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia welcomed the Indonesian acceptance of a ministerial meeting, but told reporters: "No summit."

There was no Malaysian reaction to an Indonesian foreign ministry statement that the ministerial talks would be useful only if Malaysia is ready to discuss plebiscites in North Borneo and Sabah to let those two states determine their own future.

U.N. Surveys

Malaysia argues that U.N.-conducted surveys last year showed conclusively that the people of Sabah and Sarawak wanted to join Malaya and Singapore in the Federation of Malaysia. The federation was formed in September, but Indonesia and the Philippines refused to recognize it. Indonesia calls the federation a plot to maintain British control over its four former colonies and territories.

Winners Of State's Top 4-H Honors Announced

Four Nebraska youths have been named official delegates to the 34th annual National 4-H Conference in Washington, D.C., April 18-24.

The 1964 delegates named Thursday by W. M. Antes, state leader of 4-H and Young Men and Women at the University of Nebraska, are: Judith Trumble, Papillion; Sharee Schick, Curtis; Lauren Boeckenhauer, Wayne; and Dennis Rickertsen, Lexington.

The four, who have received what is considered the highest honor in Nebraska 4-H club work, will represent the over 33,000 boys and girls enrolled in clubs around the state.

Antes said the delegates selected have excelled in citizenship, leadership, and community development, as well as achievement in 4-H projects and activities.

The 1964 National Conference is held annually in Washington, D.C. because the nation's capital offers a citizenship laboratory of unusual value, Antes commented. This year's conference theme is "Our Heritage — Foundation for the Future."

Miss Trumble, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harland Trumble of Papillion, is a freshman at the University of Nebraska. She is a veteran of 11 years in 4-H club work, concentrating on home economics projects, although she also has been actively interested in garden, forestry, dairy, poultry, safety, health and junior leadership.

Miss Trumble

Miss Schlek

Boeckenhauer

Rickertsen

Miss Schlek, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward R. Schlek of Curtis, and is a senior at the University of Nebraska School of Agriculture. Her nine years of club work have included many accomplishments. She won the state bread demonstration award and was named Frontier County 4-H Queen in 1960; received an expense-paid trip to National 4-H Club Congress in 1962 on a demonstration; is holder of a KFAB scholarship as one of the two top 4-H public speakers in 1963.

Boeckenhauer, 18, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boeckenhauer of Wayne and a freshman at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture and Home Economics. His official award-winning projects were ewe-lamb and beef breeding; however, the Wayne county youth sees the knowledge gained from a broad background of 4-H projects as lasting benefits gained in addition to formal awards.

Rickertsen is the 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rickertsen of Lexington, and is a freshman at the University of Nebraska. He has completed 10 years of 4-H work. He has concentrated on livestock projects—market and breeding beef and fat lamb—while also carrying safety, first aid, conservation, dog, yard beautification and junior leader projects.

KITCHEN AUTO . . . being pulled from creek bank back to highway.

Crash Seriously Hurts Lincoln Man

A young Lincoln man may face permanent paralysis as the result of a traffic accident late Wednesday afternoon.

Bobbie Lee Kitchen, 27, 909 Butler, underwent surgery Wednesday night at St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was listed in fair condition.

Officer Gordon Cox said a doctor told him that Kitchen suffered a severed spinal cord and might face paralysis from the waist down.

Wife Also Hurt

Kitchen's wife, Patricia, 24, also was injured. The hospital reported her condition was good.

Kitchen was driving the car which went out of control on Interstate 180 at the Oak Creek bridge. Cox said Kitchen told him the car hit a slick spot on the pavement. The Kitchen auto struck one driven by Harold F. Leckron, 44, of Abilene, Kan., and then hit the bridge, Cox said.

"Kitchen's car slid 123 feet before it hit the bridge, then fell about 20 feet, landing on its top on the creek bank," Cox said. Mrs. Kitchen was thrown from the car.

Invisible Dog May Upset Fair's Kitty

New York (AP)—A big black and white tomcat has opened the New York World's Fair for himself, two months before the date for people.

And has picked himself out a modern home while he was at it. However, he may be in for trouble later on with an invisible dog.

The cat chose an ultra-modern "house of the future" being put up by the Formica Corp. and promptly adopted the construction crew as his family. He also got himself into a formal report on the construction progress.

Right On Schedule

In his report to company executives, Stuart Whitehead, manager of the house exhibit, noted that work was nearing completion right on schedule. Then he added:

"However, an unforeseen problem has developed.

"Somebody let a cat out of the bag.

"It seems we have an uninvited guest, a large tomcat with a disposition that brooks neither nonsense nor attempts to dispossess.

"He strolled on to the site one day recently, took an understandable fancy to the atmosphere of this most modern home and moved right in.

"The workmen employed by the John Ryan Construction Co. have adopted him (or vice versa) and he has been named, appropriately enough, 'Mica.'"

It seems that Mica faces two problems in the future.

When the exhibit opens along with the rest of the fair on April 22, the family in his home suddenly is going to grow into the hundreds as visitors tour it in streams all day long.

May Get Mica's Meow

That invisible dog, however, may be the thing that really gets Mica's meow.

As visitors pour through the house a tape recording will be played over loudspeakers to explain the workings of the house from the viewpoint of an invisible family.

Along with the voices of the unseen residents there will be some forceful barks of an Irish setter.

Vatican City (UPI) — Pope Paul VI held his weekly general audience for several thousand persons, including U.S. military personnel based in the Azores and their families.

Jap Fighter Pilot Says LBJ Lucky

Tokyo (AP) — Saburo Sakai said Wednesday Lyndon B. Johnson is a real lucky man.

Sakai based his judgment on the fact the President of the United States, as a Reserve Navy Commander in World War II, emerged unscathed from an air battle over Lae, New Guinea, June 9, 1942.

"We could not have missed his plane if our Zero fighter formation and attack had been normal and well organized," he said in an interview.

Had 64 Kills

Sakai, 47, is a former lieutenant of the Japanese Imperial Navy and Zero fighter pilot who ended the war with 64 kills.

A copyrighted story in the current issue of the magazine Saga by two American aviation writers, Martin Caidin and Ed Hymoff, identified him as the pilot who came close to shooting down the U.S. Army B26 Marauder Bomber on which Johnson was an observer. Japanese war records were the basis of that finding.

Sakai said he had only recently come to a similar conclusion. "Judging from my wartime memory and diary."

Volunteered

Then a Texas congressman, Johnson had volunteered for active Navy duty and gone to the Pacific as an observer for President Franklin D. Roosevelt. He was aboard the Heckling Hare, one of 12 Marauders that took off from Port Moresby at dawn for the 180-mile run northward to a target area at Lae.

Sakai recalled the Marauders and seven other bombers—two B17s and five B25s—appeared "quite unexpectedly" in cloudy skies over Lae.

"We were totally unprepared," he said. "We pushed fighters up at random to counterattack. There was considerable confusion."

Sakai said he flew one of 25 Zeros in the fight.

He found a B26 separated from the main formation due to engine trouble and tried to shoot it down "because I felt it was a strayed sheep before a lion."

"I fired cannon shells at the lone B26, but soon broke off to resume attacking the main formation," he said.

During the 45-minute fight, two B26s went down and two Zeros were lost, Sakai said.

But the Heckling Hare, with its right engine crippled, got away. The bomb load was jettisoned and the pilot, Capt. Walter H. Greer, nursed the plane safely back to its base. None aboard was wounded.

Silver Star

Gen. Douglas A. MacArthur awarded Johnson a Silver Star medal for his part in the action.

Sakai said he was surprised to learn that the strayed B26 was carrying the man who now is the U.S. President. But, he added, it was an encounter, "I ran into by accident, as it were, in line with routine work." He said he considered Johnson "a real patriot, deserving the highest esteem."

duces into himself," he added.

Dr. George W. Covey of Lincoln, who serves as editor of the Nebraska State Medical Journal, praised the study, but cautioned against allowing the present prominence of the smoking theory to affect the conclusions drawn from the statistics.

"I am one of those who do not subscribe 100% to the cigarette smoking theory as a cause of lung cancer," Dr Covey said. "I believe that air pollution, along with other factors, may be equally or more important."

Irritants in the urban atmosphere of Omaha and Lincoln are an important consideration, according to Dr. Covey. More studies of the effects of air pollution need to be done, he said.

Future studies are necessary to investigate his belief that the figures in Nebraska are connected to cigarette smoking, according to Dr. Pickett. Areas that need exploration, he said, are:

—Amount of tobacco sales in each area.

—Statistics from areas with high concentrations of religious groups which prohibit smoking.

—Accuracy of residence as stated on death certificates.

AF General Says Survival At Stake

"Nothing less than the survival of Western civilization is at stake," in the confrontation with Communism, Lt. Gen. David Wade, 2nd Air Force Strategic Air Command commander told a Lincoln Chamber of Commerce dinner audience Wednesday night.

"Achieving security by maintaining such a strike force as we have in SAC today has no precedent," the general told some 425 persons at the dinner.

He said until World War II manpower was the major ingredient in battle, but that World War II was the first time when a combination of men and machines resulted in ultimate victory.

Six Lincoln men received gold lifetime membership cards for selling 2,000 membership units in the Chamber. They were:

State Veterans Affair Director Leo Beck Sr., who received his third award; Sam Chesnin, who won his second; Donald A. Crosier, Charles F. Fowler, Elmer Mahlin and Fred Cox.

Personnel at Lincoln Air Force Base were honored at the annual banquet meeting. Chamber President Myron Weil pointed out the good relationship between the base and the community.

He also gave a glowing progress report of Chamber activity during 1963.

Extended Forecasts

NEBRASKA: For the five-day period, Thursday through Monday, temperatures will average near normal with a warming trend at the beginning of the period and only minor day to day changes thereafter. Normal highs are near 40 in the north to mid 50s in the south. Normal lows are upper teens in the north to near 25 in the south. No precipitation of consequence is expected throughout the period.

Summary Of Conditions

A weak cold front extends from southeastern lower Michigan to Quincy and St. Joe, thence nearly stationary to just east of Grand Island and north central Nebraska where it becomes a warm front and extends up through about central North Dakota into a low in east central Saskatchewan. The front is expected to lose its identity. By tomorrow night a trough of low pressure should be extending from a low in northwestern Wisconsin down through eastern Nebraska into central Kansas. A new cold front from the low center in east central Saskatchewan west and northwest from the low should extend Thursday night from the Wisconsin low into east central South Dakota through southwestern North Dakota.

The trough extending through eastern Nebraska Thursday night is likely to mean warmer temperatures in east Nebraska and west Iowa and in local areas of east Nebraska and Iowa Thursday night. No precipitation is thought likely during the period because of a scarcity of moisture in the air masses ahead and behind the fronts.

The front is expected to lose its identity. By tomorrow night a trough of low pressure should be extending from a low in northwestern Wisconsin down through eastern Nebraska into central Kansas. A new cold front from the low center in east central Saskatchewan west and northwest from the low should extend Thursday night from the Wisconsin low into east central South Dakota through southwestern North Dakota.

The trough extending through eastern Nebraska Thursday night is likely to mean warmer temperatures in east Nebraska and west Iowa and in local areas of east Nebraska and Iowa Thursday night. No precipitation is thought likely during the period because of a scarcity of moisture in the air masses ahead and behind the fronts.

On The Interest Trail

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Whether the controversial Saturday Evening Post article on the time sales fiasco in Nebraska is complimentary to the state or not depends upon your point of view and your own interpretation of the article. There isn't any doubt that the writer treats the subject facetiously, and the state as well, but this is an art that in and of itself is not necessarily evil. Nearly 2,000 years ago a Man was taunted facetiously and hung on a cross but who was right?

Naturally, those in the lending business in general are not going to think too kindly of the article. Neither are most state senators who naturally would not take too kindly to the assertion that they were "muddle-headed." But if it isn't "muddle-headed," the Legislature in the times sales field is either plain stupid or without any integrity. For our money it can take its choice and none of them is very complimentary. Despite warnings from many directions, the senators in 1959 passed a time sales law that was a boon to the lending industry, a bane to the general public and a violation of the state constitution.

A Beggar's Choice

Finally, the State Supreme Court stepped in and undid the cozy arrangement by declaring the law unconstitutional. In so doing, it subjected all contracts written under the law to provisions of another loan law that was constitutional. Under the constitutional law, the contracts were illegal and borrowers could keep that which they had purchased and even get back all payments they had made.

Now, this is not entirely fair, to be sure, but why is fair play supposed to be all in one direction? Why is it supposed to be a responsibility of the people and not the lender or businessman? Of course, merchants were around who honestly sold goods on time sales agreements they thought in good faith were legal. But they took advantage, too, of a fat interest rate law and asked themselves no questions about it.

What merchant or lender dug into the inner reaches of his conscience and said to himself: "This law permits a higher rate of interest than I believe to be morally right and, therefore, I shall not charge all the interest that the law allows." Not a single one of them that we know of. Yet, today they admonish the general public to examine their conscience and say to themselves: "The Supreme Court has established an order of law which is morally wrong and, therefore, I will not take advantage of this technicality but will pay what I know is a just debt." No, we are not saying that two wrongs make a right. We are not saying that people should not pay their debts

This writer himself has a time sales agreement for purchase of a car and it is an agreement exactly like one that has been declared unconstitutional. It is even with the same company that carried the agreement knocked down by the Supreme Court. But the contract is being paid off and the company will get every cent which was agreed to be paid. But the company has not made any effort or move to change the agreement and bring it into agreement with the law as it now exists. Why? Because it wants its money, it wants its profit and nothing is more important to it than that.

And what has been done by senators who do not like being called "muddle-headed?" The senators passed, in 1963, what is believed to be an unconstitutional retroactive law making the illegal times sales contracts legal. They passed another law to shorten the statute of limitations so that time would run out for borrowers to take legal action on their illegal contracts.

In short, the senators bent over backwards to help the money lenders and dig a deeper hole for the buying public. All this, from 1959 through 1963, was done at the urging and guidance of the lending industry itself, which even wrote some of the legislation involved.

The Post article makes note of legislative influence by lobbyists and cuts the state in ridicule of it. An Omaha banker has been reported to have commented that it is unfair to subject the Legislature to this kind of ridicule. Not a word from the banker about the special interest groups who get senators elected, about the many conflicts of interest that exist in the Legislature or about the free booze and meals soaked up by the senators from the lending industry, the railroads and others. To question only the fairness of that is to be ludicrous and naive.

One-Sided View

The Post article does imply that Nebraska is backwoodsy and in this area of things we take exception to the article. But we are tiring of those who keep brushing all faults under the rug and who, in pursuit of their own selfish interests and greed, set a high standard for others and no standards for themselves. We believe it is vital for many reasons that Nebraska realize and squarely face the deceit, turpitude and injustice of the smelly time sales business; not that we be diverted by irrelevant appeals to state pride, preachers of false or misleading doctrine and infused scruples.

"Absolutely! We Should Stay Out Of Foreign Affairs And We Should Make Other Countries Do As We Say!"

BIBLE WORDS THAT GUIDE ME

If there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any bowels and mercies, fulfil ye my joy, that ye be likeminded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind.
Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God: but made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men: and being found in fashion as a man he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross. Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name; that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth; and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

Philippians 2:1-2, 5-11 King James Version

By ARCHBISHOP IAKOVOS
Archbishop of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of North and South America.

This passage from the epistle of Paul the Apostle to the Philippians illuminates the true nature of Christian oneness with unequaled clarity. It makes plain that oneness is the basis for both unity and union. It stresses that no unity of purpose is possible or no union or reunion of the Church can ever be effected unless it is both motivated and nourished by oneness of mind, of love and charity, of soul and of Christian conscience.

This is my favorite Biblical passage for yet another reason. It depicts and projects in a most heartwarming light the true Christ, the real Son of God, the genuine character of His coming to the world. The God-made man cannot be the heir of heaven unless he gives up his all, and serves his fellow man in the likeness of Jesus with humility and sacrificial spirit. To respond to the calling of our Christian past is the only way in which Christians may be more securely linked in an unbroken unity with one another and with Christ.

This is the intent of Paul's famous words.

Iakovos, the Archbishop of the Greek Orthodox Church of North and South America since 1959, became a leader of the present-day ecumenical movement for Christian unity. He was described as "a breath of fresh air in Eastern Orthodoxy in the United States."

ARCHBISHOP IAKOVOS

The bearded, distinguished-looking prelate is aware of and well-versed in church problems. A man possessed of great warmth, he is as cooperative with individuals as he is with Christian church bodies that share in the quest for unity.

The Archbishop, who is an American citizen with headquarters in New York City, came to the U.S.A. in 1939 from Istanbul and served his Church after his ordination in various cities and in increasingly higher positions. In 1954 he was elected Bishop of Melita (Malta) and the following year he was appointed Representative of the Ecumenical Patriarchate of the World Council of Churches headquarters in Geneva. Four years later he was elected Archbishop.

As the Geneva Representative of the Ecumenical Patriarchate, Archbishop Iakovos (then known as Metropolitan James) traveled extensively throughout the world and attended many ecclesiastical meetings and councils. He also visited the United States on several occasions and delivered lectures at Harvard, Boston University, and other institutions and at various religious conferences. He is the author of many religious books and pamphlets.

The Archbishop has close ties with Protestant and Episcopal groups in the United States, especially within the World and National Councils of Churches. He is serving his second term as a President of the World Council.

The Greek Archdiocese which Iakovos heads is under the jurisdiction of the ancient Ecumenical Patriarchate of Constantinople. The Archdiocese has 1,500,000 communicants and 380 churches in the United States and is the largest of the many Eastern Orthodox bodies in America.

New Spirit Shows On Auburn Campus

AUBURN, Ala.—When you get off the plane at Columbus, Ga., en route to Auburn University, the first thing you see is a large signboard which reads: "Impeach Chief Justice Earl Warren and save the republic."

The sign is painted in striking colors, obviously an expensive job, and below in bold letters is the sponsoring signature: "The John Birch Society."

But at Auburn, things had changed. Not only is the Negro student, Harold Franklin, going about his business without a bodyguard and without insult, but the student leaders of Auburn have shown such courage in thumbing their noses at Gov. George Wallace's high-handed racial policies that he has put at least four of them on his blacklist.

The governor, in addition to taking time to speak all over the 49 states outside Alabama and running for president in some of them, also has time to keep a list of so-called subversives. Their chief crime has been opposing his views of race relations, and the chief criminals at Auburn are Harry Wilkinson, editor of the hard-hitting university paper, "The Plainsman;" Diane Snoddy of Hunstville, his associate editor, Bobby Boettcher who comes from Texas and is one of the Plainsman's columnists, and John Jeffers, son of the Baptist minister who fearlessly preaches better racial relations and, who despite a lot of criticism, preaches to the largest number of people in Auburn every Sunday—with one possible exception.

The one possible exception is Rev. Powers McLeod, a Methodist who has also bucked the policies of Governor Wallace and is high on his blacklist.

* * *

All of this points to the fact that there is a courageous white minority in Alabama which dares buck the Ku Klux Klan, the White Citizens Councils and ruthless segregationists led by Governor Wallace. To say that this minority is courageous is an understatement. It actually takes courage of a heroic brand to stand out against the majority.

Rev. McLeod, for instance, was abused and excoriated when he had the first Negro student in history, Harold Franklin, stop by his office en route to his first class at Auburn. Real purpose was to make sure no gun had been planted in Franklin's baggage — which would have given university authorities an excuse to throw him out.

Franklin attended his first day of classes without mishap, partly because Bill Van Dyke, giant all-star guard on Auburn's football team, came up to him, stuck out his hand and said: "I'm glad to have you here."

Moment Of Truth

The settlement of the maritime strike over the shipment of wheat to communist countries turned out to be less significant as a successful labor maneuver than it was a moment of truth — a truth that could be either an embarrassment to the American press or the government.

The union struck, it said, because federal requirements of a 50-50 division of shipping and American and foreign bottoms was being violated. American shippers were using lower cost foreign ships for more than their proportionate share, claiming unavailability of sufficient American ships.

Now it comes out that the 50-50 arrangement was treated as a guideline with the right reserved to waive it. This is a far cry from the original announcements which indicated that the 50-50 arrangement was a firm one.

When the right of waiver is reserved then a 50-50 arrangement is not a firm commitment. A presumed public demand has been accommodated and quieted with shipping going forward under whatever arrangements are deemed satisfactory or expedient by the judgment of the authorities.

It will be very difficult to determine whether the American press was too casual in handling the facts or whether it knew all the facts. But the net result is that the American reader has had his confidence shaken.

The strike brought considerable criticism of the union as a high handed organization intruding itself into the field of international relations. But as the facts shake out we owe the union a vote of thanks for uncovering a shifty arrangement. If more of that were done the discipline of full publicity would be better observed.

Viet Nam Everybody's Problem

The American people are correct if they consider Viet Nam as one of the major problems of this nation today. However, they are also correct if they consider the same nation a major problem of the communist bloc of nations. The fact is that Viet Nam is a problem for the entire world, which makes it probably the most explosive situation on the current international scene.

Clearly, to lose this strategic point in the Orient would be a serious blow to the United States. At the same time, the war in South Viet Nam is costing this nation large sums of money as well as the lives of some of its military personnel. And in the process of paying for the war against the communists from the north, there is no real chance of winning the battle.

Thus, the situation is very close to that of Korea about a decade ago, despite the fact that the administration maintains that Viet Nam shall not become another Korea. This would be right, of course, if you considered that it was already like Korea. It is like Korea in the sense that no war can be won when you are limited only to defensive action.

This is our position in Viet Nam, defense of the south but no offense against the north. Yet, if we go into the north, it calls the bluff of Russia to aid the communists and Russia would be hard pressed to back its bluff in view of the accusations that have been made against her by Red China. Thus, it is easy to see that Viet Nam could develop into the point of greatest tension throughout the world. It could, with ease, become a place for another major showdown between the East and West.

Clarence B. Kelland

The gray haired generation will pause for a moment of sad, contemplative thought over the news of the death of author Clarence Buddington Kelland which occurred at Phoenix, Arizona.

If young people know of Kelland it is as an impression of an aging man, unhappy with modern times, advocating reactionary causes. That was not the Kelland the older people remember.

In their childhood they remember him as the editor of The American Boy from 1907 to 1915—a contemporary of the equally famous Youth's Companion, supplying most of the literature for the young fry in the pre-Boy and Girl Scout period. Both periodicals realized that there was an estate of youth and sought to cater to it with stories of restrained adventure, tales dealing with the simple virtues, a touch of natural lore and, in all, a definition of that which was deemed the correct American image. It was a quite wholesome period in American literature, and marked a generation which grew up before the age of the movies, radio, television and a series of wars and harsh experiences.

After 1915 Kelland turned to popular adult writing, turning out more than 200 short stories and 60 novels most of which appeared in leading periodicals. He created such characters as Scattergood Baines whose exploits entertained America for years.

He was an articulate spokesman for an American era of tranquility where the doings of people were more important than the doings of nations, when faith could be defined and virtues readily detected, when good was self-sustaining and evil self-destructive.

The recollection of it makes the older generation nostalgic, but it doesn't mean this age is worse. It is only that now we have to make a more positive effort to support the virtues.

Grandfather Clause

Lincoln, Neb.

Conservative owners of older income property must not be misled into thinking the minimum housing law of the city cannot be enforced against their property because of what is known as the "grandfather clause."

This clause will be, if it has not been already, lifted from the final ordinance under the guise of being contrary to the public welfare. In fact, all that stands between the owners of present obsolete property and condemnation is a policy stated in a letter to a former council by a former city attorney that enforcement could be made only against new construction. With the present mayor and council, this saving restriction will probably be cancelled.

So, many owners who have invested money in older conversions which do not conform to the minimum housing act must be alerted that they will be forced to remodel at excessive costs or have the property condemned.

What to do? The best thing they could do would be to organize a politically effective pressure group. Failing this, they will suffer financial loss.

Respect For Flag

Lincoln, Neb.

I've noticed that an American flag displayed on the wall in the Lancaster County election commissioner's office has been turned under at one end and stapled to the wall, apparently in an effort to fit a wall space.

Is this proper respect for our flag?

The Guarantee

Pawnee City, Neb.

I want to commend The Star for the editorial, "Where Is The Guarantee," which appeared in the February 21 issue. The same question may well be asked about every commodity raised on the farm. Other elements of the food industry are making money. The farmer currently is getting less than a fair share of the consumer's dollar. This is our first and major problem and cause for action. Curbing imports might be a small remedy but would not be sufficient to guarantee the farmer his fair share of the consumer's dollar.

Mr. Farmer, how much more of a financial beating do you have to take before you are willing to do something for yourself? When will you begin to realize that all your meetings with the economists and your protests to Washington are to no avail? Have you forgotten the old saying, "The Lord helps those who help themselves?" Practically all other segments of the economy report 1963 a record year, except agriculture, so just who do you think is going to hear your faint plea? Have you not been told several times the past two years that the ills of agriculture were caused by too many people trying to make a living on the farm and that more should be encouraged to leave, by lowering prices if necessary? Is this a democratic procedure these people are using or is it just plain stealing?

Again I ask you, when will you wake up and join other farmers in their battle against these low prices? When will you come to realize that you are living in a highly organized economy that adheres only to a strong organization and not to the plea of a few individuals? Many farmers, feeders and dairymen have already joined forces and many more are joining every day. They have stopped crying on others' shoulders and have started to try to do something for themselves. The name of this courageous group of farmers is well known and highly regarded by all who understand it—namely, the NFO.

Therein lies your "guarantee." Name me another!

Hacienda Style

North Bend, Neb

This is in answer to the long-range forecast for farming and ranching made by Dean E. F. Frolik of the Nebraska College of Agriculture. With investments of $500,000 to $1,000,000, Dean Frolik should change his methods of teaching from production and efficiency, which are killing us, to pricing our services and products. This is being done in all professions but agriculture.

There is only one place such financing can come from and that's big industries, and where tax advantages make agriculture an attractive field for investment. As Edward Higbee says in his book, "Farms and Farmers in an Urban Age," this is agriculture hacienda style. With investments this size, contracts and prices wil be a must in order to finance such operations.

And Dean Frolik says the long-range picture for agriculture seems bright? In the same article, he says the price-cost squeeze will continue. Isn't this double talk? Anyone thinking the picture is so bright should go borrow $1,000,000. With prices like these, the challenge should be great.

Boom For Bobby Gets Under Way

WASHINGTON — Of the straws in the New Hampshire wind one promises to be a portent for the Democrats rather than the Republicans. A sizable write-in vote for Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy as vice-president on the ticket with President Johnson is a likelihood.

This will not be due to any organized movement by Gov. John King or other leading Democrats. They have, in fact, discouraged those wanting to get a Bobby Kennedy campaign going. If it happens, the Kennedy write-in will complicate the political wars and it may mean for President Johnson a difficult choice.

A great many Americans, there is reason to believe, have a deep concern for the reputation and place in history of the martyred president, John F. Kennedy. Any comparison that seems to credit Mr. Johnson with superior capacities — in whatever department — brings a quick rebuke.

A Kennedy legend is coming into being motivated by sorrow, compassion, remorse and a variety of less identifiable emotions. The number of memorial tributes increases every day. They range from the pseudo-bronze busts of the late president sold at drugstores and notion counters across the country to handsome picture books and framed photographs.

The question is whether Robert Kennedy is the inheritor — the principal beneficiary — of this legend. And in deference to the legend would a considerable number of citizens like to see the martyred president's brother sharing the ticket with the man who succeeded to the office? Thus far this is no more than a small cloud on the distant horizon.

But if it should take on sizable proportions, with a signal from New Hampshire, the President could not simply look the other way in making his choice of a running mate. The selection of Robert Kennedy could be expected to raise animosities that subsided when a Southerner, rated as a moderate or liberal, moved into the White House. In the South in particular a Johnson-Kennedy ticket would present a new problem in political strategy.

As for the attorney general himself he has recovered from the deep despondency that overwhelmed him after the assassination of his brother who had been his lifelong hero and to whom he had given unflagging loyalty and devotion. He looks a little older but still, at the age of 38, he wears the air of youth that was one of the hallmarks of JFK. While they were not look alikes the family resemblance is strong.

Kennedy tells all visitors that he simply has not thought about what his future will be beyond November. As he well knows, the second choice on the ticket is determined by two decisions—the first by the President and the second by the man to whom the nomination is offered. Those decisions come very late in the game after all the whoopla of nominating No. 1.

Under the constitutional law, the contracts were illegal and borrowers could keep that which they had purchased and even get back all payments they had made.

Now, this is not entirely fair, to be sure, but why is fair play supposed to be all in one direction? Why is it supposed to be a responsibility of the people and not the lender or businessman? Of course, merchants were around who honestly sold goods on time sales agreements they thought in good faith were legal. But they took advantage, too, of a fat interest rate law and asked themselves no questions about it.

What merchant or lender dug into the inner reaches of his conscience and said to himself: "This law permits a higher rate of interest than I believe to be morally right and, therefore, I shall not charge all the interest that the law allows." Not a single one of them that we know of. Yet, today they admonish the general public to examine their conscience and say to themselves: "The Supreme Court has established an order of law which is morally wrong and, therefore, I will not take advantage of this technicality but will pay what I know is a just debt." No, we are not saying that two wrongs make a right. We are not saying that people should not pay their debts.

This writer himself has a time sales agreement for purchase of a car and it is an agreement exactly like one that has been declared unconstitutional. It is even with the same company that carried the agreement knocked down by the Supreme Court. But the contract is being paid off and the company will get every cent which was agreed to be paid. But the company has not made any effort or move to change the agreement and bring it into agreement with the law as it now exists. Why? Because it wants its money, it wants its profit and nothing is more important to it than that.

And what has been done by senators who do not like being called "muddle-headed?" The senators passed, in 1963, what is believed to be an unconstitutional retroactive law making the illegal times sales contracts legal. They passed another law to shorten the statute of limitations so that time would run out for borrowers to take legal action on their illegal contracts.

In short, the senators bent over backwards to help the money lenders and dig a deeper hole for the buying public. All this, from 1959 through 1963, was done at the urging and guidance of the lending industry itself, which even wrote some of the legislation involved.

The Post article makes note of legislative influence by lobbyists and cuts the state in ridicule of it. An Omaha banker has been reported to have commented that it is unfair to subject the Legislature to this kind of ridicule. Not a word from the banker about the special interest groups who get senators elected, about the many conflicts of interest that exist in the Legislature or about the free booze and meals soaked up by the senators from the lending industry, the railroads and others. To question only the fairness of that is to be ludicrous and naive.

One-Sided View

The Post article does imply that Nebraska is backwoodsy and in this area of things we take exception to the article. But we are tiring of those who keep brushing all faults under the rug and who, in pursuit of their own selfish interests and greed, set a high standard for others and no standards for themselves. We believe it is vital for many reasons that Nebraska realize and squarely face the deceit, turpitude and injustice of the smelly time sales business; not that we be diverted by irrelevant appeals to state pride, preachers of false or misleading doctrine and infused scruples.

Bible Words That Guide Me

If there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any bowels and mercies, fulfil ye my joy, that ye be likeminded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind.

Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God: but made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men: and being found in fashion as a man he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross. Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name; that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth; and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

Philippians 2:1-2, 5-11 King James Version

By ARCHBISHOP IAKOVOS
Archbishop of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of North and South America.

This passage from the epistle of Paul the Apostle to the Philippians illuminates the true nature of Christian oneness with unequaled clarity. It makes plain that oneness is the basis for both unity and union. It stresses that no unity of purpose is possible or no union or reunion of the Church can ever be effected unless it is both motivated and nourished by oneness of mind, of love and charity, of soul and of Christian conscience.

This is my favorite Biblical passage for yet another reason. It depicts and projects in a most heartwarming light the true Christ, the real Son of God, the genuine character of His coming to the world. The God-made man cannot be the heir of heaven unless he gives up his all, and serves his fellow man in the likeness of Jesus with humility and sacrificial spirit. To respond to the calling of our Christian past is the only way in which Christians may be more securely linked in an unbroken unity with one another and with Christ.

This is the intent of Paul's famous words.

Iakovos, the Archbishop of the Greek Orthodox Church of North and South America since 1959, became a leader of the present-day ecumenical movement for Christian unity. He was described as "a breath of fresh air in Eastern Orthodoxy in the United States."

ARCHBISHOP IAKOVOS

The bearded, distinguished-looking prelate is aware of and well-versed in church problems. A man possessed of great warmth, he is as cooperative with individuals as he is with Christian church bodies that share in the quest for unity.

The Archbishop, who is an American citizen with headquarters in New York City, came to the U.S.A. in 1939 from Istanbul and served his Church after his ordination in various cities and in increasingly higher positions. In 1954 he was elected Bishop of Melita (Malta) and the following year he was appointed Representative of the Ecumenical Patriarchate of the World Council of Churches headquarters in Geneva. Four years later he was elected Archbishop.

As the Geneva Representative of the Ecumenical Patriarchate, Archbishop Iakovos (then known as Metropolitan James) traveled extensively throughout the world and attended many ecclesiastical meetings and councils. He also visited the United States on several occasions and delivered lectures at Harvard, Boston University, and other institutions and at various religious conferences. He is the author of many religious books and pamphlets.

The Archbishop has close ties with Protestant and Episcopal groups in the United States, especially within the World and National Councils of Churches. He is serving his second term as a President of the World Council.

The Greek Archdiocese which Iakovos heads is under the jurisdiction of the ancient Ecumenical Patriarchate of Constantinople. The Archdiocese has 1,500,000 communicants and 380 churches in the United States and is the largest of the many Eastern Orthodox bodies in America.

New Spirit Shows On Auburn Campus

AUBURN, Ala.—When you get off the plane at Columbus, Ga., en route to Auburn University, the first thing you see is a large signboard which reads: "Impeach Chief Justice Earl Warren and save the republic."

The sign is painted in striking colors, obviously an expensive job, and below in bold letters is the sponsoring signature: "The John Birch Society."

But at Auburn, things had changed. Not only is the Negro student, Harold Franklin, going about his business without a bodyguard and without insult, but the student leaders of Auburn have shown such courage in thumbing their noses at Gov. George Wallace's high-handed racial policies that he has put at least four of them on his blacklist.

The governor, in addition to taking time to speak all over the 49 states outside Alabama and running for president in some of them, also has time to keep a list of so-called subversives. Their chief crime has been opposing his views of race relations, and the chief criminals at Auburn are Harry Wilkinson, editor of the hard-hitting university paper, "The Plainsman;" Diane Snoddy of Hunstville, his associate editor, Bobby Boettcher who comes from Texas and is one of the Plainsman's columnists, and John Jeffers, son of the Baptist minister who fearlessly preaches better racial relations and, who despite a lot of criticism, preaches to the largest number of people in Auburn every Sunday—with one possible exception.

The one possible exception is Rev. Powers McLeod, a Methodist who has also bucked the policies of Governor Wallace and is high on his blacklist.

All of this points to the fact that there is a courageous white minority in Alabama which dares buck the Ku Klux Klan, the White Citizens Councils and ruthless segregationists led by Governor Wallace. To say that this minority is courageous is an understatement. It actually takes courage of a heroic brand to stand out against the majority.

Rev. McLeod, for instance, was abused and excoriated when he had the first Negro student in history, Harold Franklin, stop by his office en route to his first class at Auburn. Real purpose was to make sure no gun had been planted in Franklin's baggage — which would have given university authorities an excuse to throw him out.

Franklin attended his first day of classes without mishap, partly because Bill Van Dyke, giant all-star guard on Auburn's football team, came up to him, stuck out his hand and said: "I'm glad to have you here."

Moment Of Truth

The settlement of the maritime strike over the shipment of wheat to communist countries turned out to be less significant as a successful labor maneuver than it was a moment of truth — a truth that could be either an embarrassment to the American press or the government.

The union struck, it said, because federal requirements of a 50-50 division of shipping and American and foreign bottoms was being violated. American shippers were using lower cost foreign ships for more than their proportionate share, claiming unavailability of sufficient American ships.

Now it comes out that the 50-50 arrangement was treated as a guideline with the right reserved to waive it. This is a far cry from the original announcements which indicated that the 50-50 arrangement was a firm one.

When the right of waiver is reserved then a 50-50 arrangement is not a firm commitment. A presumed public demand has been accommodated and quieted with shipping going forward under whatever arrangements are deemed satisfactory or expedient by the judgment of the authorities.

It will be very difficult to determine whether the American press was too casual in handling the facts or whether it knew all the facts. But the net result is that the American reader has had his confidence shaken.

The strike brought considerable criticism of the union as a high handed organization intruding itself into the field of international relations. But as the facts shake out we owe the union a vote of thanks for uncovering a shifty arrangement. If more of that were done the discipline of full publicity would be better observed.

Viet Nam Everybody's Problem

The American people are correct if they consider Viet Nam as one of the major problems of this nation today. However, they are also correct if they consider the same nation a major problem of the communist bloc of nations. The fact is that Viet Nam is a problem for the entire world, which makes it probably the most explosive situation on the current international scene.

Clearly, to lose this strategic point in the Orient would be a serious blow to the United States. At the same time, the war in South Viet Nam is costing this nation large sums of money as well as the lives of some of its military personnel. And in the process of paying for the war against the communists from the north, there is no real chance of winning the battle.

Thus, the situation is very close to that of Korea about a decade ago, despite the fact that the administration maintains that Viet Nam shall not become another Korea. This would be right, of course, if you considered that it was already like Korea. It is like Korea in the sense that no war can be won when you are limited only to defensive action.

This is our position in Viet Nam, defense of the south but no offense against the north. Yet, if we go into the north, it calls the bluff of Russia to aid the communists and Russia would be hard pressed to back its bluff in view of the accusations that have been made against her by Red China. Thus, it is easy to see that Viet Nam could develop into the point of greatest tension throughout the world. It could, with ease, become a place for another major showdown between the East and West.

Clarence B. Kelland

The gray haired generation will pause for a moment of sad, contemplative thought over the news of the death of author Clarence Buddington Kelland which occurred at Phoenix, Arizona.

If young people know of Kelland it is as an impression of an aging man, unhappy with modern times, advocating reactionary causes. That was not the Kelland the older people remember.

In their childhood they remember him as the editor of The American Boy from 1907 to 1915—a contemporary of the equally famous Youth's Companion, supplying most of the literature for the young fry in the pre-Boy and Girl Scout period. Both periodicals realized that there was an estate of youth and sought to cater to it with stories of restrained adventure, tales dealing with the simple virtues, a touch of natural lore and, in all, a definition of that which was deemed the correct American image. It was a quite wholesome period in American literature, and marked a generation which grew up before the age of the movies, radio, television and a series of wars and harsh experiences.

After 1915 Kelland turned to popular adult writing, turning out more than 200 short stories and 60 novels most of which appeared in leading periodicals. He created such characters as Scattergood Baines whose exploits entertained America for years.

He was an articulate spokesman for an American era of tranquility where the doings of people were more important than the doings of nations, when faith could be defined and virtues readily detected, when good was self-sustaining and evil self-destructive.

The recollection of it makes the older generation nostalgic, but it doesn't mean this age is worse. It is only that now we have to make a more positive effort to support the virtues.

Boom For Bobby Gets Under Way

WASHINGTON — Of the straws in the New Hampshire wind one promises to be a portent for the Democrats rather than the Republicans. A sizable write-in vote for Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy as vice-president on the ticket with President Johnson is a likelihood.

This will not be due to any organized movement by Gov. John King or other leading Democrats. They have, in fact, discouraged those wanting to get a Bobby Kennedy campaign going. If it happens, the Kennedy write-in will complicate the political wars and it may mean for President Johnson a difficult choice.

A great many Americans, there is reason to believe, have a deep concern for the reputation and place in history of the martyred president, John F. Kennedy. Any comparison that seems to credit Mr. Johnson with superior capacities — in whatever department — brings a quick rebuke.

A Kennedy legend is coming into being motivated by sorrow, compassion, remorse and a variety of less identifiable emotions. The number of memorial tributes increases every day. They range from the pseudo-bronze busts of the late president sold at drugstores and notion counters across the country to handsome picture books and framed photographs.

The question is whether Robert Kennedy is the inheritor — the principal beneficiary — of this legend. And in deference to the legend would a considerable number of citizens like to see the martyred president's brother sharing the ticket with the man who succeeded to the office? Thus far this is no more than a small cloud on the distant horizon.

But if it should take on sizable proportions, with a signal from New Hampshire, the President could not simply look the other way in making his choice of a running mate. The selection of Robert Kennedy could be expected to raise animosities that subsided when a Southerner, rated as a moderate or liberal, moved into the White House. In the South in particular a Johnson-Kennedy ticket would present a new problem in political strategy.

As for the attorney general himself he has recovered from the deep despondency that overwhelmed him after the assassination of his brother who had been his lifelong hero and to whom he had given unflagging loyalty and devotion. He looks a little older but still, at the age of 38, he wears the air of youth that was one of the hallmarks of JFK. While they were not look alikes the family resemblance is strong.

Kennedy tells all visitors that he simply has not thought about what his future will be beyond November. As he well knows, the second choice on the ticket is determined by two decisions—the first by the President and the second by the man to whom the nomination is offered. Those decisions come very late in the game after all the whoopla of nominating No. 1.

Grandfather Clause

Lincoln, Neb.

Conservative owners of older income property must not be misled into thinking the minimum housing law of the city cannot be enforced against their property because of what is known as the "grandfather clause."

This clause will be, if it has not been already, lifted from the final ordinance under the guise of being contrary to the public welfare. In fact, all that stands between the owners of present obsolete property and condemnation is a policy stated in a letter to a former council by a former city attorney that enforcement could be made only against new construction. With the present mayor and council, this saving restriction will probably be cancelled.

So, many owners who have invested money in older conversions which do not conform to the minimum housing act must be alerted that they will be forced to remodel at excessive costs or have the property condemned.

What to do? The best thing they could do would be to organize a politically effective pressure group. Failing this, they will suffer financial loss.

Respect For Flag

Lincoln, Neb.

I've noticed that an American flag displayed on the wall in the Lancaster County election commissioner's office has been turned under at one end and stapled to the wall, apparently in an effort to fit a wall space.

Is this proper respect for our flag?

The Guarantee

Pawnee City, Neb.

I want to commend The Star for the editorial, "Where Is The Guarantee," which appeared in the February 21 issue. The same question may well be asked about every commodity raised on the farm. Other elements of the food industry are making money. The farmer currently is getting less than a fair share of the consumer's dollar. This is our first and major problem and cause for action. Curbing imports might be a small remedy but would not be sufficient to guarantee the farmer his fair share of the consumer's dollar.

Mr. Farmer, how much more of a financial beating do you have to take before you are willing to do something for yourself? When will you begin to realize that all your meetings with the economists and your protests to Washington are to no avail? Have you forgotten the old saying, "The Lord helps those who help themselves?" Practically all other segments of the economy report 1963 a record year, except agriculture, so just who do you think is going to hear your faint plea? Have you not been told several times the past two years that the ills of agriculture were caused by too many people trying to make a living on the farm and that more should be encouraged to leave, by lowering prices if necessary? Is this a democratic procedure these people are using or is it just plain stealing?

Again I ask you, when will you wake up and join other farmers in their battle against these low prices? When will you come to realize that you are living in a highly organized economy that adheres only to a strong organization and not to the plea of a few individuals? Many farmers, feeders and dairymen have already joined forces and many more are joining every day. They have stopped crying on others' shoulders and have started to try to do something for themselves. The name of this courageous group of farmers is well known and highly regarded by all who understand it—namely, the NFO.

Therein lies your "guarantee." Name me another!

Hacienda Style

North Bend, Neb.

This is in answer to the long-range forecast for farming and ranching made by Dean E. F. Frolik of the Nebraska College of Agriculture. With investments of $500,000 to $1,000,000, Dean Frolik should change his methods of teaching from production and efficiency, which are killing us, to pricing our services and products. This is being done in all professions but agriculture.

There is only one place such financing can come from and that's big industries, and where tax advantages make agriculture an attractive field for investment. As Edward Higbee says in his book, "Farms and Farmers in an Urban Age," this is agriculture hacienda style. With investments this size, contracts and prices wil be a must in order to finance such operations.

And Dean Frolik says the long-range picture for agriculture seems bright? In the same article, he says the price-cost squeeze will continue. Isn't this double talk? Anyone thinking the picture is so bright should go borrow $1,000,000. With prices like these, the challenge should be great.

'AMA Against Adequate Health Insurance For Elders'

By ROBERT PETERSON

For years I've been feuding with the American Medical Association over its obstinate resistance to creation of a uniform, low cost, national health insurance plan for folks past 65. Even capitalist Bernard M. Baruch believes we must create such a plan.

Yet the brass at the AMA keep telling us there's no need because their studies show that two-thirds of all elders already carry some form of private health insurance.

What they fail to recognize is that most of the policies carried cost more than an older person can reasonably be expected to pay and offer such limited benefits as to be of little help in the event of catastrophic illness.

Take the combined Blue Cross-Blue Shield policy for folks past 65. It's among the best available, yet (a) it is not available to all elders, (b) it is too costly (In New York City it costs $14 monthly) and (c) it offers limited benefits (In New York City its benefits include only 21 fully paid days of hospital care).

I'm confident that logic and public opinion will triumph one of these days with the creation of a plan which may or may not resemble Medicare but which will give elders full health and hospitalization protection for not more than a dollar a week. If our allies—including Canada, England, France, West Germany, Holland, Sweden, Denmark, Norway, and Finland—can give elders free or very lowcost health protection, surely we can, too.

Speaking of Finland, when I passed through that picturesque nation last fall I was told that the beautiful jet airport at Helsinki was constructed almost entirely by prisoners serving time for drunk driving. My informant said it has long been national policy that those caught driving while under the influence are sentenced to construction tasks benefiting the community.

It got me to wondering why we don't adopt a similar method in dealing with juvenile offenders who clutter our courts, reformatories and prisons. The big problem with most of these kids is that they lack skills, can't find work and don't have enough to keep busy.

Why not sentence those who run afoul of the law to bricklaying and carpentry classes and put them to work under mature supervision erecting public buildings or housing for low income elders? If these were buildings which would not otherwise be erected the unions would have no cause to object.

Under such a plan we would not only have the fruits of their labor but youngsters would derive a sense of accomplishment and gain experience and skills which would enhance future employment potentials.

When I asked the fellow in the next office what he thought of the idea he shook his head. "It won't work," he said. Why not? "It makes too much sense."

There is a significant and provocative message somewhere in the story about a mother who was telling her six-year old son about the Golden Rule.

"Always remember," she said, "that we are here to help others."

Her offspring pondered this a moment and then asked, "Well, what are the others here for?"

If you would like a booklet "Basic Health Rules for Older People" write to this column c/o The Lincoln Star enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents to cover handling costs.

Taipei, Formosa (AP) — A worker was killed and four others injured by an explosion at a coal mine at Hsinchu in north Formosa, Chinese Nationalist police reported.

State Sen. Bowen Seeks Fourth Term

Sen. Kenneth L. Bowen of Red Cloud announced his candidacy Wednesday for reelection to the Legislature from the new 37th District comprised of Nuckolls, Webster, Franklin and Kearney counties.

Bowen, who is seeking his fourth term, stated that "education will be our biggest problem in the next session of the Legislature.

"College degrees have become so expensive, considering the dropouts, that it would be better to establish some vocational trade schools in central and western Nebraska.

"A good vocational training program would relieve some of the increased enrollment at our colleges and would better serve the industrial development need in our state for skilled labor. Every boy and girl needs advanced education, but not all will seek the professional field," Bowen said.

The Red Cloud senator noted that the "livestock industry in Nebraska has suffered one of the most drastic setbacks in history through increased beef imports, which will seriously affect the entire state.

"High property taxes will continue to diminish the farmer's income, so it is my sincere conviction that we will simply have to cut state expenses wherever possible."

Bowen said the 1965 Legislature "should not consider any further salary increases, additional retirement plans, or welfare programs.

"It is going to be real difficult for 22% of the people living in the rural areas, earning less than 13% of the state's income, to pay 51% of the state property taxes. The only solution at the present time is to hold down spending."

Bowen pledged a "100% effort to reducing the property taxes," if he is re-elected.

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

'AMA Against Adequate Health Insurance For Elders'

By ROBERT PETERSON

For years I've been feuding with the American Medical Association over its obstinate resistance to creation of a uniform, low cost, national health insurance plan for folks past 65. Even capitalist Bernard M. Baruch believes we must create such a plan.

Yet the brass at the AMA keep telling us there's no need because their studies show that two-thirds of all elders already carry some form of private health insurance.

What they fail to recognize is that most of the policies carried cost more than an older person can reasonably be expected to pay and offer such limited benefits as to be of little help in the event of catastrophic illness.

Take the combined Blue Cross-Blue Shield policy for folks past 65. It's among the best available, yet (a) it is not available to all elders, (b) it is too costly (In New York City it costs $14 monthly) and (c) it offers limited benefits (In New York City its benefits include only 21 fully paid days of hospital care).

I'm confident that logic and public opinion will triumph one of these days with the creation of a plan which may or may not resemble Medicare but which will give elders full health and hospitalization protection for not more than a dollar a week. If our allies—including Canada, England, France, West Germany, Holland, Sweden, Denmark, Norway, and Finland—can give elders free or very lowcost health protection, surely we can, too.

Speaking of Finland, when I passed through that picturesque nation last fall I was told that the beautiful jet airport at Helsinki was constructed almost entirely by prisoners serving time for drunk driving. My informant said it has long been national policy that those caught driving while under the influence are sentenced to construction tasks benefiting the community.

It got me to wondering why we don't adopt a similar method in dealing with juvenile offenders who clutter our courts, reformatories and prisons. The big problem with most of these kids is that they lack skills, can't find work and don't have enough to keep busy.

Why not sentence those who run afoul of the law to bricklaying and carpentry classes and put them to work under mature supervision erecting public buildings or housing for low income elders? If these were buildings which would not otherwise be erected the unions would have no cause to object.

Under such a plan we would not only have the fruits of their labor but youngsters would derive a sense of accomplishment and gain experience and skills which would enhance future employment potentials.

When I asked the fellow in the next office what he thought of the idea he shook his head. "It won't work," he said. Why not? "It makes too much sense."

There is a significant and provocative message somewhere in the story about a mother who was telling her six-year old son about the Golden Rule.

"Always remember," she said, "that we are here to help others."

Her offspring pondered this a moment and then asked, "Well, what are the others here for?"

If you would like a booklet "Basic Health Rules for Older People" write to this column c/o The Lincoln Star enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents to cover handling costs.

Worker Dies In Mine

Taipei, Formosa (AP) — A worker was killed and four others injured by an explosion at a coal mine at Hsinchu in north Formosa, Chinese Nationalist police reported.

State Sen. Bowen Seeks Fourth Term

Sen. Kenneth L. Bowen of Red Cloud announced his candidacy Wednesday for reelection to the Legislature from the new 37th District comprised of Nuckolls, Webster, Franklin and Kearney counties.

Bowen, who is seeking his fourth term, stated that "education will be our biggest problem in the next session of the Legislature.

"College degrees have become so expensive, considering the dropouts, that it would be better to establish some vocational trade schools in central and western Nebraska.

"A good vocational training program would relieve some of the increased enrollment at our colleges and would better serve the industrial development need in our state for skilled labor. Every boy and girl needs advanced education, but not all will seek the professional field," Bowen said.

The Red Cloud senator noted that the "livestock industry in Nebraska has suffered one of the most drastic setbacks in history through increased beef imports, which will seriously affect the entire state.

"High property taxes will continue to diminish the farmer's income, so it is my sincere conviction that we will simply have to cut state expenses wherever possible."

Bowen said the 1965 Legislature "should not consider any further salary increases, additional retirement plans, or welfare programs.

"It is going to be real difficult for 22% of the people living in the rural areas, earning less than 13% of the state's income, to pay 51% of the state property taxes. The only solution at the present time is to hold down spending."

Bowen pledged a "100% effort to reducing the property taxes," if he is re-elected.

Not Exclusively For Lent

Are Friday and Lenten meals a problem in your home? Here's a tasty crabmeat casserole that's sure to tempt even the most reluctant fish eater. Biscuit-Capped Crab Casseroles are as colorful as they are delicious, and your youngsters will especially enjoy having their own individual casserole dishes.

Cheese Biscuits top off a zesty filling of crabmeat, tomatoes and more cheese in a well-seasoned sauce. There's diced celery in the biscuits, too — a surprise addition that contributes extra flavor and crunch. For ease and speed of preparation they're prepared as drop biscuits to eliminate kneading and shaping steps.

Key the rest of the menu to complement the flavorful casseroles. Add crisp vegetable relishes, green peas, milk or other beverage. For dessert serve fruit or sherbet and bakery-fresh cookies.

BISCUIT-CAPPED CRAB CASSEROLES

½ cup chopped onion
½ cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup enriched flour
1 teaspoon dry mustard
3½ cups tomatoes, with liquid (1-pound 14-ounce can)
½ cup shredded process American cheese (2 ounces)
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cups crabmeat, thawed and drained (2 6-ounce packages, frozen)
Cheese Biscuits

Brown onion and green pepper in butter or margarine. Blend together flour and mustard. Add to onion mixture. Stir in tomatoes, breaking up whole tomatoes. Blend well. Bring to a boil and cook until thickened. Blend in cheese, Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper. Simmer gently while preparing Cheese Biscuits. Fold in crabmeat and bring to boil. Turn immediately into six 1-pint casseroles or one 2½ quart rectangular casserole. Drop three Cheese Biscuits on hot mixture in each individual casserole or drop biscuits around edge of rectangular casserole. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes or until biscuits are golden brown.

CHEESE BISCUITS

1½ cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons shortening
1 cup shredded process American cheese (4 ounces)
¼ cup diced celery
¾ cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Stir in cheese and celery. Stir in milk until flour is well moistened. Drop by spoonfuls onto hot crabmeat mixture. Makes 6 servings.

If you don't sift and in the absence of other directions, spoon flour directly from container into a one cup dry measure, level off, then remove two level tablespoonsful. NOTE: If self-rising flour is used, omit baking powder and salt.

Variations On An Old Theme

Typically American is peanut butter—and just as typically American are peanut butter cookies. Here is a basic recipe for Crisp Peanut Butter Cookies, and to it we have added some variations—Choose the ones you prefer.

New, Good—and Easy

Most stuffed cabbage recipes call for ground beef stuffing . . . and take a little bit of time to make. This one's different—it's a thrifty variation of popular, flavorful corned beef and cabbage . . . and the stuffing practically comes right out of a can as does the sauce . . . bright, perky, red tomato sauce.

The preparation is simple, just like a crepe—only nature made the thin pancakes—cabbage leaves. And after it's simmered in its sauce, the first forkful brings forth all sorts of good flavors from inside.

CORNED BEEF 'N CABBAGE ROLLS

(Servings — 4 to 5)

10 large cabbage leaves
1 (1-pound) can corned beef hash
¼ cup finely chopped onion
1 cup grated carrot
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 (8-ounce) cans tomato sauce
2 Tablespoons pure vegetable oil
½ cup finely chopped celery

Cover cabbage leaves with boiling water and let stand 5 minutes. Combine next 5 ingredients and ½ can tomato sauce. Place portions of meat mixture in center of cabbage leaves. Roll up and fasten with toothpicks, if necessary. Brown rolls in pure vegetable oil in large skillet. Pour remaining tomato sauce over the cabbage rolls and sprinkle with chopped celery. Cover and simmer for 30 minutes.

CRISP PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES

1 cup margarine
1 cup creamy or chunk style peanut butter
1 cup sugar
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
2½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt

Cream margarine, peanut butter and sugars. Mix in eggs and vanilla. Sift flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt together over creamed mixture. Stir until well blended. Chill dough until it can be easily handled. Shape into 1-inch balls. Place about 2 inches apart on greased cooky sheet. Flatten with floured bottom of glass or with floured fork, making crosswise pattern on each if fork is used. Bake in 350 degrees F. (moderate) oven until lightly browned, 12 to 15 minutes. Makes about 6 dozen.

Orange Peanut Butter Cookies: Follow recipe for Crisp Peanut Butter Cookies, adding 2 tablespoons grated orange rind with eggs and vanilla.

Coconut Pattles: Follow recipe for Crisp Peanut Butter Cookies rolling 1-inch balls of dough in flaked coconut before placing on cooky sheet and flattening them with floured bottom of glass.

Peanut Butter Sandwich Cookies: Prepare Crisp Peanut Butter Cookies. Make sandwiches with cookies, using peanut butter as filling.

Jelly Thumb Print Cookies: Follow recipe for Crisp Peanut Butter Cookies, pressing small indentation into each 1-inch ball of dough with thumb after placing on cooky sheet instead of flattening. Remove from cooky sheet while still warm and press again with thumb. Cool. Fill each indentation with jelly or jam.

Ham n' Eggs With A Flair

In the land of the fearless Vikings breakfasts that include cold roast meats, sausages, fish, eggs, cheese, porridge and stewed fruits are quite commonplace.

From the Viking country comes this wonderful 'hot dish' which also is included in a breakfast menu. Whether you have guests for Sunday brunch, or Sunday night supper you will star as a hostess if you serve Ham n' Egg Pudding — Here is the recipe

HAM 'N EGG PUDDING

Yield: 6 servings

1 cup diced cooked ham
2 cups milk, scalded
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
2 cups soft bread crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
6 eggs, separated

Combine ham, milk, butter, bread crumbs, salt, and pepper. Stir in egg yolks. Beat egg whites until they are stiff, but not dry. Fold egg whites into egg yolk mixture. Pour into 12 by 8 by 2 inch baking dish that has been rubbed with butter. Bake in a slow oven (325 F.) 20 to 25 minutes or until firm to the touch. Serve at once.

Quickies—

CLAM DIP Drain the juice from a can of chopped clams and use it to dilute 1 medium size package of cream cheese. Add 1 tsp. lemon juice, ¼ tsp. salt, 3 drops Tabasco. Put all ingredients, including chopped clams, in blender or mix well with egg beater. Serve with crackers, corn or potato chips.

COD ROE Spread cod roe on crackers. Top with grated onion and a sprinkling of mashed egg yolk. One can should make 12 canapes.

CUCUMBER DIP Pare and dice a cucumber. Mince 1 clove of garlic. Add ½ tsp. salt, 4 tbsp. mayonnaise, 4 tbsp. yogurt, 4 tbsp. chili sauce, 1 tbsp. horseradish. Put in blender and mix until smooth. Use as dip for shrimp, lobster chunks, chilled carrot and celery fingers.

DEVILED TUNA Drain and flake a can of tuna fish. Add 1 tbsp. horseradish, 1 tsp. soy sauce, 1 cup sour cream. Mix well. Spread on crackers or toast base and sprinkle with chopped chives. Makes 25-35 canapes.

Callan To Quit Power Post, Try For Congress

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Clair Callan of Odell will resign from the Nebraska Power Review Board to seek the First District Democratic congressional nomination, it was learned Wednesday.

Callan's resignation will follow on the heels of Fremont accountant Walter C. Witthoff's resignation from the five-member board.

Witthoff informed Gov. Frank Morrison Wednesday that he will quit effective March 2 because he is "giving serious consideration to running for office." Witthoff is a Republican.

Callan wuld not confirm his own plans at this time.

'Very Possible'

Asked about the report, he replied: "It is very possible. I will announce something definite the first of next week."

Departure of the two Power Board members leaves William H. Norton of Osceola, Larry Donegan of Lincoln and Ed R. Crowley of Kearney on the board.

Crowley has served as a member since January, following the resignation of Sid Hellman of Kearney.

Norton is vice chairman and is likely to succed Callan as board chairman.

Callan and Witthoff were appointed to the board on May 24, 1963. Gov. Morrison will name their successors.

Nominated Twice

A 43-year-old livestock raiser and merchant, Callan was a Democratic congressional nominee in 1958 and 1962. He was also a candidate for the House in 1956 and for the U.S. Senate in 1960.

In 1958, he fell to Republican Rep. Phil Weaver by just 8,000 votes. Callan lost to Republican Rep. Ralph Beermann by nearly 12,000 votes in 1962. Beermann will probably be seeking a third term this fall.

Witthoff is Dodge County GOP chairman. He barely lost (28-32) to Robert Denney in the 1961 struggle for Republican state chairman.

Witthoff declined to discuss his plans, but indicated an announcement may be forthcoming this weekend.

CHANCES SLIM OF SIX GETTING CYPRUS SETTLEMENT IN SECURITY COUNCIL

United Nations, N.Y. (AP)—The six nonpermanent members of the U.N. Security Council took over the mediator's role in the Cyprus crisis Wednesday. Their chances of a settlement looked slim.

The council president for February, Carlos Alfredo Bernardes of Brazil, acting for the six, set up separate interviews with the main parties to the dispute—Cyprus, Britain, Greece and Turkey.

He did so after the nonpermanent members — Bolivia, Brazil, Czechoslovakia, the Ivory Coast, Morocco and Norway—held a two-hour informal meeting at the Brazilian mission to talk about how to arrange a compromise.

The six failed to get any immediate agreement on a resolution from the main parties but said they would keep trying.

Diplomatic sources, reporting all this, remarked that "the six are sort of a mediating bloc," doing all they can to bring about an agreement among the four countries mainly concerned.

But indications were that the four still were far apart on whether any council resolution should uphold both the independence and territorial integrity of Cyprus and also the 1960 treaty of guarantee authorizing Britain, Greece and Turkey to take action if necessary to preserve the status quo in that island republic.

Britain and especially Turkey were reported insisting that the treaty should be mentioned, since both have interpreted it to mean Turkey may send troops in to protect the Turkish Cypriot minority from the Greek Cypriot majority.

Demand No Mention

Greece and especially Cyprus were still demanding that the treaty should not be mentioned, precisely because the Greek Cypriots running Cyprus fear that any such mention will be used to justify Turkish invasion.

That was understood to be the main issue Secretary-General U Thant had in mind when he told the Security Council Tuesday that he had run into an impasse in his week-long efforts to find common ground among the parties.

The council's Cyprus debate, this week and last, showed it to be so divided in its sympathies for the four parties that no resolution seemed likely to get a winning vote unless there was first agreement among the four.

The council was scheduled to meet again Thursday to hear Britain, Cyprus and Greece.

Zoning Regulations Taken Under Study

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The City-County Planning Commission took the proposed 1964 Lancaster County Zoning Regulations under study for possible revisions following public hearing Wednesday.

Chairman E. J. Faulkner directed the planning director to make a further report on three changes suggested by County Engineer Hugh Dillon and any written communications received on the proposed regulations prior to the commission's March 11 meeting.

Dillon suggested provisions be made for single hunting or fishing cabins that may be located in rural areas and for the keeping of a horse within a residential district under specified conditions.

5-Year Time Lag

Regarding provisions for building lots of record as of the effective date of the proposed ordinance, Dillon advised there is a five-year time lag in county surveyor's plat maps.

Tom Moeroft, representing the Waverly board of education, said the school officials "definitely feel the need of zoning in the county."

"We need good zoning laws to protect property," he said in advising the board would be available for conference on special problems.

Joseph Fansen of 7141 Havelock Ave. said the National Farm Organization would "study the proposed zoning regulations and report later," but conceded that the group has no objection to a reasonable plan.

Only opposition to the proposed zoning regulations, which Chairman Faulkner said would modernize the county's 1942 rezoning regulations, came from Lincoln residents

Elinor Brown of 625 So. 56th charged the commission by the regulations was attempting to "move the county under city jurisdiction."

Chairman Faulkner then stressed the proposed regulations go to the County Board for approval and administration and that the commission serves only as an advisory body to the County Commissioners as it does to the City Council.

Other objectors:

C. A Bates of West Lincoln—"Property rights are being taken away without a vote."

Leo Bartunek of 1039 So. 11th—"As a city taxpayer I don't want to pay the cost of enforcing the county's zoning regulations."

Mrs. Emma Meyers of 717 So. 12th—"The county zoning regultions are a step to city and county consolidaton and a Metro plan."

Mrs. Pete Alexander of 5201 Gladstone—"I don't think the planning commission should even exist."

Several times, Chairman Faulkner urged that objectors make specific comments on the plan or suggestions for changes rather than use the hearing to express political or economic viewpoints.

Change In Subdivision Signs Code Suggested

A zoning code amendment permitting large identification signs for new residential subdivisions on a temporary basis was recommended by the City-County Planning Commission after public hearing Wednesday.

The measure, recommended to the City Council, would permit a seven-foot sign, not exceeding 50 square feet, for each ten acres of subdivision but not to exceed three signs per tract.

Wording on the unlighted signs would be limited to the name of the subdivision. A permit would be required with a maximum of three annual renewals. Annual fee would be $5.

Planning Director Douglas Brogden said the liberalizing amendment was requested by the council because of the number and various types of signs posted in new subdivisions in violation of present code provisions

Special Permit

The commission approved a special permit for an off-street parking lot to the rear of the United Rent-Alls of Lincoln at 710 No. 48th.

The temporary permit would allow the parking of cars and other vehicles, but provide for future revocation if streets and residential uses develop.

The commission supported the proposed 1964 County Road Program, but urgently recommended that the county implement an early solution to improving South 27th near Beal's Slough.

In other action, the commission recommended:

—approval of a zoning code amendment permitting detached garages to be located less than 60 feet from the front yard line under conditions more liberal than now imposed by the code

—the purchase of a lot east of South Branch Library for off-street parking and other uses by the library at 25th and Sumner

—approval of a special permit to St. Elizabeth Hospital for construction of a four plex residential unit for interns near the northeast corner of 11th and South

—denial of a light industry zoning for the northwest corner of 25th and Fair as requested by Jacobs Service Inc.

—approval of preliminary plat of McCoy's Addition near 42nd and Newton and final plats of Fiore Estates near 33rd and Loveland and South Haven Hills near 33rd and Cuming —approval of a final plat of Rosemont First Addition near 70th and Garland under a plan eliminating some storm drainage problems

—vacating of a county road south of West A and northwest of Pioneer Park

Methodist Bishop Martin To Speak At Church Parley

Bishop William C. Martin, bishop of the former Omaha and Kansas-Nebraska areas, will speak at the South Central Jurisdiction Council meeting of the Methodist Church Thursday.

Now serving in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, Bishop Martin will speak on "Methodist Renewal in a Changing World" at St. Paul Methodist Church at 7:45 p.m.

Seven other Methodist bishop and over 50 officers of the jurisdiction will be on hand for this meeting, the first of its kind in Nebraska

Nebraska Methodists will honor visiting bishops and church leaders at a dinner at the Cornhusker Hotel Thursday at 6 p.m. Gov. Frank Morrison will speak.

Business meetings will be held Friday.

Zoning Regulations Taken Under Study

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The City-County Planning Commission took the proposed 1964 Lancaster County Zoning Regulations under study for possible revisions following public hearing Wednesday.

Chairman E. J. Faulkner directed the planning director to make a further report on three changes suggested by County Engineer Hugh Dillon and any written communications received on the proposed regulations prior to the commission's March 11 meeting.

Dillon suggested provisions be made for single hunting or fishing cabins that may be located in rural areas and for the keeping of a horse within a residential district under specified conditions.

5-Year Time Lag

Regarding provisions for building lots of record as of the effective date of the proposed ordinance, Dillon advised there is a five-year time lag in county surveyor's plat maps.

Tom Mocroft, representing the Waverly board of education, said the school officials "definitely feel the need of zoning in the county."

"We need good zoning laws to protect property," he said in advising the board would be available for conference on special problems.

Joseph Fansen of 7141 Havelock Ave. said the National Farm Organization would "study the proposed zoning regulations and report later," but conceded that the group has no objection to a reasonable plan.

Only opposition to the proposed zoning regulations, which Chairman Faulkner said would modernize the county's 1942 rezoning regulations, came from Lincoln residents.

Elinor Brown of 625 So. 56th charged the commission by the regulations was attempting to "move the county under city jurisdiction."

Chairman Faulkner then stressed the proposed regulations go to the County Board for approval and administration and that the commission serves only as an advisory body to the County Commissioners as it does to the City Council.

Other objectors:

C. A. Bates of West Lincoln—"Property rights are being taken away without a vote."

Leo Bartunek of 1039 So. 11th—"As a city taxpayer I don't want to pay the cost of enforcing the county's zoning regulations."

Mrs. Emma Meyers of 717 So. 12th—"The county zoning regultions are a step to city and county consolidaton and a Metro plan."

Mrs. Pete Alexander of 5201 Gladstone—"I don't think the planning commission should even exist."

Several times, Chairman Faulkner urged that objectors make specific comments on the plan or suggestions for changes rather than use the hearing to express political or economic viewpoints.

Change In Subdivision Signs Code Suggested

A zoning code amendment permitting large identification signs for new residential subdivisions on a temporary basis was recommended by the City-County Planning Commission after public hearing Wednesday.

The measure, recommended to the City Council, would permit a seven-foot sign, not exceeding 50 square feet, for each ten acres of subdivision but not to exceed three signs per tract.

Wording on the unlighted signs would be limited to the name of the subdivision. A permit would be required with a maximum of three annual renewals. Annual fee would be $5.

Planning Director Douglas Brogden said the liberalizing amendment was requested by the council because of the number and various types of signs posted in new subdivisions in violation of present code provisions.

Special Permit

The commission approved a special permit for an off-street parking lot to the rear of the United Rent-Alls of Lincoln at 710 No. 48th.

The temporary permit would allow the parking of cars and other vehicles, but provide for future revocation if streets and residential uses develop.

The commission supported the proposed 1964 County Road Program, but urgently recommended that the county implement an early solution to improving South 27th near Beal's Slough.

In other action, the commission recommended:

—approval of a zoning code amendment permitting detached garages to be located less than 60 feet from the front yard line under conditions more liberal than now imposed by the code.

—the purchase of a lot east of South Branch Library for off-street parking and other uses by the library at 27th and South.

—approval of a special permit to St. Elizabeth Hospital for construction of a four-plex residential unit for interns near the northeast corner of 11th and South.

—denial of K light industry zoning for the northwest corner of 27th and Fair as requested by Jacobs Service Inc.

—approval of preliminary plat of McCoy's Addition near 62nd and Newton and final plats of Fiere Estates near 33rd and Loveland and South Haven Hills near 48th and Claire.

—approval of a replat of Rosemont First Addition near 76th and Garland under a plan eliminating some storm drainage problems.

—vacating of a county road south of West A and northwest of Pioneer Park.

Unicam Road Study Unit To Emphasize Criteria

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Sen. Cecil Craft of North Platte, chairman of the Legislative Council road classification study committee, said Wednesday he does not anticipate the committee will make recommendations for specific additions or deletions from the state highway system.

He added, however, he does expect the group will recommend amendments to the present laws to establish more specific criteria for determining what roads should be on the state system.

The recommendations will be geared toward giving the State Highway Advisory Commission and State Highway Department "more specific directions" in making decisions, he said.

Formal Information

Craft said the committee will request formal information from State Game Commission Director Mel Steen concerning criteria he thinks should be used in building access roads to recreation areas, and also will ask State Engineer John Hossack for specific recommendations in the same area.

Then the committee will meet again and begin work on its recommendations, he explained.

The committee held a five-hour public hearing Wednesday at which testimony was received from several county officials, citizens interested in specific highways, represenatives of the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, Steen and Highway Commission and Highway Department officials

The commission and department submitted a joint statement in which they recommended criteria in reference to standards for determining the status of state spurs, and suggested also the deletion of some criteria now used for determining the state highway system.

Bruce Gillan, chief of the program and planning division of the Highway Department, presented the report.

He noted that since 1955 the department has used the "rule of thumb" of providing every town of 100 population or more (based on the 1950 census) either a state highway or a spur to a state highway.

10 Fell Below 100

Gillan said that 20 towns in that category fell below the 100 population level between 1950 and 1960, and that nine of those are now served by spurs.

The highway officials suggested the criteria should state that if a community falls below 75 population, its spur should be removed from the state system. Two of the nine towns would fall into that category now, Gillan said.

The officials also suggested considering removing from the system those spurs penetrating rural areas to arbitrary points or to inactive national defense areas.

The also recommended consideration be given to removal of all factors now included in statutes governing criteria of roads except for the one which calls for "the desirability of providing an integrated system to serve interstate travel, principal market centers, principal municipalities, county seat municipalties, and travel to places of statewide interest."

Steen Will Object

Steen told the committee he will object to the use of recreational access road funds to pave about eight miles of Neb. 98 from Crofton north to a proposed access road to the Wiegand Basin at Lewis and Clark Lake.

The highway is on the state system and should be paved with regular highway funds, he said.

Steen also called for an increase of $1 in motor vehicle registration fees to finance access road development. (Fees are now 50 cents.) "It is not going to hurt anyone and it will pay off," he declared.

Sen. Carpenter told the committee he thought it was the Legislature's responsibility where and when roads should be built, and that lawmakers should "quit passing the buck."

Carpenter also suggested that "if the need is there, the gas tax should be raised one cent. What's so sacred about the gas tax?" he asked. If an increase is needed, it should be made "to accommodate the desires of the people," he said.

GI-Fort Randall Line Application Submitted By G&T

The Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative Wednesday submitted to the Nebraska Power Review Board its application for authority to build a 230-kilovolt transmission line from Fort Randall to Grand Island.

The board set a hearing on the application for March 25.

G & T officials had previously said they would file the application.

The G & T has asked for a Rural Electrification Administration loan for the proposed $5 million transmission line.

The power cooperative of 23 rural power districts does not think present transmission capacity is adequate.

Proposed completion date for the line is May 1966.

Thone Formally Enters Contest For Lt. Governor

Former State GOP Chairman Charles Thone of Lincoln Wednesday completed his filing as a candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor.

An attorney, Thone had announced earlier his intention to seek the nomination for which four other persons have also filed.

The Republican ticket also got its fourth candidate for governor Wednesday when Albert E. Hahn, Grand Island junk dealer, completed his filing for that post.

Former Lincoln Mayor Bennett S. Martin completed his filing as a candidate for delegate to the Republican national convention from the First District.

Griffin Chosen For Oil And Gas Conservation Unit

Gov. Frank Morrison Wednesday appointed Cliff Griffin of McCook to the Nebraska Oil and Gas Conservation Commission.

Griffin will replace the late G. H. Doran of Sidney.

The term expires Sept. 28, 1965.

Morrison also reappointed Vince Rossiter of Hartington to the Agricultural Products Research Advisory Committee. His new term runs until June 11, 1967.

Governor Hits Credit Crisis Story In Post

Governor Morrison Wednesday called "negative journalism" a current article in a national magazine (Saturday Evening Post) about Nebraska's credit finance crisis.

He said the story points out some of the problems the state faced after the Nebraska Supreme Court declared invalid two time-sales laws, but he added:

"It spent little time discussing solutions to the problem prepared by some real dedicated public servants."

"The average American now carries eight credit cards. He has access to seven more that he keeps at home or in his office."

Make you feel better? Ah, the trust we have in our fellow men in this trusting world.

At quick count, I have 17 credit cards. At least 10 of them I have never used. And no doubt never shall.

I keep them though. For they are excellent status symbols. Inflating the ego—(I don't know how they are making egos these days but they don't seem to hold air like they used to. Have to keep patching them up).

Here is a wallet advertised: "Has 10 pockets for credit cards, including a recessed pocket for the receipted slips."

"Don't carry any more cash than you can afford to lose." That is the slogan of American Express.

Then they hand you a credit card and just say: "Don't carry any cash."

☆ ☆ ☆

In looking over my file (unused practically) of credit cards, I find they are printed mainly with raised letters on plastic.

You have to keep a thing like this in a holster — like a hunting knife.

A friend of mine reported to me from New York:

"I signed the tab at '21' and absent-mindedly slipped the credit card into my hip pocket. When I sat down I thought I had been bitten.

"I went to the gents' room where the attendant made an examination. He found I was deeply stamped with my name, credit number and local address."

☆ ☆ ☆

What do we hear from merry England? Where credit is a matter of gentlemen's agreements.

My credit card has arrived from Harrod's. The department store that shows no surprise or alarm when you order complete supplies for a six months safari in Darkest Africa.

(This is a piece of sheer propaganda, I think. I traded with Harrod's—lived just around the corner in Hasker Street. They were always out of lettuce or some such ordinary thing).

Anyway, the Harrod's card is plastic. It would no doubt put a permanent dent in you if you sat on it.

Thus an English institution joins the modern ranks. A strip of plastic numbers between the store and the customer.

☆ ☆ ☆

My card from Simpson's-in-Piccadilly remains the same. It is a card to the Simpson's Service Club, a jolly little coffee and brandy club that was started during the war.

You sign into this club with your name and rank—I am so ashamed of being so low and so overage in grade that I sometimes cheat. Upgrade myself a few bars.

But I have no card with the store. Just sign the chit.

My American creditors (with their back-biting cards) write me "you may have overlooked this account. We look forward to etc."

Simpson's hopes their letter finds me and mine in good health. They have enjoyed my patronage and look forward to continued happiness between us.

They add pleasantly that my account (last August) is enclosed.

Love that store.

Ah, me. The evenings of joy and fellowship! While the wine flowed and there was a feast of reason and a flow of wit.

When I said: "No, let me sign for it! I insist."

The embossed surface bit an intaglio depression into the nudge for the evening. We added on a generous service fee and the waiter's eyes brimmed with tears. (Probably because he felt it should be more).

And alas, black-a-day. Comes the cool reminder of payment due. The signature is a little bold and uncertain. But the imprint of the credit card is there. Painful as though you had sat on it.

OH, MY ACHING BACK

Now! You can get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that often cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain —you want relief—want it fast! Another disturbance may be mild bladder irritation following wrong food and drink—often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling.

Doan's Pills work fast in 3 separate ways: 1. by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains. 2. by soothing effect on bladder irritation. 3. by mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

Enjoy a good night's sleep and the same happy relief millions have for over 60 years. For convenience, ask for the large size. Get Doan's Pills today!

Donna Marie Black In The Spotlight

The spotlight is nothing new to Miss Donna Marie Black, the current Miss Nebraska and former Nebraska coed.

Miss Black, immediately following the Miss America pageant last autumn, was auditioned for the Fred Waring (and his Pennsylvanians) band. As you already know she was accepted, and has been on tour with the Waring organization.

In the picture we find Miss Black (right) helping in the business of whipping up a Shoo-Fly pie. The young lady on the left is Miss Fran Allerton of Palm Beach, Fla.

In spite of the fact that Mr. Waring should feel right at home, since the picture was taken in his kitchen at Shawnee-On-Delaware, Pa., he appears to be a bit uneasy about the proceedings. Perhaps he believes that too many cooks can spoil any pie.

The talented and attractive Miss Black attended Nebraska Wesleyan University, and spent her junior year at the University of Nebraska. She also has studied at the Chicago Conservatory.

Coming from Broken Bow to see—and hear—their daughter when she performs on Saturday evening will be Miss Black's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan F. Black. Mr. and Mrs. Black, by the way, are to be host and hostess at a theater party when their guest list will include:

Governor and Mrs. Frank B. Morrison; Senator and Mrs. T. C. Reeves of Central City; Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Foreman and their daughter, Donna-Marie of Albion; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jaworski and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Raynor of Fremont; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gerdes and Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Junker of Fairbury; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McBride and Mr. Dick Wood of Beatrice; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Marti and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Marti of Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Larsen and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tompkin of Grand Island; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Black of Lakeside; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hagemeister of Hemingford and Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Shelton of Omaha.

Preceding the Fred Waring show Mr. and Mrs. Black will be the dinner guests of Gov. and Mrs. Morrison at the Governor's Mansion.

Where Is Everyone?

There was a sizeable graduating class at the Lincoln High School commencement ceremonies back in 1944. During the 20 years since then the class has not held one reunion—but things are going to change.

A few days ago some of the 'old grads', those of the 1944 vintage, were talking things over and decided that a reunion of the class was in order. The group, however, discovered that there was one fly in this very pleasant ointment—The fly, of course, is the question—'where is everyone?'

Since the reunion plans call for the month of June, with no definite date in mind as yet, contacting all of the members of the 1944 graduating class poses a problem. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meginnis, both members of the 1944 class, offered their services as a contact bureau.

So, any Lincoln High School graduate in the class of 1944 is asked to let Mr. and Mrs. Meginnis know of their whereabouts.

Guests, Parties Keep Suburbia Busy

PARK MANOR

With the occasional glimpses of warm weather there will gradually grow within each homemaker an urge for spring cleaning. And as a pre-warning to the event, we offer certain rules to follow in order to keep peace with the family.

Never try to clean out your children's dresser drawers without their supervision. That funny shaped marble which you find, or the small, stuffed kangaroo is probably one of their prized possessions, and if they discover that it's gone, mighty will be their wrath.

When thinning out a husband's wardrobe, be cautious about turning the tattered green sweater into a polishing rag—it's undoubtedly his favorite golf companion.

However, no one in Park Manor needs hints to be a successful host and hostess. According to all the social affairs this week, hospitality must come naturally.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Barlow and their children, Barbara, Rob and Anne, were the guests of Maj. (Ret.) and Mrs. Forrest L. Ball at a dinner party on Thursday evening in celebration of Mr. Barlow's birthday.

We have a progress report on the Park Manor knitting group, which met Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. Charles Mulvaney. According to Mrs. Mulvaney, every woman has completed a sweater, and is beginning another project.

Mrs. Leonard Starr will be a hostess this evening when she entertains her neighborhood bridge eightsome. Her guests will also enjoy a late coffee and dessert, served by Mrs. Starr.

Last weekend Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Anderson and their son, Kraig, left on Saturday morning for Wichita, Kan. for a visit with their son, Kim. The Anderson family returned home Sunday morning.

It always is fun to plan for near-future guests especially when the visitors are relatives. Such is the case at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barrett and their children, Ricky, Billy, and Nancy Ann.

Their weekend guests will be Mrs. Barrett's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Don Elfine of Denver, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Binning were host and hostess at a pre-dinner party on Saturday evening at their Park Manor home. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Emery Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Atlee Stephan, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glenn, all members of the Binning's Anniversary Club.

The occasion was the 21st wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson and, after the party, the four couples went on to East Hills Club where they completed the celebration with dinner.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Fleming and their children, Greg and Julie, last weekend were Mrs. Fleming's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Berger of Abilene, Kan., who arrived Friday evening.

An Interesting Visit To Wales

With "Lincoln Logs" on Feb. 12, and cherry pies on Feb. 22, it might be appropriate on Sunday, March 1, to plan a special menu joining with the Welsh all over the world in celebrating Gwyl Dewi Sant (Saint David's Day), which marks the death of the patron saint of Wales.

Mrs. R. T. Hughes of Lincoln, who traveled extensively in Wales last summer, brought home a family recipe for "Bara Brith" (speckled Welsh bread) which would be a delicious addition to any meal—even Nebraska beef.

Completely enchanted with a meal served in the clifftop home, "Cugmor," of her cousins, Mrs. Owen Williams and Miss Lizzie Ellin Williams, on the island of Anglesey, North Wales, Mrs. Hughes asked for and received the traditional recipe.

Although the hostesses apologized for the impromptu meal which they served their American cousin, Mrs. Hughes feasted on cold, Welsh salmon served with cucumber sauce, Bara Brith and tea, and strawberries with custard.

Other traditional Welsh meals might include lobster or herring fresh from the sea; trout from the many nearby mountain streams; roast lamb served with mint sauce; puddings and custards with fruit, or fresh fruit served with Devonshire (clotted) cream; Welsh cakes (muffins) or scones baked in a griddle on top of the stove; and for breakfast, fried tomatoes and mushrooms with bacon and eggs.

Incidentally, the kitchen window of Cugmore, which is near the island village of Rhudwyn, is directly above a rocky beach of the sea and overlooks Holyhead bay and harbor with a view of the hills of Ireland on a very clear day—which is a sure sign of stormy weather.

Ingredients for Bara Brith:
- 3 lbs. flour (12 cups)
- ½ lb. shortening
- ¼ lb. margarine or butter
- pinch of salt
- ¼ tsp. allspice
- ¾ lbs. sugar (2½ cups in 1 lb.)
- 1 egg
- 1½ lb. mixed fruit (raisins, currants and candied peel)
- 1 oz. yeast (use two packages)
- milk and water to mix.

Dissolve yeast in warm water. Sift flour, combine with salt, allspice and sugar. Add shortening and margarine, and then combine with egg and enough milk to moisten the dough. Mix in fruit and stir in the yeast.

Allow the dough to rise for about 1 hour, then knead it in the pan and allow to rise again. Knead the dough into loaves and put into floured pans to raise. Bake in oven at 350 degrees for 40 minutes to one hour.

Dear Abby

Who Will Decide?

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Demented people, young and old, should be exterminated. Bums, chronically ill and alcoholics likewise. What good is derived from keeping them alive when money is so badly needed for normal people? I have made a study of social misfits and have seen many "rest homes" filled with county and state aid patients who have been ditched by their families. Nobody cares a hoot about them. Some of these people are completely gone mentally. Why keep them at the taxpayers' expense? All people, physically and mentally incapable of contributing to our society, should be done away with. Mercifully, of course. This may sound hard-hearted, but one day this will have to be done. Sign me —

FAR-SIGHTED

DEAR FAR-SIGHTED: You are not the first to sugar-coat genocide, nor will you be the last. But if you are one of the "normal" people who would survive the exterminations you suggest —God help us.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: One of my hamsters got loose and we found her in the piano. She was caught in there and must have gotten pretty beat up because, when we finally got her out, she couldn't walk or stand up. I think she broke her leg or her back, maybe. I wanted to take her to the vet's, but my big sister, who drives, thinks it is silly and she won't take us. My mother drives, but she doesn't have the time. If this hamster isn't going to get well, maybe she should be put to sleep. What should I do? I am 12.

LOVES ANIMALS

DEAR LOVES: Call your local Society For the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Ask them if they can provide transportation for such a case.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I read the letter from Gordy's Wife, who said her husband didn't care for the potatoes she had prepared for supper, so he threw them at her. She said he threw a "potato fit." She must have been one of those cool Scandinavian women. I would have thrown a "gravy fit" to go with the potatoes!

IRISH

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO "A HAIRY APE IN LEXINGTON": A 22-year-old "girl" should not need her mother's permission to shave her legs. You are of age. They are you legs, and the decision is yours as well.

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LIKES TOM": Smile anyway. No one so desperately needs a smile as one who has none to give.

Governor, Ag Director To Attend Beef Price Talks

Gov. Frank Morrison and State Agriculture Director Pearle Finigan will take part in a discussion of cattle prices at a meeting Monday in Shenandoah, Iowa sponsored by the Cattle Industry Committee for Legislative Action.

The governor Wednesday said he and Finigan will tell the assembly of industry leaders what his administration has proposed to solve the problem.

Morrison said if the five steps recommended by him as a result of a study by Finigan last year had been adopted the problem of declining meat prices would be closer to solution.

Morrison forwarded the recommendations in December to Congress and President Johnson.

They called for the establishment of import quotas on beef, a beef promotion program by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, encouragement of lighter marketing weights by the Agriculture Department, increased use of domestic meat in school lunch programs and further studies into retail beef prices.

Politically Inspired

The governor suggested criticism leveled against him recently over the cattle price situation has been politically inspired.

He noted he recommended the 1963 Legislature appropriate money to find out why the decline in beef market prices wasn't being reflected in retail stores but the Legislature refused to act or support the investigation

Morrison said if retail prices had been cut, there would have been an increase in consumption which might have forced market prices up.

Morrison also said economists generally agree that imports are only responsible for 15% of the drop in prices and "we can't lose sight of these other factors."

The governor said congressional action is the only solution and the cattle industry is now realizing it cannot exist independently of federal assistance.

"I think it is obvious to all of them now that the cattle industry as well as all other industries has to utilize the facilities of the federal government in the promotion of the general welfare of the industry," he said.

It Seams To Me

Questions, Answers

Patricia Scott

Q. What is the difference between a corded and a piped seam? How are they made?—Mrs. A. B. L.

A. A corded seam has cording inserted between the edges of a plain seam. The cord edge is placed toward the body with the cord extending beyond the seam line (Figure 1). A piped seam is made by folding a bias strip of fabric and inserting it between the edges of a plain seam with the folded edge of the piping toward the body of the garment (Figure 2).

Q. Is it necessary to interface collars, even if the fabric is rather firm?—MISS M. G.

A. Yes. Collars have a much finer appearance when interfaced.

Q. I always have so much trouble ripping seams. Is there a special way to do this or is some special instrument used? MRS. M. M.

A. Notions counters carry a seam ripper that makes the job very easy. It comes with complete instructions.

Q. I have one velvet dress and I'm afraid to press it. You've mentioned needle boards for this purpose, but after seeing how much they cost, could you tell me of another alternative?—MRS. J. L.

A. If you're careful, you can fold a heavy Turkish towel and use it as a cushion. But don't expect the results to be as good as with a needle board.

Q. I'm a novice at sewing What is meant by a placket?—MISS P. M.

A. An opening in a seam that is generally in the front or on the side of a garment. To this opening you attach fastenings such as zippers, snaps or hooks and eyes.

☆ ☆ ☆

Q. Since I'm just beginning to sew, I'd like for you to explain a loop-turner and a point-turner.

MISS T. J.

A. A loop-turner is used to turn belts, fabric loops and various types of strips. It is a long wire rod with a hook at one end. A point-turner is a small flat piece of plastic with a pointed end. It is used to get a good sharp point when turning collars, cuffs, etc.

Q. I am very short and everyone tells me that I should never wear prints or plaids. Is this true? — Miss N. G.

A. No. Just remember to keep the prints and plaids small, in an up and down direction and in softer, subdued tones. If they are too bold in size and color they will make you look shorter.

Q. What is the best type of sleeve for narrow shoulders? What about kimono sleeves? —MISS M. R.

A. A set-in sleeve (that fits perfectly is the most flattering. If necessary you can add a little padding to build up your shoulders. Kimono sleeves only emphasize the narrowness since they follow the natural shoulder line.

Q. "Please give me a few hints about how to dress. I am short waisted and have short legs."

A. Don't wear belts, especially wide ones. Design and patterns should go up and down, not around. Some of the current styles straight up and down completely hide the waistline. Most of all remember your posture. Try to make the distance between your waist and bust as long as possible.

Q. I have trouble with notches. They always go too far into the seam allowance and leave little room for future alteration. Any suggestions?—MRS. D. Z.

A. Cut the notches outward instead into the garment. This makes them easier to see and they won't disturb your seam allowance.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
3♦	3♥	Pass	4♥

The bidding:

Opening lead — queen of diamonds.

This hand occurred in a pair championship. The final contract at every table but one was four hearts, and at each of these tables, the contract went down one. Three notrump played by North could not be defeated, but no pair reached that contract.

West led the queen of diamonds against four hearts. Not unreasonably, each declarer ducked the diamond in dummy, hoping that East had an eight-card suit, in which case the second diamond loser might be saved by discarding it later on dummy's clubs.

However, this idea didn't work well because East played the deuce on the queen, requesting West to shift to another suit (which West had to do in the actual case anyhow).

It was not difficult for West to find the club shift under the circumstances, and, when he led a club, East ruffed. East then played the ace of diamonds, which West ruffed, and another club lead resulted in declarer's going down one.

At one table, the North-South pair had a partnership misunderstanding and arrived at five clubs on the following sequence:

East	South	West	North
3♦	3♥	Pass	4♣
Pass	5♣

North was under the impression that the three heart bid was artificial and that he was being requested to show his longest suit. (Some players use a convention, in combatting preemptive bids, whereby naming the suit immediately above the preemptive bid is equivalent to a takeout double.)

When North bid four clubs, South raised him to five, and that became the contract.

East, on lead, opened the ace of diamonds and continued with a diamond, which West ruffed.

West returned the king of spades, but declarer had no trouble making the rest of the tricks, scoring five clubs, five hearts and the ace of spades to bring home the contract. So as a result of the misunderstanding, North-South were the only ones to make a game with their cards and got themselves a top score!

Parties For Miss Joan O'Dea

A popular April bride-to-be is Miss Joan Colleen O'Dea of Lincoln, a member of the faculty of St. John's School, who shared honors recently with her fiance, Thomas Edward Carey, at a prenuptial courtesy for which the lay faculty of Pius X School were hosts and hostesses.

The party was held on Sunday evening, Feb. 16, at King's party room, and during the informal affair, a one-gift shower was presented to the honored couple.

Next Sunday afternoon, Miss O'Dea will be honored at a shower to be held at St. Ann's School in Humboldt, S.D. Hostesses will be Mrs. Michael Schoeberl, Mrs. Eugene O'Dea, and Miss Barbara O'Dea.

The wedding of Miss O'Dea and Mr. Carey, who is a member of the coaching staff of the Pius High School, will take place on Saturday, April 4, at St. Ann's Church in Humboldt, S.D.

Will you be traveling? If so, you will want to know of local news happenings while you are away. The carrier boy saves newspaper copies while you are away and delivers them in handy Vacation Pak bag upon your return at no added cost. Before leaving notify the Circulation Department of dates you will be gone.

Donna Marie Black In The Spotlight

The spotlight is nothing new to Miss Donna Marie Black, the current Miss Nebraska and former Nebraska coed.

Miss Black, immediately following the Miss America pageant last autumn, was auditioned for the Fred Waring (and his Pennsylvanians) band. As you already know she was accepted, and has been on tour with the Waring organization.

In the picture we find Miss Black (right) helping in the business of whipping up a Shoo-Fly pie. The young lady on the left is Miss Fran Allerton of Palm Beach, Fla.

In spite of the fact that Mr. Waring should feel right at home, since the picture was taken in his kitchen at Shawnee-On-Delaware, Pa., he appears to be a bit uneasy about the proceedings. Perhaps he believes that too many cooks can spoil any pie.

The talented and attractive Miss Black attended Nebraska Wesleyan University, and spent her junior year at the University of Nebraska. She also has studied at the Chicago Conservatory.

Coming from Broken Bow to see—and hear—their daughter when she performs on Saturday evening will be Miss Black's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan F. Black. Mr. and Mrs. Black, by the way, are to be host and hostess at a theater party when their guest list will include:

Governor and Mrs. Frank B. Morrison; Senator and Mrs. T. C. Reeves of Central City; Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Foreman and their daughter, Donna-Marie of Albion; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jaworski and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Raynor of Fremont; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gerdes and Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Junker of Fairbury; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McBride and Mr. Dick Wood of Beatrice; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Marti and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Marti of Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Larsen and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tompkin of Grand Island; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Black of Lakeside; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hagemeister of Hemingford and Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Shelton of Omaha.

Preceding the Fred Waring show Mr. and Mrs. Black will be the dinner guests of Gov. and Mrs. Morrison at the Governor's Mansion.

Where Is Everyone?

There was a sizeable graduating class at the Lincoln High School commencement ceremonies back in 1944. During the 20 years since then the class has not held one reunion—but things are going to change.

A few days ago some of the 'old grads', those of the 1944 vintage, were talking things over and decided that a reunion of the class was in order. The group, however, discovered that there was one fly in this very pleasant ointment—The fly, of course, is the question—'where is everyone?'

Since the reunion plans call for the month of June, with no definite date in mind as yet, contacting all of the members of the 1944 graduating class poses a problem. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meginnis, both members of the 1944 class, offered their services as a contact bureau.

So, any Lincoln High School graduate in the class of 1944 is asked to let Mr. and Mrs. Meginnis know of their whereabouts.

Dear Abby

Who Will Decide?

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Demented people, young and old, should be exterminated. Bums, chronically ill and alcoholics likewise. What good is derived from keeping them alive when money is so badly needed for normal people? I have made a study of social misfits and have seen many "rest homes" filled with county and state aid patients who have been ditched by their families. Nobody cares a hoot about them. Some of these people are completely gone mentally. Why keep them at the taxpayers' expense? All people, physically and mentally incapable of contributing to our society, should be done away with. Mercifully, of course. This may sound hard-hearted, but one day this will have to be done. Sign me—

FAR-SIGHTED

DEAR FAR-SIGHTED: You are not the first to sugar-coat genocide, nor will you be the last. But if you are one of the "normal" people who would survive the exterminations you suggest—God help us.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: One of my hamsters got loose and we found her in the piano. She was caught in there and must have gotten pretty beat up because, when we finally got her out, she couldn't walk or stand up. I think she broke her leg or her back, maybe. I wanted to take her to the vet's, but my big sister, who drives, thinks it is silly and she won't take us. My mother drives, but she doesn't have the time. If this hamster isn't going to get well, maybe she should be put to sleep. What should I do? I am 12.

LOVES ANIMALS

DEAR LOVES: Call your local Society For the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Ask them if they can provide transportation for such a case.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I read the letter from Gordy's Wife, who said her husband didn't care for the potatoes she had prepared for supper, so he threw them at her. She said he threw a "potato fit." She must have been one of those cool Scandinavian women. I would have thrown a "gravy fit" to go with the potatoes!

Guests, Parties Keep Suburbia Busy

PARK MANOR

With the occasional glimpses of warm weather there will gradually grow within each homemaker an urge for spring cleaning. And as a pre-warning to the event, we offer certain rules to follow in order to keep peace with the family.

Never try to clean out your children's dresser drawers without their supervision. That funny shaped marble which you find, or the small, stuffed kangaroo is probably one of their prized possessions, and if they discover that it's gone, mighty will be their wrath.

When thinning out a husband's wardrobe, be cautious about turning the tattered green sweater into a polishing rag—it's undoubtedly his favorite golf companion.

However, no one in Park Manor needs hints to be a successful host and hostess. According to all the social affairs this week, hospitality must come naturally.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Barlow and their children, Barbara, Rob and Anne, were the guests of Maj. (Ret.) and Mrs. Forrest L. Ball at a dinner party on Thursday evening in celebration of Mr. Barlow's birthday.

We have a progress report on the Park Manor knitting group, which met Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. Charles Mulvaney. According to Mrs. Mulvaney, every woman has completed a sweater, and is beginning another project.

Mrs. Leonard Starr will be a hostess this evening when she entertains her neighborhood bridge eightsome. Her guests will also enjoy a late coffee and dessert, served by Mrs. Starr.

Last weekend Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Anderson and their son, Kraig, left on Saturday morning for Wichita, Kan. for a visit with their son, Kim. The Anderson family returned home Sunday morning.

It always is fun to plan for near-future guests especially when the visitors are relatives. Such is the case at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barrett and their children, Ricky, Billy, and Nancy Ann.

Their weekend guests will be Mrs. Barrett's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Don Elfine of Denver, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Binning were host and hostess at a pre-dinner party on Saturday evening at their Park Manor home. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Emery Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Atlee Stephan, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glenn, all members of the Binning's Anniversary Club.

The occasion was the 21st wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson and, after the party, the four couples went on to East Hills Club where they completed the celebration with dinner.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Fleming and their children, Greg and Julie, last weekend were Mrs. Fleming's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Berger of Abilene, Kan., who arrived Friday evening.

An Interesting Visit To Wales

With "Lincoln Logs" on Feb. 12, and cherry pies on Feb. 22, it might be appropriate on Sunday, March 1, to plan a special menu joining with the Welsh all over the world in celebrating Gwyl Dewi Sant (Saint David's Day), which marks the death of the patron saint of Wales.

Mrs. R. T. Hughes of Lincoln, who traveled extensively in Wales last summer, brought home a family recipe for "Bara Brith" (speckled Welsh bread) which would be a delicious addition to any meal—even Nebraska beef.

Completely enchanted with a meal served in the clifftop home, "Cugmor," of her cousins, Mrs. Owen Williams and Miss Lizzie Ellin Williams, on the island of Anglesey, North Wales, Mrs. Hughes asked for and received the traditional recipe.

Although the hostesses apologized for the impromptu meal which they served their American cousin, Mrs. Hughes feasted on cold, Welsh salmon served with cucumber sauce, Bara Brith and tea, and strawberries with custard.

Other traditional Welsh meals might include lobster or herring fresh from the sea; trout from the many nearby mountain streams; roast lamb served with mint sauce; puddings and custards with fruit, or fresh fruit served with Devonshire (clotted) cream; Welsh cakes (muffins) or scones baked in a griddle on top of the stove; and for breakfast, fried tomatoes and mushrooms with bacon and eggs.

Incidentally, the kitchen window of Cugmore, which is near the island village of Rhudwyn, is directly above a rocky beach of the sea and overlooks Holyhead bay and harbor with a view of the hills of Ireland on a very clear day—which is a sure sign of stormy weather.

Ingredients for Bara Brith:

- 3 lbs. flour (12 cups)
- ½ lb. shortening
- ¼ lb. margarine or butter
- pinch of salt
- ¼ tsp. allspice
- ¾ lbs. sugar (2½ cups in 1 lb.)
- 1 egg
- 1½ lb. mixed fruit (raisins, currants and candied peel)
- 1 oz. yeast (use two packages)
- milk and water to mix.

Dissolve yeast in warm water. Sift flour, combine with salt, allspice and sugar. Add shortening and margarine, and then combine with egg and enough milk to moisten the dough. Mix in fruit and stir in the yeast.

Allow the dough to rise for about 1 hour, then knead it in the pan and allow to rise again. Knead the dough into loaves and put into floured pans to raise. Bake in oven at 350 degrees for 40 minutes to one hour.

Junior Club Has Anniversary

Celebrating the 11th anniversary of the Junior Woman's Club of Lincoln, the members met for luncheon on Wednesday at the Lincoln Country Club.

The program was presented by Mrs. Paul D. Kern who narrated, "Melodies of Stephen Foster". Guest musicians were Mrs. William E. Hemmer, pianist; Mrs. H. A. Hansen, vocalist; Mrs. Paul Thompson, violinist; and Mrs. Louis Trzcinski, organist.

Wedding Attendants Are Named

A bride-elect of late February is Miss Sandra Kay Kahl who has chosen Saturday, Feb. 29, as the date for her marriage to Garold E. Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Parker.

The ceremony will be solemnized at a 7 o'clock evening service at the Christian Church in Douglas.

For her matron of honor, Miss Kahl has named Mrs. Kenneth L. DeRoe of Douglas, and her bridesmaids will be Miss Charlene Schreiner and Miss Judy Parker, sister of her fiance.

Boyne W. Ferguson of Douglas will serve his brother-in-law as best man, and seating the guests will be Eldro Hansen and Ron Weber, both of Lincoln.

The daughter of Mrs. Herbert B. Kahl of Douglas, and the late Mr. Kahl, the bride-to-be will be given in marriage by her brother, Herbert J. Kahl of Oklahoma City, Okla. She is a graduate of the Lincoln School of Commerce, and her fiance is a graduate of the Lincoln Barber College.

Bridal Shower

A prenuptial courtesy was held Tuesday evening honoring a bride-elect of early spring, Miss Sandra Sue Reese, whose betrothal to A. 1c Brian L. Hickok of the Lincoln Air Force Base, was announced recently.

Miss Reese was presented a miscellaneous shower at a party for which Miss Elaine Guthrie, Miss Pat Skiles, Miss Devonne Hohensee, Miss Karen Smalljohn and Miss Ellie Miller were hostesses to 12 guests.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Reese, the bride-to-be has revealed that her wedding will take place on Saturday, March 7. The service will be solemnized at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at the Lincoln Air Force Base chapel.

Miss Reese is a graduate of the Lincoln General Hospital School of Nursing.

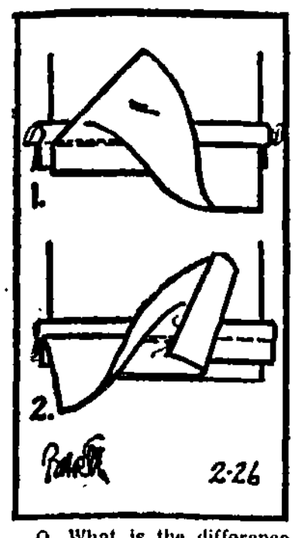
It Seams To Me

Questions, Answers

Patricia Scott



Q. What is the difference between a corded and a piped seam? How are they made?—Mrs. A. B. L.

A. A corded seam has cording inserted between the edges of a plain seam. The cord edge is placed toward the body with the cord extending beyond the seam line (Figure 1). A piped seam is made by folding a bias strip of fabric and inserting it between the edges of a plain seam with the folded edge of the piping toward the body of the garment (Figure 2).

Q. Is it necessary to interface collars, even if the fabric is rather firm?—MISS M. G.

A. Yes. Collars have a much finer appearance when interfaced.

☆ ☆ ☆

Q. I always have so much trouble ripping seams. Is there a special way to do this or is some special instrument used? MRS. M. M.

A. Notions counters carry a seam ripper that makes the job very easy. It comes with complete instructions.

Q. I have one velvet dress and I'm afraid to press it. You've mentioned needle boards for this purpose, but after seeing how much they cost, could you tell me of another alternative?—MRS. J. L.

A. If you're careful, you can fold a heavy Turkish towel and use it as a cushion. But don't expect the results to be as good as with a needle board.

Q. I'm a novice at sewing What is meant by a placket?—MISS P. M.

A. An opening in a seam that is generally in the front or on the side of a garment. To this opening you attach fastenings such as zippers, snaps or hooks and eyes.

☆ ☆ ☆

Q. Since I'm just beginning to sew, I'd like for you to explain a loop-turner and a point-turner.

MISS T. J.

A. A loop-turner is used to turn belts, fabric loops and various types of strips. It is a long wire rod with a hook at one end. A point-turner is a small flat piece of plastic with a pointed end. It is used to get a good sharp point when turning collars, cuffs, etc.

Q. I am very short and everyone tells me that I should never wear prints or plaids. Is this true? — Miss N. G.

A. No. Just remember to keep the prints and plaids small, in an up and down direction and in softer, subdued tones. If they are too bold in size and color they will make you look shorter.

Q. What is the best type of sleeve for narrow shoulders? What about kimono sleeves? —MISS M. R.

A. A set-in sleeve (that fits perfectly is the most flattering. If necessary you can add a little padding to build up your shoulders. Kimono sleeves only emphasize the narrowness since they follow the natural shoulder line.

Q. "Please give me a few hints about how to dress. I am short waisted and have short legs."

A. Don't wear belts, especially wide ones. Design and patterns should go up and down, not around. Some of the current styles straight up and down completely hide the waistline. Most of all remember your posture. Try to make the distance between your waist and bust as long as possible.

☆ ☆ ☆

Q. I have trouble with notches. They always go too far into the seam allowance and leave little room for future alteration. Any suggestions?—MRS. D. Z.

A. Cut the notches outward instead into the garment. This makes them easier to see and they won't disturb your seam allowance.

Club Luncheon

A meeting of the Lancaster County Democratic Women's Club has been planned for Saturday afternoon. The meeting will follow a 1 o'clock luncheon at the Hotel Lincoln.

The bidding:
East	South	West	North
3♦	3♥	Pass	4♥

The bidding:

Opening lead — queen of diamonds.

This hand occurred in a pair championship. The final contract at every table but one was four hearts, and at each of these tables, the contract went down one. Three notrump played by North could not be defeated, but no pair reached that contract.

West led the queen of diamonds against four hearts. Not unreasonably, each declarer ducked the diamond in dummy, hoping that East had an eight-card suit, in which case the second diamond loser might be saved by discarding it later on dummy's clubs.

However, this idea didn't work well because East played the deuce on the queen, requesting West to shift to another suit (which West had to do in the actual case anyhow).

It was not difficult for West to find the club shift under the circumstances, and, when he led a club, East ruffed. East then played the ace of diamonds, which West ruffed, and another club lead resulted in declarer's going down one.

At one table, the North-South pair had a partnership misunderstanding and arrived at five clubs on the following sequence:

East	South	West	North
3♦	3♥	Pass	4♣
Pass	5♣

North was under the impression that the three heart bid was artificial and that he was being requested to show his longest suit. (Some players use a convention, in combatting preemptive bids, whereby naming the suit immediately above the preemptive bid is equivalent to a takeout double.)

When North bid four clubs, South raised him to five, and that became the contract.

East, on lead, opened the ace of diamonds and continued with a diamond, which West ruffed.

West returned the king of spades, but declarer had no trouble making the rest of the tricks, scoring five clubs, five hearts and the ace of spades to bring home the contract. So as a result of the misunderstanding, North-South were the only ones to make a game with their cards and got themselves a top score!

Parties For Miss Joan O'Dea

A popular April bride-to-be is Miss Joan Colleen O'Dea of Lincoln, a member of the faculty of St. John's School, who shared honors recently with her fiance, Thomas Edward Carey, at a prenuptial courtesy for which the lay faculty of Pius X School were hosts and hostesses.

The party was held on Sunday evening, Feb. 16, at King's party room, and during the informal affair, a one-gift shower was presented to the honored couple.

Next Sunday afternoon, Miss O'Dea will be honored at a shower to be held at St. Ann's School in Humboldt, S.D. Hostesses will be Mrs. Michael Schoeberl, Mrs. Eugene O'Dea, and Miss Barbara O'Dea.

The wedding of Miss O'Dea and Mr. Carey, who is a member of the coaching staff of the Plus High School, will take place on Saturday, April 4, at St. Ann's Church in Humboldt, S.D.

Will you be traveling? If so, you will want to know of local news happenings while you are away. The carrier boy saves newspaper copies while you are away and delivers them in handy Vacation Pak bag upon your return at no added cost. Before leaving notify the Circulation Department of dates you will be gone.

Junior Club Has Anniversary

Celebrating the 11th anniversary of the Junior Woman's Club of Lincoln, the members met for luncheon on Wednesday at the Lincoln Country Club.

The program was presented by Mrs. Paul D. Kern who narrated, "Melodies of Stephen Foster". Guest musicians were Mrs. William E. Hemmer, pianist; Mrs. H. A. Hansen, vocalist; Mrs. Paul Thompson, violinist; and Mrs. Louis Trzcinski, organist.

Wedding Attendants Are Named

A bride-elect of late February is Miss Sandra Kay Kahl who has chosen Saturday, Feb. 29, as the date for her marriage to Garold E. Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Parker.

The ceremony will be solemnized at a 7 o'clock evening service at the Christian Church in Douglas.

For her matron of honor, Miss Kahl has named Mrs. Kenneth L. DeRoe of Douglas, and her bridesmaids will be Miss Charlene Schreiner and Miss Judy Parker, sister of her fiance.

Boyne W. Ferguson of Douglas will serve his brother-in-law as best man, and seating the guests will be Eldro Hansen and Ron Weber, both of Lincoln.

The daughter of Mrs. Herbert B. Kahl of Douglas, and the late Mr. Kahl, the bride-to-be will be given in marriage by her brother, Herbert J. Kahl of Oklahoma City, Okla. She is a graduate of the Lincoln School of Commerce, and her fiance is a graduate of the Lincoln Barber College.

Bridal Shower

A prenuptial courtesy was held Tuesday evening honoring a bride-elect of early spring, Miss Sandra Sue Reese, whose betrothal to A. 1c Brian L. Hickok of the Lincoln Air Force Base, was announced recently.

Miss Reese was presented a miscellaneous shower at a party for which Miss Elaine Guthrie, Miss Pat Skiles, Miss Devonne Hohensee, Miss Karen Smalljohn and Miss Ellie Miller were hostesses to 12 guests.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Reese, the bride-to-be has revealed that her wedding will take place on Saturday, March 7. The service will be solemnized at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at the Lincoln Air Force Base chapel.

Miss Reese is a graduate of the Lincoln General Hospital School of Nursing.

New CPPD Hallam Unit Gets Power Board Approval

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Nebraska Power Review Board Wednesday authorized Consumers Public Power District to construct its proposed new 110,000-kilowatt generation unit at its Hallam plant.

Decision of the five-member board was unanimous.

The unit will cost an estimated $8.9 million and is scheduled to be operational by the summer of 1966.

CPPD General Manager Ray Schacht of Columbus told the board that Consumers considered delaying construction by one year, but a study indicated that such a delay "would be too great a risk."

Approval of the new steam plant could adversely affect the amount of additional new U.S. Bureau of Reclamation power which will be apportioned to CPPD next month.

However, Schacht said, Consumers' study indicated that any delay awaiting USBR's allocatons "would subject our customers to a possible 'brown-out' in 1966."

CPPD's board of directors needs to let contracts for the plant at its meeting on Friday in order to assure completion of construction in 1966.

"It would be too big a hazard to depend on outside power for 1966," Schacht said.

Nebraska's transmission lines would be "loaded to capacity," he noted.

Approval of the new unit would "answer the power supply problem for all agencies on the grid system," Schacht said.

CPPD's new unit will have an estimated 30,000 kilowatts of surplus power available for sale to be Nebraska Public Power System or other agencies in 1966, he pointed out. Consumers will be using all the generation capacity within three years.

The new unit will also make Hallam's over-all operation more economic, Schacht said.

In other action, the board set March 18 as the hearing date for a Consumers application to construct a transmission line to serve Wilber.

Norris Public Power District has also proposed service to Wilber.

10,000 Pupils In Boston Boycott Public Schools

Boston (AP) — More than 10,000 Negro and white children Wednesday heeded a call from civil rights leaders and boycotted Boston public schools and attended so-called "freedom schools."

It was the second boycott of Boston schools in eight months to protest alleged de facto segregation.

There were no reports of violence or disorder.

Boycott leaders called the demonstration "overwhelmingly successful."

No Victory

But William Ohrenberger, superintendent of schools, said, "I cannot view this event as a victory for anyone."

Ohrenberger said preliminary figures indicated absences totalled 20,571. Absences on a normal day are some 9,000 or about 10% of the city's 92,844 pupils.

There are an estimated 14,000 Negroes in the Boston public schools.

Last June 18, an estimated 3,000 boycotted junior and senior high schools.

Undermined

The superintendent said the demonstration "dangerously undermined a basic democratic principle of respect for law and authority. This flouting of law will cause us all extreme regret for years to come."

Boycott leaders were exultant as reports came in from 37 freedom schools that many were filled to overflowing.

Co-chairman Noel Day said the movement, which he called a "Freedom Stay-Out," was "a complete success so far in terms of numbers and also in terms of the quality of the program at the freedom schools."

Boycott leaders were less certain the stay-out would result in any change in the dispute between the Boston School Committee and the National Association for Advancement of Colored People over alleged de facto segregation.

The Rev. James P. Breeden, boycott co-chairman with Day, said, "A majority of the school committee still stands in the position that there is no problem."

Canon Breeden said neither he nor any of his associates had received official word from the school committee as to the latest NAACP plan for dealing with racial imbalance.

Proposed

Last week, at a meeting with the school committee, the NAACP proposed a committee of three representatives from each side plus three educators study the problem and make recommendations. The school committee voted 4-1 to table the proposal.

Paul Parks, local chairman of the NAACP education committee, said he hoped the boycott would prompt the committee "to take the plan off the table."

Major John F. Collins called the boycott "regrettable."

"Children should be in school while their elders resolve this problem with patience and understanding," Collins said.

The boycott was staged in the face of a ruling by State Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke, a Negro and a life member of the NAACP.

10,000 Pupils In Boston Boycott Public Schools

Boston (AP) — More than 10,000 Negro and white children Wednesday heeded a call from civil rights leaders and boycotted Boston public schools and attended so-called "freedom schools."

It was the second boycott of Boston schools in eight months to protest alleged de facto segregation.

There were no reports of violence or disorder.

Boycott leaders called the demonstration "overwhelmingly successful."

No Victory

But William Ohrenberger, superintendent of schools, said, "I cannot view this event as a victory for anyone."

Ohrenberger said preliminary figures indicated absences totalled 20,571. Absences on a normal day are some 9,000 or about 10% of the city's 92,811 pupils.

There are an estimated 14,000 Negroes in the Boston public schools.

Last June 18, an estimated 3,000 boycotted junior and senior high schools.

Undermined

The superintendent said the demonstration "dangerously undermined a basic democratic principle of respect for law and authority. This flouting of law will cause us all extreme regret for years to come."

Boycott leaders were exultant as reports came in from 37 freedom schools that many were filled to overflowing.

Co-chairman Noel Day said the movement, which he called a "Freedom Stay-Out," was "a complete success so far in terms of numbers and also in terms of the quality of the program at the freedom schools."

Boycott leaders were less certain the stay-out would result in any change in the dispute between the Boston School Committee and the National Association for Advancement of Colored People over alleged de facto segregation.

The Rev. James P. Breeden, boycott co-chairman with Day, said, "A majority of the school committee still stands in the position that there is no problem."

Canon Breeden said neither he nor any of his associates had received official word from the school committee as to the latest NAACP plan for dealing with racial imbalance.

Proposed

Last week, at a meeting with the school committee, the NAACP proposed a committee of three representatives from each side plus three educators study the problem and make recommendations. The school committee voted 4-1 to table the proposal.

Paul Parks, local chairman of the NAACP education committee, said he hoped the boycott would prompt the committee "to take the plan off the table."

Major John F. Collins called the boycott "regrettable."

"Children should be in school while their elders resolve this problem with patience and understanding," Collins said.

The boycott was staged in the face of a ruling by State Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke, a Negro and a life member of the NAACP.

Claridge Inks Pro Contract

. . . WITH GREEN BAY

By CHARLES E. WIESER
United Press International

Dandy Dennis Claridge, a 6-3, 220-pound quarterback for the University of Nebraska for the past three years, confirmed Wednesday he had signed a professional bonus contract with the Green Bay Packers.

Apparently torn between twin desires to become a dentist or to join the play-for-pay ranks, Claridge worked his way out of the predicament by mapping out plans permitting him to do both.

He said he and the Pakers had reached an agreement on this point satisfactory to the team and himself.

He would not say how much of a bonus he was paid, nor how much his contract calls for. But he said he plans to complete this semester, his second in the school of dentistry, do some school work this summer, and then join the Packers. After that he'll do the best he can to sandwich in further studies.

Will Take Longer

Claridge admitted it will take him considerably longer to realize his ambitions of becoming a dentist now that he cast his lot with the pros.

The Robbinsdale, Minn., native, who was recently married, said his bride did not object to his signing the Packer contract but that she was happy that he had made arrangements to pursue his studies.

Some weeks ago, in an interview with United Press International Claridge said he wanted to play pro ball but that he would not if it meant abandonment of his studies.

At the same time he expressed the hope that suitable arrangements could be made for both careers.

At that time he said he had been promised by Green Bay coach Vince Lombardi he would be given a crack at quarterback. If that didn't work out, he was promised a chance at halfback or flankerback, Clardige said.

Won't Object

He added that he wanted an opportunity to show his stuff at the signal calling post, but would not object to playing halfback or flankerback if the coaches decided that was where he would best fit into the Packer picture.

During his three-year Nebraska career, Clardige was a triple-threat star, although he was used sparingly as a runner. The coaches apparently felt it unwise to expose him unnecessarily to the risk of being injured while carrying the ball.

Before a national television audience on New Year's Day, Claridge proved he could sprint effectively if the opportunity presented itself. On the second play from scrimmage in the Orange Bowl against Auburn, he faked to one of his halfbacks, tucked the ball under his own arm, and outsped the Auburn defenders in a 68-yard touchdown scamper down the sideline.

Pro scouts at University of Nebraska games this year frequently expressed admiration for Claridge's brute strength when carrying the ball.

Set Pass Record

He broke Nebraska career passing records for yardage and completions and also frequently got off some tremendous punts.

The best remembered boot came last fall against Iowa State when Claridge punted from his own end zone and the ball didn't stop until it rolled into the Iowa State end zone. The ball traveled an estimated 106 yards.

While at Nebraska Claridge scored 106 points prior to the Orange Bowl game. His career yardage total was 2,357. Of these 1,733 came via the air on 125 strikes in 298 attempts.

He scored 17 touchdowns and also connected on passes for eight more.

Claridge picked up 825 yards on the ground in 236 carries and lost 244, leaving him a net of 624.

His punting average was 39.2 yards as sophomore, 36.9 as a junior, and 33.2 as a senior.

Husker Ten Is Probably Pro Record

Nebraska's 1963 Big Eight football champions and 1964 Orange Bowl kings may have set still another record.

The disclosure Wednesday that Dennis Claridge has inked a contract with the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League brought to 10 the number of team members to sign to play in the professional ranks, a possible record.

And to show the depth present on the 1963 edition of the Cornhuskers, only six of these were on the No. 1 team. Only one, Bob Brown, was named to most All-American teams. But most were respected for their size.

Tackle Lloyd Voss was named to the All-Big Eight team. He signed with Green Bay. Brown signed with Philadelphia.

Others signing with National League clubs were tackle Bob Jones with Washington, tackle Monte Kiffin with Minnesota, guard John Kirby with Minnesota and halfback Dave Theisen with Los Angeles.

Signing with American Football League clubs were fullback Rudy Johnson with New York, halfback Willie Ross with Buffalo and fullback Gene Young with San Diego.

NU's Kirby Among Top 5 Vikings

By BOB MARTEL
United Press International

Minneapolis - St. Paul—The Minnesota Vikings Wednesday unveiled their five top draft signees and Coach Norm Van Brocklin promptly pronounced his new players as "the right kind to help us."

In the twin cities for a premier showing of the Viking's 1963 film were Minnesota tackle Carl Eller; Southern California end Hal Bedsole; Auburn defensive back George Rose; Nebraska linebacker John Kirby, and North Carolina split end Bob Stacey.

The Vikings lost their fourth draft choice, but Eller through Stacey represent the other top five in order.

Van Brocklin said the Vikings would open summer camp with approximately 30 rookies, the smallest number they've ever had.

"We had a good draft," Van Brocklin said. "We think we have a good crop of rookies."

Kirby, one of 11 players drafted from the Nebraska Orange Bowl championship team, said he leaned towards an American Footall League club until Van Brocklin made a personal trip to Lincoln to visit him.

"I'm a good friend of Mick Tinglehoff (Viking center)," Kirby said. "He talked with me and I guess influenced me to a great degree."

In addition to Nebraska's Orange Bowl victory over Auburn, Kirby said the Gotham Bowl game in 1962 was memorable for him.

"The only people in the stands were about 400 Boy Scouts," Kirby said. Nebraska downed Miami, 36-34, in that game.

Howard Signs For $60,000 With Yanks

Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. (AP) — Catcher Elston Howard, the American League's Most Valuable Player last season, has signed his 1964 baseball contract, the New York Yankees announced Wednesday.

Howard received a salary increase of $10,000, to $60,000. He batted .287 with 28 homers and 85 runs batted in last year.

INJURY IS CONFIRMED

...Boxing Commission Satisfied With Report

Miami Beach, Fla. (AP) — The Miami Beach Boxing Commission announced Wednesday night that it is completely satisfied that heavyweight Sonny Liston suffered an "honest injury" in his losing title fight with Cassius Clay.

Commission Chairman Morris Klein said the promoters, William MacDonald and Chris Dundee, had been instructed to release Liston's purse. It was held up after the fight pending a report by medical examiners on the shoulder injury that caused Liston to surrender his title at the end of the sixth round.

"We are satisfied that there was no wrong-doing," Klein said, "and there is no further reason to hold up the purse."

He said the medical reports and X-rays would be turned over Thursday to State Atty. Richard Gerstein, who wants a complete report on the medical examinations.

Gerstein said he had no complaints and no evidence that the Tuesday night fight was not completely regular, but said he just wanted to have the reports studied by official doctors to determine if there was any basis for action by his office.

Klein was asked if the commission planned to look into reports that Clay received $50,000 prior to the fight from Inter-Continental Promotions, Inc., of which Liston is president and half owner.

"If we are shown any evidence that Inter-Continental owns both fighters, that's a horse of a different color," Klein said.

Up to now, he said, the commission knows nothing about it except what it reads in the papers.

Bob Nilon, a member of the Inter-Continental group, confirmed the payment. He said it gave the syndicate the right to select Clay's next opponent, the fight site and the date. One of Clay's advisors, William Faversham, said the opponent would have to be mutually acceptable to both sides.

The commission received a dozen telegrams from individuals around the nation Wednesday protesting the fight and calling it "fake," "disgrace," and an event that "set boxing back 100 years."

Klein said the eight doctors who examined Liston were satisfied with his story that he threw a left hook in the first round, heard something snap, and then lost control of his arm.

Klein said the $2,500 fine slapped on Clay after his hysterical performance at the weigh-in still stands. Such fines are donated to the Welfare Fund of Miami Beach.

The bizarre ending of the fight still had tongues wagging after the doctors' report was made public.

Gerstein had asked the boxing commission for the records of the examination made in the wee small hours Wednesday morning at St. Francis' Hospital.

Liston, carrying his left arm in a sling and wearing dark glasses that hid a patch under his left eye, returned to Convention Hall for a news conference in which he blamed his defeat on the injury.

Heavy Glove

"I felt something when I missed a punch in the first round," said the 30-year-old ex-champ. "From the first round on I fought with one hand. When I threw my left the whole glove felt like it was full of water. When I raised my arm, it felt like I had lead in my glove."

Clay, unbeaten in 20 fights and champion of the world at the tender age of 22, shucked off his clown role and behaved like a true champion at an earlier news conference. The wild-eyed man who created a disturbance at the weigh-in was subdued. He spoke so quietly that it was difficult to hear him. No cane, no "I'm the king," no "rumble man, rumble."

"People underrated me," said the former Olympic champ who has become known as the Louisville Lip. "My mouth overshadowed my ability."

"After the first round I know I had the title. I didn't know there was nothing wrong with his left hand. He was fighting back with it. In the fifth round when I couldn't see he followed me all around and threw a lot of hands."

Clay Through Talking

When a newsman asked Clay if he wasn't in a subdued mood, the new champ replied, "I'm through talking. I'm going to be a nice clean gentelman."

At one stage of the mass interview Clay said he had even thought of retiring because "I really don't like to fight. I don't like to hit and hurt people.

"I'm young. Maybe I ought to retire like Rocky Marciano. Every time he gets introduced he gets a big cheer. I made history. Maybe it's a good time to quit."

Then, almost in the next breath, he said, "My name is magic all over the world. There's never been a heavyweight in history that could dance like me. I'll fight two ranking heavyweights in the same night. Sure, I'll fight Liston again if he wants it. Let him rest up and get well. That is, if he wants a rematch."

Liston indicated strongly he would like a rematch although his personal physician, Dr. Robert Bennett of Detroit, said he would not be able to start training for at least two months.

Asked if he would quit if he didn't get the rematch, Liston said, "It's hard to say. I don't think I would. If Clay wants the rematch I'll take it. If not, I imagine I'll forget it."

Sonny Not Impressed

Liston was not impressed by Clay as a fighter and said the new champion was not as good as Zora Folley and Eddie Machen, two contenders.

Surprisingly, he added, "Clay didn't put up as good a fight as Patterson. Patterson came to win or lose. He didn't come to run and hide like he stole something.

Did Liston think Clay was scared?

"Scared as a thief," he replied.

Liston, of course, knocked out Patterson twice, each time in the first round.

"I made a mistake in the first round," said Liston. "I threw too many wild punches. I shouldn't have went out there and thrown everything in the first round. I was after a knockout from the first bell."

Liston Overruled

Liston said he wanted to continue but was overruled by his trainer, Willie Reddish, and Nilon.

"I wanted to come out anyway," Liston said. "Losing the title to me was like the day the President got shot. Willie told me to double up on my jab. I told him I couldn't use the hand. He said he was going to stop it but I said 'no.' From the first round on it pained me everytime I lifted my left arm. I was missing because I didn't have a left hand."

Stitches Needed

Six stitches were taken in a wide, deep cut under Listons' left eye. He wore a patch over that Wednesday.

Clay was unmarked, just like a man who "floats like a butterfly and stings like a bee." He could have been riding in his convertible and listening to jive on his tape recorder Tuesday night for all you could see.

The new champion was bitter about one thing—the foreign substance that got into his eyes before the fifth round and blinded him.

"You can't tell my they didn't try something. It burned my eyes and I couldn't see. I told Angie (trainer Angelo Dundee) to cut off my gloves. I didn't want to go out there just to get knocked out. I'd rather quit at the end of the fourth than have them say I made some excuse when I lost. I think he had some liniment or grease on his gloves."

Dundee said he thought Liston may have gotten something on his gloves accidentally, adding that he did not think there had been any trickery.

Financial Fiasco

The fight was a financial fiasco for promoter Bill MacDonald, the Miami sportsman who guaranteed a live gate of $625,000 and assumed promotional expenses that put his total liability at $800,000. A corwd of 8,279 paid only $402,000 to see the fight.

McDonald, who figures to lose about $400,000, said he wanted to continue as a promoter and had been assured by both sides that he would be the promotoer of the rematch.

The closed circuit television people, Theatre Network Television, Inc., said they had a record of more than 560,000 paid and $3,320,000 in receipts. The old record was set for the first Liston-Floyd Patterson fight at Chicago, Sept. 25, 1962.

Preliminary estimates were that Liston would get over $1.3 million for the night's disappointing effort and Clay about $600,000.

Gary Bradds Tops Balloting On UPI's All-America Team

New York (UPI) — Gary Bradds, the man who had to take the place of Jerry Lucas at Ohio State, fulfilled his task with distinction Wednesday when he led the voting for the 1964 United Press International All-America basketball team.

Other members of the squad, representing five geographical sections of the United States, are Walt Hazzard of unbeaten U.C.L.A., Cotton Nash of Kentucky, Bill Bradley of Princeton and Dave Stallworth of Wichita.

The All-America team was selected by the direct vote of 315 sportswriters, editors and broadcasters from all parts of the country. The voters were asked to select a first and second team.

All-around court ability and leadership qualities, as well as a record-breaking scoring proficiency, seemed necessary pre-requisites for the squad, although only Bradley and Bradds are among the nation's top 10 scorers. The team is averaging an even 27 points per man thus far and all five players own school scoring records.

In addition, Hazzard holds the career scoring mark at U.C.L.A. and Nash and Bradley should gain similar honors at their respective schools before the season is over.

Bradds, the tallest member of the team at 6-8, is the only repeater from last year's squad. Nash was on the second team in 1962 and 1963, Bradley was on the second team last year, and both Hazzard and Stallworth were selected to the 1963 third team.

Bradley is the first player from the Ivy League to make the first team since Chet Forte of Columbia in 1957. He and Stallworth are juniors while Bradds, Hazzard and Nash all are seniors.

Cazzie Russell, the amazing sophomore whose versatile abilities have helped carry Michigan back to basketball prominence, fell just short of first-team selection. Joining Russell on the second team are Jeff Mullins of Duke, Mel Counts of Oregon State, Fred Hetzel of Davidson and Ron Bonham of Cincinnati. Bonham was on the top team last year.

The third team consists of Howard Komives of Bowling Green, who currently leads the country in scoring with a 36.1 average, Bill Buntin of Michigan, Paul Silas of Creighton, Jim (Bad News) Barnes of Texas Western and Wally Jones of Villanova.

—CONTRACT STILL UNSIGNED—

So, What's New In Kansas City

Kansas City (AP) — Negotiations between the city and the Kansas City Athletics for a lease on Municipal Stadium continued late into Wednesday night and apparently snagged on a clause that would prevent owner Charles O. Finley from moving the club.

The meeting broke up at 11:30 p.m. and was scheduled to reseume at 9 a.m. Thursday.

To a question whether he thought agreement could be reached Wednesday night he said "I sure think so."

Davis was asked whether the lease was written so that Finley could not move the club merely by paying off the remainder of the contract.

"That is it," the mayor replied, and the inflecton indicated that this was the only point of contention.

Still in the meeting room with three of Finley attorneys were City Manager Carleton Sharpe. City Counselor Herbert Hoffman and the City Council Baseball Committee.

Finely was in a hotel six blocks away and did not attend the session that started at 5 p.m. and recessed only once—2½ hours for dinner.

Six city secretaries stood by waiting to type minutes of the meeting.

Finley last Sunday sent Davis a telegram accepting one of the four lease proposals made by the city. Under that proposal he wold pay five per cent of admissions to the city and 7½ per cent of concession revenue.

The city would take only $50,000 a year, the remainder going to Finley as repayment on $300,000 he spent for stadium improvements. The proposal included two four-year option periods on which rent would be based on a sliding attendance scale.

Lingle Boosts Missouri's Stock

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor
(Last of a series)

Not since Wes Santee was running loose—this was before he was grounded by the AAU—has the Big Eight had a double threat distance runner to compare with Missouri's Robin Lingle.

The Tiger sophomore is running at a pace no one is likely to match Friday and Saturday in the Big Eight indoor tract meet at Kansas City.

It is Lingle's near-certain triumphs in the 1,000-yard run and mile run that makes Missouri a strong candidate to unseat Nebraska as Big Eight indoor champion, a title the Huskers earned last spring after many years away from the throne room.

Lingle's chief competition could come from the record book as he goes after records in both the 1,000 and mile run. Certainly no Big Eight runner appears to be a threat to whip the Missouri ace at those distances.

And Lingle is well under the conference records in both events. His 4:03.2 clocking for the mile is 3.3 seconds under the Big Eight record held by Santee and his 2:06.9 in the 1,000 is well below the conference mark of 2:11.6 set by Cliff Cushman of Kansas.

Two other Big Eight milers—Tonnie Coane of Kansas and Charles Conrad of Missouri—have run the mile faster than Nebraska's Mike Fleming had to run last spring to win the indoor crown in 4:11.7.

Coane has run the eight furlongs in 4:09.7 and Conrad owns a 4:11.6 timing, both good enough to win most years but this one.

Tom Von Ruden of Oklahoma State and Herald Hadley of Kansas own the second-best times for the 1,000 with 2:12.4 clockings, times which equal last year's winning mark by Kirk Hagan of Kansas.

Conrad is the 880 leader with a 1:53.3, but is pressed by Coane and Walt Mizell of Oklahoma, both with 1:53.5 clockings. Missouri's Bill Rawson is close with a 1:53.9.

One has to go to the eighth name on the chart of the two-mile to find someone not from Kansas or Missouri.

Kansas, where they apparently pick two-milers off the trees or find them buried beneath fence posts on the north 40, holds down the first five places in the long event.

Bill Silverberg is the leader in the Jayhawk special with a 9:05.0 and only teammate Herald Hadley is within six seconds of him.

Hadley, the defending champion, needed only a 9:25.2 to win the event a year ago. The closest non-Kansan to the Jayhawk exclusive club here is Roy Bryant with a 9:29.5, 3.5 seconds below the No. 5 Kansan.

Nebraska's Gil Gebo manages to break the Missouri-Kansas domination of the longer races with the slim Husker runner posting the top time on the 600-yard chart.

Gebo owns a pre-meet best of 1:11.3, only two-tenths of a second over the Big Eight record held by Greg Pelster of Missouri.

Pelster won the event the last two years and set the record two years ago. His winning time last season was 1:13.2. Six runners have bettered that time this season.

Gebo's closest competitor is Dave Perry of Oklahoma State with a 1:11.7. Others under the winning time of last year are Bill Selde (1:12.4) of Kansas State, Bill Rawson (1:12.5) of Missouri, Lowell Paul (1:12.8) and Bill Saul (1:13.0), both of—yep, you guessed it—Kansas.

Officer's 2-Pointer Brings 88-86 Win

. . . CREIGHTON RALLIES TO NIP NYU

New York (AP) — A jump shot by Chuck Officer with one second left climaxed a rally by Creighton Wednesday night and gave the Bluejays an 88-86 victory over New York University in the second game of a college doubleheader before 5,769 in Madison Square Garden.

St. Peter's College of Jersey City, N.J., rallied to beat Fairfield University 90-86 in the first game.

Officer led the Creighton rally after NYU had taken a 79-68 lead with 5:30 remaining. Shooting nine-for-nine in the second half, he produced five of his baskets down the stretch and wound up with 21 points.

Creighton's Fritz Pointer had 22 and Paul Silas scored 20. Silas also had 22 rebounds.

NYU's Harold Hairston scored 24 and Barry Kramer hit 20.

Creighton now has a 20-5 record and NYU 13-6.

Essink's Late Shot Boosts Firth, 48-46

. . . CLASS D DISTRICT FINAL

By HAL FOSTER
Star Sports Writer

Forward Dave Essink tossed in an off-balance, desperation jump shot at the final buzzer to give Firth a 48-46 victory over Hickman and the district championship at Pius X gym Wednesday.

The win upped Coach James Wright's record to 15-3 for the season and 29-8 for the last two years, and netted his Tigers their first trip to the Class D regionals since 1956.

Firth jumped into the early lead despite a full-court press by Hickman, and enjoyed its largest advantage of the night in the first quarter, when hard-charging guard Dave Kats weaved through a Bulldog zone for a lay-up to make it 12-5 with 2:55 left.

Coming back from intermission on the short end of a 25-20 count, Hickman outscored the Wildcats, 9-3, in the first four and a half minutes of the third quarter to take their first lead, 29-28, with 3:39 remaining.

Every member of the Hickman squad scored once in the rally, which was aided by two Firth miscues, a three second violation and a pass out of bounds.

Kats meshed a short jumper to push Firth ahead 30-29, but two buckets by Dennis Steenson and a basket and free throw by Roland Church kept Hickman ahead until lanky Bill Doeschot hit a jumper to tie it up, 36-36, with :27 left.

The third stanza ended there, and the lead switched hands four times before Hickman tied it at 46-46 on a charity toss by Church, at 2:51 in the fourth at which point the Bulldogs decided to stall. Hickman lost the ball on a double dribble error with 1:17 left and it was Firths' turn to play keep-away.

The Wildcats played the ball in from out of bounds with eight seconds left, and forward Jim Liesveld took a shot. The ball bounded off the back rim, and Essink grabbed it, turned toward the bucket, and let fly while falling sidewards.

Doeschot, Lauren Wismer and Essink led the balanced Wildcat attack with 11, 11 and ten points, respectively. Church with 13, Steenson with 10, and Dwayne Burianek with 11 led the Bulldogs.

Huskers Face 3 Road Frays

Three tough games on the road wind up the basketball season for Nebraska's Cornall and 5-6 in the conference.

On Saturday Nebraska meets Oklahoma State in Stillwater and then moves to Norman to face Oklahoma on Monday. The following Saturday the Huskers end their season at Colorado.

"We've looked just as good on the road as we have at home against the teams we've played," said Coach Joe Cipriano.

"We feel that with a top effort we can bounce back."

Nebraska lost to Kansas 64-55 Monday after edging Iowa State 57-55 on Saturday.

"We weren't in the right frame of mind against Kansas," said Cipriano, "and their top defensive effort slowed down our offense."

On Nebraska's home court earlier, the Husker beat Oklahoma State 54-53 and knocked off Oklahoma 76-69.

Charlie Jones leads the Nebraska team in scoring (274 or 12.5 per game), rebounding (157) and field goal percentage (.442).

Harold Cebrun ranks second in scoring with 213 points and a 10.7 average.

Beaver Crossing Romps By 44-15

. . . GARLAND ALSO ADVANCES

Seward — Benedict's attempt to derail Beaver Crossing with a stalling maneuver met with the same fate most tactics have this year and the Beavers rolled to a 44-15 victory Wednesday night in the Class D District tourney.

Beaver Crossing will play Garland, which rode the 30-point outburst of Gene Mayfield to a 71-56 win over Fairmont, for the tournament championship and a playoff berth tonight. Game time is 8 p.m.

Benedict surrendered the first bucket of the game to Beaver Crossing, Nebraska's fifth-ranked D club with a 20-1 record, and never led.

Benedict went into a weave near midcourt, but all that accomplished was to get Beaver Crossing out of a zone defense. That didn't help.

By the quarter it was 9-4 Beaver Crossing and Benedict suffered the embarrassment of drawing a blank from the field in the second quarter.

Beaver Crossing, in pushing Benedict to the sidelines with a 7-11 record, received balanced scoring from Mike Heser, Larry Stutzman and Bob White.

In the opener Garland stayed in the game until the final six minutes when Mayfield's shooting began to take its toll. It was 52-46 with 6:28 to play, but Garland began to pull away.

Fairmont stayed in the game as long as it did on the outside shooting of Frank Adams in the first half and Bob Bettger in the second half. The latter paced the Tigers in scoring with 17. Adams had 15 for the Tigers who finish with a 4-15 record.

Garland, which will take a 14-6 record into the title fray, got scoring help from Larry Ahlschwede.

Courcy Hangs On To Scoring Lead

Omaha (UPI)—Right winger Bob Courcy still leads the Omaha Knights in team scoring after 59 games. He has 33 goals and 40 assists for 73 points.

Centerman Doug Senior is second with 66 points on 28 goals and 38 assists. Tied for third spot are rookie centerman Gary Peters and veteran left winger Len Ronson. Each has 65 points.

Team Coach Bill McCreary has 21 goals and 43 assists for 64 points, while defenseman Barclay Plager has coupled 11 goals with 51 assists for 62 points.

Plager is high in off-ice time with a total of 150 minutes in the sin bin.

Defensively, the Knights have allowed 2.85 goals per game while scoring 4.34 goals per game.

Jim Maloney of the Cincinnati Reds pitched a one-hitter, a two-hitter and a three-hitter last season in posting 23 victories.

Las Vegas Antics Trim Bo's Weight

. . . BACK TO BASEBALL

Palm Springs, Calif. (AP) — Listening to entertainer Bo Belinsky talk about his recent engagement at a Las Vegas casino, you get the idea he would just as soon have spent the winter camping out at Valley Forge.

Belinsky, up every day at the crack of dusk during his punishing five-week stand in that hotbed of culture, left Las Vegas about $5,000 richer but a dozen pounds lighter.

Belinsky. a baseball pitcher as well as a stage personality, reported to the spring training base of the Los Angeles Angels looking like young John Carradine.

Thin

If he lost another five pounds, Bo could wear his wrist watch around his waist and use cigar bands for garters.

"I didn't enjoy that Vegas scene," he said. "We did three shows a night Monday through Friday and four a night Saturday and Sunday. It would be three in the morning by the time we got out, then I'd have to have dinner, and maybe shoot a little pool. It might be eight or nine in the morning when I finally got to sleep."

Belinsky appeared with comic Hank Henry. Bo wore his baseball uniform on stage.

"I'd sing a little, do a little soft shoe and twist," he said. "The money was nice. I pulled in a thousand a week. I rolled up a pile of bills when the Angels put me on the disqualified list last year for not reporting to Hawaii right away. I've paid off a lot of them."

Romance?

Belinsky, who became enamored of Miss Mamie Van Doren of the movies about this time a year ago, was asked whether he had made any new romantic connections.

"Man, I just don't want any tie-downs this year," he said. "so many people want to see me do good, I've got to try to make it.

"I wish I could win 30 games this year. I remember I said 15 and possibly 20 last year, and what happened? Three would have looked good. But I'm not going to get gun shy, I'm still going for 15.

"I've made up this proverb: 'If you ever need a helping hand, look on the end of your own arm.'"

No Refrigerator

The maker of proverbs said his is not altogether satisfied with his hotel accommodations here. His room lacks a refrigerator.

"I have this blender he said. "In Vegas I used it a lot. I'd mix eggs with orange juice and high protein powder. In the evening I'd make a health milk shake with eggs, wheat germ, protein powder and ice cream. I've still got the blender, But I don't have the place to keep the goodies."

Belinsky said he had never had to watch his weight, except when he was losing it.

"I can't soak up those calories," he said. "I just sit down and think awhile and the pounds fall off from the nervous tension."

Husker Grapplers Face Rough Card

Nebraska's wrestling team, currently 2-6 for the season in dual meets, invades the state of Iowa this weekend.

On Friday Coach Bob Mancuso's grapplers face State College of Iowa at Cedar Rapids.

On Saturday the Huskers face nationally top ranked Iowa State at Ames.

The Nebraska gymnastics team ends its home season Saturday against Kansas and the Air Force Academy.

The Huskers will participate March 13-14 in the Big Eight Meet at Ames.

Claridge Inks Pro Contract

. . . WITH GREEN BAY

By CHARLES E. WIESER
United Press International

Dandy Dennis Claridge, a 6-3, 220-pound quarterback for the University of Nebraska for the past three years, confirmed Wednesday he had signed a professional bonus contract with the Green Bay Packers.

Apparently torn between twin desires to become a dentist or to join the play-for-pay ranks, Claridge worked his way out of the predicament by mapping out plans permitting him to do both.

He said he and the Pakers had reached an agreement on this point satisfactory to the team and himself.

He would not say how much of a bonus he was paid, nor how much his contract calls for. But he said he plans to complete this semester, his second in the school of dentistry, do some school work this summer, and then join the Packers. After that he'll do the best he can to sandwich in further studies.

Will Take Longer

Claridge admitted it will take him considerably longer to realize his ambitions of becoming a dentist now that he cast his lot with the pros.

The Robbinsdale, Minn., native, who was recently married, said his bride did not object to his signing the Packer contract but that she was happy that he had made arrangements to pursue his studies.

Some weeks ago, in an interview with United Press International Claridge said he wanted to play pro ball but that he would not if it meant abandonment of his studies.

At the same time he expressed the hope that suitable arrangements could be made for both careers.

At that time he said he had been promised by Green Bay coach Vince Lombardi he would be given a crack at quarterback. If that didn't work out, he was promised a chance at halfback or flankerback, Claridge said.

Won't Object

He added that he wanted an opportunity to show his stuff at the signal calling post, but would not object to playing halfback or flankerback if the coaches decided that was where he would best fit into the Packer picture.

During his three-year Nebraska career, Claridge was a triple-threat star, although he was used sparingly as a runner. The coaches apparently felt it unwise to expose him unnecessarily to the risk of being injured while carrying the ball.

Before a national television audience on New Year's Day, Claridge proved he could sprint effectively if the opportunity presented itself. On the second play from scrimmage in the Orange Bowl against Auburn, he faked to one of his halfbacks, tucked the ball under his own arm, and outsped the Auburn defenders in a 68-yard touchdown scamper down the sideline.

Pro scouts at University of Nebraska games this year frequently expressed admiration for Claridge's brute strength when carrying the ball.

Set Pass Record

He broke Nebraska career passing records for yardage and completions and also frequently got off some tremendous punts.

The best remembered boot came last fall against Iowa State when Claridge punted from his own end zone and the ball didn't stop until it rolled into the Iowa State end zone. The ball traveled an estimated 106 yards.

While at Nebraska Claridge scored 106 points prior to the Orange Bowl game. His career yardage total was 2,357. Of these 1,733 came via the air on 125 strikes in 298 attempts.

He scored 17 touchdowns and also connected on passes for eight more.

Claridge picked up 825 yards on the ground in 236 carries and lost 244, leaving him a net of 624.

His punting average was 39.2 yards as sophomore, 36.9 as a junior, and 33.2 as a senior.

NU's Kirby Among Top 5 Vikings

By BOB MARTEL
United Press International

Minneapolis - St. Paul—The Minnesota Vikings Wednesday unveiled their five top draft signees and Coach Norm Van Brocklin promptly pronounced his new players as "the right kind to help us."

In the twin cities for a premier showing of the Viking's 1963 film were Minnesota tackle Carl Eller; Southern California end Hal Bedsole; Auburn defensive back George Rose; Nebraska linebacker John Kirby, and North Carolina split end Bob Stacey.

The Vikings lost their fourth draft choice, but Eller through Stacey represent the other top five in order.

Van Brocklin said the Vikings would open summer camp with approximately 30 rookies, the smallest number they've ever had.

"We had a good draft," Van Brocklin said. "We think we have a good crop of rookies."

Kirby, one of 11 players drafted from the Nebraska Orange Bowl championship team, said he leaned towards an American Footall League club until Van Brocklin made a personal trip to Lincoln to visit him.

"I'm a good friend of Mick Tinglehoff (Viking center)," Kirby said. "He talked with me and I guess influenced me to a great degree."

In addition to Nebraska's Orange Bowl victory over Auburn, Kirby said the Gotham Bowl game in 1962 was memorable for him.

"The only people in the stands were about 400 Boy Scouts," Kirby said. Nebraska downed Miami, 36-34, in that game.

Howard Signs For $60,000 With Yanks

Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. (AP) — Catcher Elston Howard, the American League's Most Valuable Player last season, has signed his 1964 baseball contract, the New York Yankees announced Wednesday.

Howard received a salary increase of $10,000, to $60,060. He batted .287 with 28 homers and 85 runs batted in last year.

Husker Ten Is Probably Pro Record

Nebraska's 1963 Big Eight football champions and 1964 Orange Bowl kings may have set still another record.

The disclosure Wednesday that Dennis Claridge has inked a contract with the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League brought to 10 the number of team members to sign to play in the professional ranks, a possible record.

And to show the depth present on the 1963 edition of the Cornhuskers, only six of these were on the No. 1 team. Only one, Bob Brown, was named to most All-American teams. But most were respected for their size.

Tackle Lloyd Voss was named to the All-Big Eight team. He signed with Green Bay. Brown signed with Philadelphia.

Others signing with National League clubs were tackle Bob Jones with Washington, tackle Monte Kiffin with Minnesota, guard John Kirby with Minnesota and halfback Dave Theisen with Los Angeles.

Signing with American Football League clubs were fullback Rudy Johnson with New York, halfback Willie Ross with Buffalo and fullback Gene Young with San Diego.

INJURY IS CONFIRMED

...Boxing Commission Satisfied With Report

Miami Beach, Fla. (AP) — The Miami Beach Boxing Commission announced Wednesday night that it is completely satisfied that heavyweight Sonny Liston suffered an "honest injury" in his losing title fight with Cassius Clay.

Commission Chairman Morris Klein said the promoters, William MacDonald and Chris Dundee, had been instructed to release Liston's purse. It was held up after the fight pending a report by medical examiners on the shoulder injury that caused Liston to surrender his title at the end of the sixth round.

"We are satisfied that there was no wrong-doing," Klein said, "and there is no further reason to hold up the purse."

He said the medical reports and X-rays would be turned over Thursday to State Atty. Richard Gerstein, who wants a complete report on the medical examinations.

Gerstein said he had no complaints and no evidence that the Tuesday night fight was not completely regular, but said he just wanted to have the reports studied by official doctors to determine if there was any basis for action by his office.

Klein was asked if the commission planned to look into reports that Clay received $50,000 prior to the fight from Inter-Continental Promotions, Inc., of which Liston is president and half owner.

"If we are shown any evidence that Inter-Continental owns both fighters, that's a horse of a different color," Klein said.

Up to now, he said, the commission knows nothing about it except what it reads in the papers.

Bob Nilon, a member of the Inter-Continental group, confirmed the payment. He said it gave the syndicate the right to select Clay's next opponent, the fight site and the date. One of Clay's advisors, William Faversham, said the opponent would have to be mutually acceptable to both sides.

The commission received a dozen telegrams from individuals around the nation Wednesday protesting the fight and calling it "fake," "disgrace," and an event that "set boxing back 100 years."

Klein said the eight doctors who examined Liston were satisfied with his story that he threw a left hook in the first round, heard something snap, and then lost control of his arm.

Klein said the $2,500 fine slapped on Clay after his hysterical performance at the weigh-in still stands. Such fines are donated to the Welfare Fund of Miami Beach.

The bizarre ending of the fight still had tongues wagging after the doctors' report was made public.

Gerstein had asked the boxing commission for the records of the examination made in the wee small hours Wednesday morning at St. Francis' Hospital.

Liston, carrying his left arm in a sling and wearing dark glasses that hid a patch under his left eye, returned to Convention Hall for a news conference in which he blamed his defeat on the injury.

Heavy Glove

"I felt something when I missed a punch in the first round," said the 30-year-old ex-champ. "From the first round on I fought with one hand. When I threw my left the whole glove felt like it was full of water. When I raised my arm, it felt like I had lead in my glove."

Clay, unbeaten in 20 fights and champion of the world at the tender age of 22, shucked off his clown role and behaved like a true champion at an earlier news conference. The wild-eyed man who created a disturbance at the weigh-in was subdued. He spoke so quietly that it was difficult to hear him. No cane, no "I'm the king," no "rumble man, rumble."

"People underrated me," said the former Olympic champ who has become known as the Louisville Lip. "My mouth overshadowed my ability."

"After the first round I know I had the title. I didn't know there was nothing wrong with his left hand. He was fighting back with it. In the fifth round when I couldn't see he followed me all around and threw a lot of hands."

Clay Through Talking

When a newsman asked Clay if he wasn't in a subdued mood, the new champ replied, "I'm through talking. I'm going to be a nice clean gentelman."

At one stage of the mass interview Clay said he had even thought of retiring because "I really don't like to fight. I don't like to hit and hurt people.

"I'm young. Maybe I ought to retire like Rocky Marciano. Every time he gets introduced he gets a big cheer. I made history. Maybe it's a good time to quit."

Then, almost in the next breath, he said, "My name is magic all over the world. There's never been a heavyweight in history that could dance like me. I'll fight two ranking heavyweights in the same night. Sure, I'll fight Liston again if he wants it. Let him rest up and get well. That is, if he wants a rematch."

Liston indicated strongly he would like a rematch although his personal physician, Dr. Robert Bennett of Detroit, said he would not be able to start training for at least two months.

Asked if he would quit if he didn't get the rematch, Liston said, "It's hard to say. I don't think I would. If Clay wants the rematch I'll take it. If not, I imagine I'll forget it."

Sonny Not Impressed

Liston was not impressed by Clay as a fighter and said the new champion was not as good as Zora Folley and Eddie Machen, two contenders.

Surprisingly, he added, "Clay didn't put up as good a fight as Patterson. Patterson came to win or lose. He didn't come to run and hide like he stole something.

Did Liston think Clay was scared?

"Scared as a thief," he replied.

Liston, of course, knocked out Patterson twice, each time in the first round.

"I made a mistake in the first round," said Liston. "I threw too many wild punches. I shouldn't have went out there and thrown everything in the first round. I was after a knockout from the first bell."

Liston Overruled

Liston said he wanted to continue but was overruled by his trainer, Willie Reddish, and Nilon.

"I wanted to come out anyway," Liston said. "Losing the title to me was like the day the President got shot. Willie told me to double up on my jab. I told him I couldn't use the hand. He said he was going to stop it but I said 'no.' From the first round on it pained me everytime I lifted my left arm. I was missing because I didn't have a left hand."

Stitches Needed

Six stitches were taken in a wide, deep cut under Listons' left eye. He wore a patch over that Wednesday.

Clay was unmarked, just like a man who "floats like a butterfly and stings like a bee." He could have been riding in his convertible and listening to jive on his tape recorder Tuesday night for all you could see.

The new champion was bitter about one thing—the foreign substance that got into his eyes before the fifth round and blinded him.

"You can't tell my they didn't try something. It burned my eyes and I couldn't see. I told Angie (trainer Angelo Dundee) to cut off my gloves. I didn't want to go out there just to get knocked out. I'd rather quit at the end of the fourth than have them say I made some excuse when I lost. I think he had some liniment or grease on his gloves."

Dundee said he thought Liston may have gotten something on his gloves accidentally, adding that he did not think there had been any trickery.

Financial Fiasco

The fight was a financial fiasco for promoter Bill MacDonald, the Miami sportsman who guaranteed a live gate of $625,000 and assumed promotional expenses that put his total liability at $800,000. A corwd of 8,279 paid only $402,000 to see the fight.

MacDonald, who figures to lose about $400,000, said he wanted to continue as a promoter and had been assured by both sides that he would be the promotoer of the rematch.

The closed circuit television people, Theatre Network Television, Inc., said they had a record of more than 560,000 paid and $3,320,000 in receipts. The old record was set for the first Liston-Floyd Patterson fight at Chicago, Sept. 25, 1962.

Preliminary estimates were that Liston would get over $1.3 million for the night's disappointing effort and Clay about $600,000.

THE DAY AFTER . . . Sonny Liston.

—PAUL SILAS NAMED TO THIRD SQUAD—

Gary Bradds Tops Balloting On UPI's All-America Team

New York (UPI) — Gary Bradds, the man who had to take the place of Jerry Lucas at Ohio State, fulfilled his task with distinction Wednesday when he led the voting for the 1964 United Press International All-America basketball team.

Other members of the squad, representing five geographical sections of the United States, are Walt Hazzard of unbeaten U.C.L.A., Cotton Nash of Kentucky, Bill Bradley of Princeton and Dave Stallworth of Wichita.

The All-America team was selected by the direct vote of 315 sportswriters, editors and broadcasters from all parts of the country. The voters were asked to select a first and second team.

All-around court ability and leadership qualities, as well as a record-breaking scoring proficiency, seemed necessary pre-requisites for the squad, although only Bradley and Bradds are among the nation's top 10 scorers. The team is averaging an even 27 points per man thus far and all five players own school scoring records.

In addition, Hazzard holds the career scoring mark at U.C.L.A. and Nash and Bradley should gain similar honors at their respective schools before the season is over.

Bradds, the tallest member of the team at 6-8, is the only repeater from last year's squad. Nash was on the second team in 1962 and 1963. Bradley was on the second team last year, and both Hazzard and Stallworth were selected to the 1963 third team.

Bradley is the first player from the Ivy League to make the first team since Chet Forte of Columbia in 1957. He and Stallworth are juniors while Bradds, Hazzard and Nash all are seniors.

Cazzie Russell, the amazing sophomore whose versatile abilities have helped carry Michigan back to basketball prominence, fell just short of first-team selection. Joining Russell on the second team are Jeff Mullins of Duke, Mel Counts of Oregon State, Fred Hetzel of Davidson and Ron Bonham of Cincinnati. Bonham was on the top team last year.

The third team consists of Howard Komives of Bowling Green, who currently leads the country in scoring with a 36.1 average, Bill Buntin of Michigan, Paul Silas of Creighton, Jim (Bad News) Barnes of Texas Western and Wally Jones of Villanova.

—CONTRACT STILL UNSIGNED—

So, What's New In Kansas City

Kansas City (AP) — Negotiations between the city and the Kansas City Athletics for a lease on Municipal Stadium continued late into Wednesday night and apparently snagged on a clause that would prevent owner Charles O. Finley from moving the club.

The meeting broke up at 11:30 p.m. and was scheduled to resume at 9 a.m. Thursday.

To a question whether he thought agreement could be reached Wednesday night he said "I sure think so."

Davis was asked whether the lease was written so that Finley could not move the club merely by paying off the remainder of the contract.

"That is it," the mayor replied, and the inflecton indicated that this was the only point of contention.

Still in the meeting room with three of Finley attorneys were City Manager Carleton Sharpe, City Counselor Herbert Hoffman and the City Council Baseball Committee.

Finely was in a hotel six blocks away and did not attend the session that started at 5 p.m. and recessed only once—2½ hours for dinner.

Six city secretaries stood by waiting to type minutes of the meeting.

Finley last Sunday sent Davis a telegram accepting one of the four lease proposals made by the city. Under that proposal he wold pay five per cent of admissions to the city and 7½ per cent of concession revenue.

The city would take only $50,000 a year, the remainder going to Finley as repayment on $300,000 he spent for stadium improvements. The proposal included two four-year option periods on which rent would be based on a sliding attendance scale.

Led A's Pitchers

Dave Wickersham and Orlando Pena led the Kansas City pitchers in victories last season, each getting 12.

—SOPHOMORE MAY SET RECORDS IN MILE, 1,000—

Lingle Boosts Missouri's Stock

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor
(Last of a series)

Not since Wes Santee was running loose—this was before he was grounded by the AAU—has the Big Eight had a double threat distance runner to compare with Missouri's Robin Lingle.

The Tiger sophomore is running at a pace no one is likely to match Friday and Saturday in the Big Eight indoor tract meet at Kansas City.

It is Lingle's near-certain triumphs in the 1,000-yard run and mile run that makes Missouri a strong candidate to unseat Nebraska as Big Eight indoor champion, a title the Huskers earned last spring after many years away from the throne room.

Lingle's chief competition could come from the record book as he goes after records in both the 1,000 and mile run. Certainly no Big Eight runner appears to be a threat to whip the Missouri ace at those distances.

And Lingle is well under the conference records in both events. His 4:03.2 clocking for the mile is 3.3 seconds under the Big Eight record held by Santee and his 2:06.9 in the 1,000 is well below the conference mark of 2:11.6 set by Cliff Cushman of Kansas.

Two other Big Eight milers—Tonnie Coane of Kansas and Charles Conrad of Missouri—have run the mile faster than Nebraska's Mike Fleming had to run last spring to win the indoor crown in 4:11.7.

Coane has run the eight furlongs in 4:09.7 and Conrad owns a 4:11.6 timing, both good enough to win most years but this one.

Tom Von Ruden of Oklahoma State and Herald Hadley of Kansas own the second-best times for the 1,000 with 2:12.4 clockings, times which equal last year's winning mark by Kirk Hagan of Kansas.

Conrad is the 880 leader with a 1:53.3, but is pressed by Coane and Walt Mizell of Oklahoma, both with 1:53.5 clockings. Missouri's Bill Rawson is close with a 1:53.9.

One has to go to the eighth name on the chart of the two-mile to find someone not from Kansas or Missouri.

Kansas, where they apparently pick two-milers off the trees or find them buried beneath fence posts on the north 40, holds down the first five places in the long event.

Bill Silverberg is the leader in the Jayhawk special with a 9:05.0 and only teammate Herald Hadley is within six seconds of him.

Hadley, the defending champion, needed only a 9:25.2 to win the event a year ago. The closest non-Kansan to the Jayhawk exclusive club here is Roy Bryant with a 9:29.5, 3.5 seconds below the No. 5 Kansan.

Nebraska's Gil Gebo manages to break the Missouri-Kansas domination of the longer races with the slim Husker runner posting the top time on the 600-yard chart.

Gebo owns a pre-meet best of 1:11.3, only two-tenths of a second over the Big Eight record held by Greg Pelster of Missouri.

Pelster won the event the last two years and set the record two years ago. His winning time last season was 1:13.2. Six runners have bettered that time this season.

Gebo's closest competitor is Dave Perry of Oklahoma State with a 1:11.7. Others under the winning time of last year are Bill Selde (1:12.4) of Kansas State, Bill Rawson (1:12.5) of Missouri, Lowell Paul (1:12.8) and Bill Saul (1:13.0), both of—yep, you guessed it—Kansas.

Dodgers Get Drysdale's Name On 1964 Pact

Los Angeles (AP)—Don Drysdale signed a contract with the Los Angeles Dodgers Wednesday and reportedly became the highest paid player in club history.

A club spokesman said Drysdale received a $25,000 increase over his 1963 salary of $45,000.

Catchers Left Out

Twenty-four players were named in the National League's most valuable player poll but not one catcher drew recognition from the 20 writers who voted.

Pawnee City Gets Victory

. . . 3 OVERTIMES NEEDED

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Johnson—Pawnee City outlasted Dawson-Verdon, 71-69, in a triple overtime thriller and Tecumseh defeated Falls City Sacred Heart 64-56 Wednesday night to set up a fourth meeting of the two Southeast Conference foes in the championship here Friday night.

Pawnee City twice overcame nine-point deficits to nip stubborn Dawson-Verdon when Joel Parks followed up an errant shot by Barry Kennedy with one second remaining in the third extra period.

The winners fell behind 9-0 at the outset and managed to knot the count 19-19 at the first quarter stop before Dawson-Verdon took control again. The Jets led 38-31 at halftime and stretched their margin to 51-42 after three quarters before Chuch Hall fired a Pawnee City rally that sent the game into overtime at 55-55.

Dawson-Verdon got 14 of its last 16 points from Leon Portrey who finished with 26 and almost single-handedly gave the Jets an overtime win. But Parks' late basket stopped the Dawson-Verdon bid.

Tecumseh, seeking a fourth straight trip to the state tourney jumped to a quick lead on the hot shooting of Chuck Lacey. Lacey had 21 of his 30 points at the half as the winners led 39-29. They maintained their margin in a ragged second half and moved into the final game.

Falls City Sacred Heart was paced by an 18-point effort from Richard Gibson and a 16-point night from Allen Pokorny, but the Irish could never cut the gap after falling behind 10 points in the first quarter.

Tecumseh has won two of the three previous meetings with Pawnee City.

Lewiston, St. Joseph To Finals

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Odell —Top-seeded St. Joseph of Beatrice strongly hinted itself worthy, while upsetbent Lewiston earned the role of challenger for the Class D district finals this Friday night.

Coach Dennis Swenson's Ravens outhustled Holmesville, 76-60, in the semifinals, Lewiston likewise having little difficulty with Filley. Though third-ranked in the tourney, Filley fell by 67-51.

Now sporting a 12-6 record, undersized St. Joe again proved itself handy at both breakaway and outside shots. A strong surge brought 29 points in the third quarter that gave the first comfortable spread. The Ravens had managed only a 26-21 halftime frontage.

A David-size dazzler for St. Joe was 5-7 Tom Hawkins, a 21-pointer on a well-sprinkled scorecard. Ken Timke rolled in 14 to top Holmesville.

It was similarly a blistering 24-point third quarter that turned the trick for Lewiston. Filley meanwhile tallying 7 and blowing a two-bucket halftime lead. The seniorless Tigers then teamed ball-stealing with a steady eye to stay in front.

Balance keynoted coach Willie Fitzpatrick's anxious young'uns, his five starters sharing the spoils equally. Juniors Eugene Searcey and Roger Tegtmeier each notched 16, the three sophomores sharing 32 among them.

Filley, third-seeded with a 10-7 record, moved its best in the second canto. The Wildcats ran up 15 while holding Lewiston to 8.

Rudolph Clay Admits Black Muslim Ties

Chicago (AP)—Rudolph Valentino Clay, younger boxing brother of new heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, arrived from Miami Wednesday laden with gifts he said were for his fiance.

Clay, 20, said under questioning he was a member of the Black Muslims, who are opening a national convention in Chicago.

Young Clay said he might attend the Muslim convention. He said he had attended previous meetings.

Asked if Cassius was a member of the Muslims, Rudolph replied:

"I don't know, why don't you consult him?"

Rudolph, 193, made his professional debut on the same card on which his brother dethroned Sonny Liston. Rudolph won a four-round heavyweight preliminary bout over Chip Johnson.

Two Die While Looking At TV

Louisville, Ky., (AP) —Two men suffered fatal heart attacks while watching a closed circuit telecast of the Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston heavyweight title fight Tuesday night.

One of the victims was Charles Ziegler, 80, a brother-in-law of Marvin Hart, Louisville's first world heavyweight boxing champion.

Ziegler's sister was married to Hart, who won the title in 1905 by knocking out Jack Root in the 12th round at Reno, Nev. He lost the title a year later to Tommy Burns. Hart died in 1931.

Reports State Kuharich Gets Coaching Job

Philadelphia (AP) — Owner Jerry Wolman will hand the job of coaching the Philadelphia Eagles back to National Football League respectability to veteran pro Joe Kuharich, The Associated Press learned Wednesday.

Wolman, who fired head Coach Nick Skorich Jan. 21, the day his $5.5 million purchase of the Eagles was approved by the league and the other club owners, is expected to announce appointment of the 46-year-old Kuharich at a news conference Thursday.

Contacted at his office in Silver Springs, Md., the building contractor neither would confirm nor deny the report.

Kuharich, former Washington Redskins and Notre Dame coach now an asistant to NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle, was unavailable for comment. He is supervisor of officials.

Houston pitchers allowed the fewest walks (378) in the major leagues last season.

Ex-Missouri Diamond Star Holding Out

Tucson, Ariz. (AP) — Five players are expected to be absent Thursday when the Cleveland Indians officially begin their 1964 spring training.

They are infielder Mike de la Hoz, pitchers Don McMahon and Sonny Siebert, and outfielders Al Luplow and Tito Francona.

Only the latter two will be missing with permission. The others haven't signed their contracts and, although they're not considered holdouts until March 1, Gabe Paul, Indians' president and general manager, isn't quite sure where they stand.

"I don't think that de la Hoz or McMahon will be difficult once they get here, but I'm afraid I can't say the same about Siebert," said Paul. "He wants a raise, and I just can't give it to him on the strength of that record."

A rookie right-hander, Siebert was only 4-10 with the Tribe's Jacksonville farm team last year.

Siebert was a first baseman at Missouri during his collegiate days but was converted to the pitching mound after signing with the Indians.

Officer's 2-Pointer Brings 88-86 Win

. . . CREIGHTON RALLIES TO NIP NYU

New York (AP) — A jump shot by Chuck Officer with one second left climaxed a rally by Creighton Wednesday night and gave the Bluejays an 88-86 victory over New York University in the second game of a college doubleheader before 5,769 in Madison Square Garden.

St. Peter's College of Jersey City, N.J., rallied to beat Fairfield University 90-88 in the first game.

Officer led the Creighton rally after NYU had taken a 79-68 lead with 5:30 remaining. Shooting nine-for-nine in the second half, he produced five of his baskets down the stretch and wound up with 21 points.

Creighton's Fritz Pointer had 22 and Paul Silas scored 20. Silas also had 22 rebounds.

NYU's Harold Hairston scored 24 and Barry Kramer hit 20.

Creighton now has a 20-5 record and NYU 13-6.

Essink's Late Shot Boosts Firth, 48-46

. . . CLASS D DISTRICT FINAL

By HAL FOSTER
Star Sports Writer

Forward Dave Essink tossed in an off-balance, desperation jump shot at the final buzzer to give Firth a 48-46 victory over Hickman and the district championship at Pius X gym Wednesday.

The win upped Coach James Wright's record to 15-3 for the season and 29-8 for the last two years, and netted his Tigers their first trip to the Class D regionals since 1956.

Firth jumped into the early lead despite a full-court press by Hickman, and enjoyed its largest advantage of the night in the first quarter, when hard-charging guard Dave Kats weaved through a Bulldog zone for a lay-up to make it 12-5 with 2:55 left.

Coming back from intermission on the short end of a 25-20 count, Hickman outscored the Wildcats, 9-3, in the first four and a half minutes of the third quarter to take their first lead, 29-28, with 3:39 remaining.

Every member of the Hickman squad scored once in the rally, which was aided by two Firth miscues, a three second violation and a pass out of bounds.

Kats meshed a short jumper to push Firth ahead 30-29, but two buckets by Dennis Steenson and a basket and free throw by Roland Church kept Hickman ahead until lanky Bill Doeschot hit a jumper to tie it up, 36-36, with :27 left.

The third stanza ended there, and the lead switched hands four times before Hickman tied it at 46-46 on a charity toss by Church, at 2:51 in the fourth at which point the Bulldogs decided to stall. Hickman lost the ball on a double dribble error with 1:17 left and it was Firths' turn to play keep-away.

The Wildcats played the ball in from out of bounds with eight seconds left, and forward Jim Liesveld took a shot. The ball bounded off the back rim, and Essink grabbed it, turned toward the bucket, and let fly while falling sidewards.

Doeschot, Lauren Wismer and Essink led the balanced Wildcat attack with 11, 11 and ten points, respectively. Church with 13, Steenson with 10, and Dwayne Burianek with 11 led the Bulldogs.

Nebraska City is matched with Fairbury in the first game.

The finals will be Saturday at 8 p.m.

Gymnasts Meet 2 Foes

Nebraska's gymnastics team will meet Air Force and Kansas at the Men's Physical Education Building Saturday at 2 p.m.

Coach Jerre Geier's club has an 8-1 dual record and recently copped the Midwest Championships at Minneapolis.

Frosh Report Monday

University of Nebraska freshman baseball players were asked Wednesday to report to coach Tony Sharpe at the Field House Monday at 4:30 p.m.

Huskers Face 3 Road Frays

Three tough games on the road wind up the basketball season for Nebraska's Cornail and 5-6 in the conference.

On Saturday Nebraska meets Oklahoma State in Stillwater and then moves to Norman to face Oklahoma on Monday. The following Saturday the Huskers end their season at Colorado.

"We've looked just as good on the road as we have at home against the teams we've played," said Coach Joe Cipriano.

"We feel that with a top effort we can bounce back."

Nebraska lost to Kansas 64-55 Monday after edging Iowa State 57-55 on Saturday.

"We weren't in the right frame of mind against Kansas," said Cipriano, "and their top defensive effort slowed down our offense."

On Nebraska's home court earlier, the Husker beat Oklahoma State 54-53 and knocked off Oklahoma 76-69.

Charlie Jones leads the Nebraska team in scoring (274 or 12.5 per game), rebounding (157) and field goal percentage (.442).

Harold Cebrun ranks second in scoring with 213 points and a 10.7 average.

Beaver Crossing Romps By 44-15

. . . GARLAND ALSO ADVANCES

Seward — Benedict's attempt to derail Beaver Crossing with a stalling maneuver met with the same fate most tactics have this year and the Beavers rolled to a 44-15 victory Wednesday night in the Class D District tourney.

Beaver Crossing will play Garland, which rode the 30-point outburst of Gene Mayfield to a 71-56 win over Fairmont, for the tournament championship and a playoff berth tonight. Game time is 8 p.m.

Benedict surrendered the first bucket of the game to Beaver Crossing, Nebraska's fifth-ranked D club with a 20-1 record, and never led.

Benedict went into a weave near midcourt, but all that accomplished was to get Beaver Crossing out of a zone defense. That didn't help.

By the quarter it was 9-4 Beaver Crossing and Benedict suffered the embarrassment of drawing a blank from the field in the second quarter.

Beaver Crossing, in pushing Benedict to the sidelines with a 7-11 record, received balanced scoring from Mike Heser, Larry Stutzman and Bob White.

In the opener Garland stayed in the game until the final six minutes when Mayfield's shooting began to take its toll. It was 52-46 with 6:28 to play, but Garland began to pull away.

Fairmont stayed in the game as long as it did on the outside shooting of Frank Adams in the first half and Bob Bettger in the second half. The latter paced the Tigers in scoring with 17. Adams had 15 for the Tigers who finish with a 4-15 record.

Garland, which will take a 14-6 record into the title fray, got scoring help from Larry Ahlschwede.

Garland	15	18	17	21—71
Fairmont	17	9	15	16—56

Garland—Ahlschwede 19, Roth 5, Mayfield 30, Metzger 10, Krieser 7.
Fairmont—Schepers 6, West 10, F. Adams 15, Bettger 17, Block 2, Opfer 1.

Benedict	4	9	2	4—15
Beaver Crossing	9	6	11	18—44

Benedict—Myers 5, Roger Hirschfeld 3, Watson 2, Lytle 3.
Beaver Crossing—Bluhm 4, Stutzman 11, Heser 14, White 11, Eberspacher 4.

Record For Miller

Stu Miller of the Baltimore Orioles set an American League record last season by appearing in 71 games. He had a 5-8 record but was credited with 26 saves.

Courcy Hangs On To Scoring Lead

Omaha (UPI)—Right winger Bob Courcy still leads the Omaha Knights in team scoring after 59 games. He has 33 goals and 40 assists for 73 points.

Centerman Doug Senior is second with 66 points on 28 goals and 38 assists. Tied for third spot are rookie centerman Gary Peters and veteran left winger Len Ronson. Each has 65 points.

Team Coach Bill McCreary has 21 goals and 43 assists for 64 points, while defenseman Barclay Plager has coupled 11 goals with 51 assists for 62 points.

Plager is high in off-ice time with a total of 150 minutes in the sin bin.

Defensively, the Knights have allowed 2.85 goals per game while scoring 4.34 goals per game.

On Saturday the Huskers face nationally top ranked Iowa State at Ames.

The Nebraska gymnastics team ends its home season Saturday against Kansas and the Air Force Academy.

The Huskers will participate March 13-14 in the Big Eight Meet at Ames.

Las Vegas Antics Trim Bo's Weight

. . . BACK TO BASEBALL

Palm Springs, Calif. (AP) — Listening to entertainer Bo Belinsky talk about his recent engagement at a Las Vegas casino, you get the idea he would just as soon have spent the winter camping out at Valley Forge.

Belinsky, up every day at the crack of dusk during his punishing five-week stand in that hotbed of culture, left Las Vegas about $5,000 richer but a dozen pounds lighter.

Belinsky, a baseball pitcher as well as a stage personality, reported to the spring training base of the Los Angeles Angels looking like young John Carradine.

Thin

If he lost another five pounds, Bo could wear his wrist watch around his waist and use cigar bands for garters.

"I didn't enjoy that Vegas scene," he said. "We did three shows a night Monday through Friday and four a night Saturday and Sunday. It would be three in the morning by the time we got out, then I'd have to have dinner, and maybe shoot a little pool. It might be eight or nine in the morning when I finally got to sleep."

Belinsky appeared with comic Hank Henry. Bo wore his baseball uniform on stage.

"I'd sing a little, do a little soft shoe and twist," he said. "The money was nice. I pulled in a thousand a week. I rolled up a pile of bills when the Angels put me on the disqualified list last year for not reporting to Hawaii right away. I've paid off a lot of them."

Romance?

Belinsky, who became enamored of Miss Mamie Van Doren of the movies about this time a year ago, was asked whether he had made any new romantic connections.

"Man, I just don't want any tie-downs this year," he said. "so many people want to see me do good, I've got to try to make it.

"I wish I could win 30 games this year. I remember I said 15 and possibly 20 last year, and what happened? Three would have looked good. But I'm not going to get gun shy, I'm still going for 15.

"I've made up this proverb: 'If you ever need a helping hand, look on the end of your own arm.'"

No Refrigerator

The maker of proverbs said his is not altogether satisfied with his hotel accommodations here. His room lacks a refrigerator.

"I have this blender he said. "In Vegas I used it a lot. I'd mix eggs with orange juice and high protein powder. In the evening I'd make a health milk shake with eggs, wheat germ, protein powder and ice cream. I've still got the blender, But I don't have the place to keep the goodies."

Belinsky said he had never had to watch his weight, except when he was losing it.

"I can't soak up those calories," he said. "I just sit down and think awhile and the pounds fall off from the nervous tension."

Former Nazi Claims 3 Prominent Physicians Made Death Decisions

Limburg, Germany (UPI)—A former Nazi official accused of directing Adolf Hitler's mass "mercy killing" program Wednesday named three prominent physicians still practicing in West Germany as the men who actually decided who would live and who would die.

Dr. Hans Hefelmann, on trial before a West German court in the deaths of 73,000 persons during the Nazi "racial purification" campaign, insisted:

"I had only limited decision-making powers."

He said the three physicians—now practicing in Kiel, Wunstorf and Hannoversch-Muenden—chose the victims from forms sent to his office in Hitler's chancellory by doctors and midwives across Germany.

Judge Karl Dick of Hannover told newsmen that the three doctors will be investigated immediately. We won't wait for the end of the trial," he said.

Hefelmann testified that midwives and doctors deluged him with reports of mentally and physically handicapped infants and adults as possible "mercy death" victims.

"We had so many reports we had to throw out the majority from the start—cases not suited for mercy death," Hefelmann said. He defined such cases as harelips, cleft palates and even "a deformed finger."

The 58-year-old defendant said his office relayed the "more legitimate cases" to the three doctors for decision. The forms would be returned, he said, bearing either a blue or a red letter x.

The blue line meant the person was to be examined for possible "mercy" killing. The red X meant no examination was necessary, that death had been ordered,

His hands twitching nervously, Hefelmann said doctors volunteered to "put the babies to sleep." He said no one "forced" them.

Accounting Procedures Progress Report Set

The Legislative Council Executive Board Wednesday set 3 p.m. March 10 as the date it will hear another progress report on the state accounting procedures study being conducted by the firm of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co.

Sen. Harold Stryker of Rising City, chairman of the board, said the Budget Committee and State Tax Commissioner's office will be invited to attend the meeting.

Hoffa's Defense Concludes, Aims To Bury Federal Case

Chattanooga, Tenn. (UPI)—The defense formally concluded its testimony Wednesday in James R. Hoffa's jury tampering trial and then quickly geared for another battle that could scuttle the government's entire case.

The pending fight involves a defense motion to strike the testimony of Edward Partin, the government's star witness who directly linked the Teamster leader with the alleged jury rigging attempts.

Attorneys for the defense tried during the course of the trial to have Partin's testimony deleted, contending that Partin, a Teamster official from Louisiana, had perjured himself at least once while testifying against his leader.

Judge Frank Wilson refused to hear arguments on the motion while the trial was in progress, but promised to do so before the case goes to the jury—likely on Friday or Saturday.

The last defense witness was William Bufalino, a Detroit Lawyer and Hoffa associate. Bufaliino, who recalled that he and Hoffa "walked the picket lines together," was called in an attempt to rebuff the testimony of Partin, who has said he heard Hoffa discuss the jury rigging.

The defense contends that Partin committed perjury by denying that he recorded a telephone conversation he had with Hoffa prior to the Nashville trial.

The government has argued that he did not directly deny that question, and that it would not constitute grounds for suppression of evidence.

The defense, which called about 50 witnesses, tried to discredit Partin's testimony through numerous attacks on his character.

Bufalino denied several statements made by Partin about Hoffa's activities during the Nashville trial.

Pawnee City Gets Victory

. . . 3 OVERTIMES NEEDED

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Johnson—Pawnee City outlasted Dawson-Verdon, 71-69, in a triple overtime thriller and Tecumseh defeated Falls City Sacred Heart 64-56 Wednesday night to set up a fourth meeting of the two Southeast Conference foes in the championship here Friday night.

Pawnee City twice overcame nine-point deficits to nip stubborn Dawson-Verdon when Joel Parks followed up an errant shot by Barry Kennedy with one second remaining in the third extra period. The winners fell behind 9-0 at the outset and managed to knot the count 19-19 at the first quarter stop before Dawson-Verdon took control again. The Jets led 38-31 at halftime and stretched their margin to 51-42 after three quarters before Chuch Hall fired a Pawnee City rally that sent the game into overtime at 55-55.

Dawson-Verdon got 14 of its last 16 points from Leon Portrey who finished with 26 and almost single-handedly gave the Jets an overtime win. But Parks' late basket stopped the Dawson-Verdon bid.

Tecumseh, seeking a fourth straight trip to the state tourney jumped to a quick lead on the hot shooting of Chuck Lacey. Lacey had 21 of his 30 points at the half as the winners led 39-29. They maintained their margin in a ragged second half and moved into the final game.

Falls City Sacred Heart was paced by an 18-point effort from Richard Gibson and a 16-point night from Allen Pokorny, but the Irish could never cut the gap after falling behind 10 points in the first quarter.

Tecumseh has won two of the three previous meetings with Pawnee City.

Lewiston, St. Joseph To Finals

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Odell —Top-seeded St. Joseph of Beatrice strongly hinted itself worthy, while upsetbent Lewiston earned the role of challenger for the Class D district finals this Friday night.

Coach Dennis Swenson's Ravens outhustled Holmesville, 76-60, in the semifinals, Lewiston likewise having little difficulty with Filley. Though third-ranked in the tourney, Filley fell by 67-51.

Now sporting a 12-6 record, undersized St. Joe again proved itself handy at both breakaway and outside shots. A strong surge brought 29 points in the third quarter that gave the first comfortable spread. The Ravens had managed only a 26-21 halftime frontage.

A David-size dazzler for St. Joe was 5-7 Tom Hawkins, a 21-pointer on a well-sprinkled scorecard. Ken Timke rolled in 14 to top Holmesville.

It was similarly a blistering 24-point third quarter that turned the trick for Lewiston. Filley meanwhile tallying 7 and blowing a two-bucket halftime lead. The seniorless Tigers then teamed ball-stealing with a steady eye to stay in front.

Balance keynoted coach Willie Fitzpatrick's anxious young'uns, his five starters sharing the spoils equally. Juniors Eugene Searcey and Roger Tegtmeier each notched 16, the three sophomores sharing 32 among them.

Filley, third-seeded with a 10-7 record, moved its best in the second canto. The Wildcats ran up 15 while holding Lewiston to 8.

Rudolph Clay Admits Black Muslim Ties

Chicago (AP)—Rudolph Valentino Clay, younger boxing brother of new heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, arrived from Miami Wednesday laden with gifts he said were for his fiance.

Clay, 20, said under questioning he was a member of the Black Muslims, who are opening a national convention in Chicago.

Young Clay said he might attend the Muslim convention. He said he had attended previous meetings.

Asked if Cassius was a member of the Muslims, Rudolph replied:

"I don't know, why don't you consult him?"

Rudolph, 193, made his professional debut on the same card on which his brother dethroned Sonny Liston. Rudolph won a four-round heavyweight preliminary bout over Chip Johnson.

Two Die While Looking At TV

Louisville, Ky., (AP) —Two men suffered fatal heart attacks while watching a closed circuit telecast of the Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston heavyweight title fight Tuesday night.

One of the victims was Charles Ziegler, 80, a brother-in-law of Marvin Hart, Louisville's first world heavyweight boxing champion.

Ziegler's sister was married to Hart, who won the title in 1905 by knocking out Jack Root in the 12th round at Reno, Nev. He lost the title a year later to Tommy Burns. Hart died in 1931.

Reports State Kuharich Gets Coaching Job

Philadelphia (AP) — Owner Jerry Wolman will hand the job of coaching the Philadelphia Eagles back to National Football League respectability to veteran pro Joe Kuharich, The Associated Press learned Wednesday.

Wolman, who fired head Coach Nick Skorich Jan. 21, the day his $5.5 million purchase of the Eagles was approved by the league and the other club owners, is expected to announce appointment of the 46-year-old Kuharich at a news conference Thursday.

Contacted at his office in Silver Springs, Md., the building contractor neither would confirm nor deny the report.

Kuharich, former Washington Redskins and Notre Dame coach now an asistant to NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle, was unavailable for comment. He is supervisor of officials.

Kept Control

Houston pitchers allowed the fewest walks (378) in the major leagues last season.

Ex-Missouri Diamond Star Holding Out

Tucson, Ariz. (AP) — Five players are expected to be absent Thursday when the Cleveland Indians officially begin their 1964 spring training.

They are infielder Mike de la Hoz, pitchers Don McMahon and Sonny Siebert, and outfielders Al Luplow and Tito Francona.

Only the latter two will be missing with permission. The others haven't signed their contracts and, although they're not considered holdouts until March 1, Gabe Paul, Indians' president and general manager, isn't quite sure where they stand.

"I don't think that de la Hoz or McMahon will be difficult once they get here, but I'm afraid I can't say the same about Siebert," said Paul. "He wants a raise, and I just can't give it to him on the strength of that record."

A rookie right-hander, Siebert was only 4-10 with the Tribe's Jacksonville farm team last year.

Siebert was a first baseman at Missouri during his collegiate days but was converted to the pitching mound after signing with the Indians.

Former Nazi Claims 3 Prominent Physicians Made Death Decisions

Limburg, Germany (UPI)—A former Nazi official accused of directing Adolf Hitler's mass "mercy killing" program Wednesday named three prominent physicians still practicing in West Germany as the men who actually decided who would live and who would die.

Dr. Hans Hefelmann, on trial before a West German court in the deaths of 73,000 persons during the Nazi "racial purification" campaign, insisted:

"I had only limited decision-making powers."

He said the three physicians—now practicing in Kiel, Wunstorf and Hannoversch-Muenden—chose the victims from forms sent to his office in Hitler's chancellory by doctors and midwives across Germany.

Judge Karl Dick of Hannover told newsmen that the three doctors will be investigated immediately. We won't wait for the end of the trial," he said.

Hefelmann testified that midwives and doctors deluged him with reports of mentally and physically handicapped infants and adults as possible "mercy death" victims.

"We had so many reports we had to throw out the majority from the start—cases not suited for mercy death," Hefelmann said. He defined such cases as harelips, cleft palates and even "a deformed finger."

The 58-year-old defendant said his office relayed the "more legitimate cases" to the three doctors for decision. The forms would be returned, he said, bearing either a blue or a red letter x.

The blue line meant the person was to be examined for possible "mercy" killing. The red X meant no examination was necessary, that death had been ordered.

His hands twitching nervously, Hefelmann said doctors volunteered to "put the babies to sleep." He said no one "forced" them.

Accounting Procedures Progress Report Set

The Legislative Council Executive Board Wednesday set 3 p.m. March 10 as the date it will hear another progress report on the state accounting procedures study being conducted by the firm of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co.

Sen. Harold Stryker of Rising City, chairman of the board, said the Budget Committee and State Tax Commissioner's office will be invited to attend the meeting.

Hoffa's Defense Concludes, Aims To Bury Federal Case

Chattanooga, Tenn. (UPI)—The defense formally concluded its testimony Wednesday in James R. Hoffa's jury tampering trial and then quickly geared for another battle that could scuttle the government's entire case.

The pending fight involves a defense motion to strike the testimony of Edward Partin, the government's star witness who directly linked the Teamster leader with the alleged jury rigging attempts.

Attorneys for the defense tried during the course of the trial to have Partin's testimony deleted, contending that Partin, a Teamster official from Louisiana, had perjured himself at least once while testifying against his leader.

Judge Frank Wilson refused to hear arguments on the motion while the trial was in progress, but promised to do so before the case goes to the jury—likely on Friday or Saturday.

The last defense witness was William Bufalino, a Detroit Lawyer and Hoffa associate. Bufallino, who recalled that he and Hoffa "walked the picket lines together," was called in an attempt to rebuff the testimony of Partin, who has said he heard Hoffa discuss the jury rigging.

The defense contends that Partin committed perjury by denying that he recorded a telephone conversation he had with Hoffa prior to the Nashville trial.

The government has argued that he did not directly deny that question, and that it would not constitute grounds for suppression of evidence.

The defense, which called about 50 witnesses, tried to discredit Partin's testimony through numerous attacks on his character.

Bufalino denied several statements made by Partin about Hoffa's activities during the Nashville trial.

Barry Keenan Planned Sinatra Kidnap As 'Perfect Crime'

Los Angeles (AP) — A shock-packed letter from defendant Barry Keenan — describing plans for "a perfect crime," a kidnaping that would enable him to become a millionaire — was read Wednesday at the Frank Sinatra Jr. kidnaping trial.

Then the government read into evidence a statement to the FBI by defendant John Irwin which quoted him as saying that Keenan asked him to participate in the kidnap, and he at first said no —"I told him there was no such thing as the perfect crime."

Irwin's statement continued: Keenan called him Dec. 9, the day after the abduction, said he had young Sinatra in custody, and offered Irwin $30,000 to join in.

"I was afraid some harm would come to Frank Sinatra Jr. . . . I said if I'm going to get in, I want $50,000. Barry agreed."

Keenan and Joseph Clyde Amsler, both 23, and Irwin, 42, are charged with kidnaping young Sinatra at Lake Tahoe Dec. 8 and ransoming him for $240,000.

Courtroom Hushed

Keenan's letter was read by Asst. U.S. Atty. Thomas R. Sheridan to a stilled courtroom. Sheridan said it was found in a safety deposit box shared by Keenan and a friend, rock 'n' roll singer Dean Torrence.

Long and rambling, it was dated Oct. 24, 1963, and spoke of plans for a major crime that would net about $100,000, saying at one point: "Kidnaping seemed to offer the least risk for the money, so I set to work planning a perfect crime. Naturally if you are reading this, the crime was unperfect."

Some highlights of Keenan's letter:

"My parents and loved ones:

"If you read this letter, I am either dead or under arrest for felony kidnaping. If I am convicted, you must consider me as being dead, as I will be in prison for at least 10 years.

Money 'Important'

"Why? As you all know, money has always been of utmost importance to me . . .

"(I) realize that it must be done. If I am sent up the river, I hope to be able to use the time to gain knowledge about life and other things that will enable me to be a useful American citizen, if and when I get out.

"If the Communists are here, then I'll stay in prison. I also might learn to type without making mistakes. . .

Irwin's FBI statement included a reference to his meeting Keenan and his mother in La Paz, Mexico, in 1958, and dating the mother for six months thereafter.

One witness testified Wednesday that Keenan paid him $500 for two days rental of a modest bachelor apartment.

"Barry Keenan also gave me $40 for unloading his suitcases from my car," testified Roger Dier, 24.

Senate Votes To Keep Rights Bill On Calendar

Washington (AP)— The Senate voted 54 to 37 Wednesday to keep the House-passed omnibus civil rights bill on the Senate calendar and ready for further action.

The vote was a victory for the strategy of the Democratic leadership in dealing with the hotly controversial legislation.

Nebraska's Republican senators, Roman Hruska, and Carl Curtis voted with the majority.

The roll call came on a motion of majority leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., to table and thus kill an appeal of Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., from a presiding officer's ruling that the measure must remain on the calendar.

Point Of Order

Russell, leader of Southern forces heavily opposed to the bill, had made the point of order that the measure must go to committee.

But Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont., presiding at the time, rejected the point of order.

Russell then was able to win a recorded test on the matter by making his appeal.

Immediately after the vote, Mansfield asked unanimous consent to send the bill to the Senate Judiciary Committee with instructions to report it back to the Senate not later than March 4.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., objected.

Mansfield explained that he thought there had been some legitimate argument that brief committee hearings should be held.

'Precipitous'

There were some indications that Mansfield might renew his request later. Javits said he thought the request was "precipitous" and that members ought to have more time to study the situation.

Mansfield had announced earlier that, if the bill were kept on the calendar, he would hold it in abeyance temporarily while he tries to put through a $17-billion military procurement bill and a wheat-cotton measure.

This would mean that civil rights probably not be brought up before the middle of next week.

U.S. Archaeologists Digging In 5,000-Year-Old Lost City

Jerusalem, Jordan Sector (AP)—The bejeweled skeleton of a woman lay in the richest tomb ever found in Jordan. Ashes from fires that cooked meals 800 years before Christ still were piled in ovens. Grains of wheat were preserved in storage bins.

American archaeologists reported these findings Wednesday while digging in the ruins of a 5,000-year-old lost city in the Jordan River valley.

Bronze vessels unearthed from the ruins, they said, may be the first ever found of the type used in King Solomon's great temple.

The 12-man team is headed by Dr. James B. Pritchard of the University of Pennsylvania. The team is excavating at Sa'id Iyeh, 70 miles northeast of Jerusalem.

Pritchard's archaeologists have found a 24-foot thick wall, about half a mile long, running around the Iron Age city, and a spectacular camouflaged stone stairway for use in time of war.

The city has been deserted since about 800 B.C., Pritchard said.

Beneath the ruins of the settlement, which Pritchard said revealed a technological culture more advanced than that of Jerusalem itself, Arab diggers unearthed floors from the Early Bronze Age of 50 centuries ago. Even earlier cities may be buried deeper, he said.

The mound of ruins, more than 700 feet below sea level, may be the old testament city of Zarethan.

In the tomb of a woman who, Pritchard said, may have been a queen, workers found 650 orange carnelian beads, 72 gold beads, four ivory boxes and a set of silver pins and breastplates.

Barry Keenan Planned Sinatra Kidnap As 'Perfect Crime'

Los Angeles (AP) — A shock-packed letter from defendant Barry Keenan — describing plans for "a perfect crime," a kidnaping that would enable him to become a millionaire — was read Wednesday at the Frank Sinatra Jr. kidnaping trial.

Then the government read into evidence a statement to the FBI by defendant John Irwin which quoted him as saying that Keenan asked him to participate in the kidnap, and he at first said no —"I told him there was no such thing as the perfect crime."

Irwin's statement continued: Keenan called him Dec. 9, the day after the abduction, said he had young Sinatra in custody, and offered Irwin $30,000 to join in.

"I was afraid some harm would come to Frank Sinatra Jr. . . . I said if I'm going to get in, I want $50,000. Barry agreed."

Keenan and Joseph Clyde Amsler, both 23, and Irwin, 42, are charged with kidnaping young Sinatra at Lake Tahoe Dec. 8 and ransoming him for $240,000.

Courtroom Hushed

Keenan's letter was read by Asst. U.S. Atty. Thomas R. Sheridan to a stilled courtroom. Sheridan said it was found in a safety deposit box shared by Keenan and a friend, rock 'n' roll singer Dean Torrence.

Long and rambling, it was dated Oct. 24, 1963, and spoke of plans for a major crime that would net about $100,000, saying at one point: "Kidnaping seemed to offer the least risk for the money, so I set to work planning a perfect crime. Naturally if you are reading this, the crime was unperfect."

Some highlights of Keenan's letter:

"My parents and loved ones:

"If you read this letter, I am either dead or under arrest for felony kidnaping. If I am convicted, you must consider me as being dead, as I will be in prison for at least 10 years.

Money 'Important'

"Why? As you all know, money has always been of utmost importance to me . . .

"(I) realize that it must be done. If I am sent up the river, I hope to be able to use the time to gain knowledge about life and other things that will enable me to be a useful American citizen, if and when I get out.

"If the Communists are here, then I'll stay in prison. I also might learn to type without making mistakes. . .

Irwin's FBI statement included a reference to his meeting Keenan and his mother in La Paz, Mexico, in 1958, and dating the mother for six months thereafter.

One witness testified Wednesday that Keenan paid him $500 for two days rental of a modest bachelor apartment.

"Barry Keenan also gave me $40 for unloading his suitcases from my car," testified Roger Dier, 24.

Senate Votes To Keep Rights Bill On Calendar

Washington (AP)— The Senate voted 54 to 37 Wednesday to keep the House-passed omnibus civil rights bill on the Senate calendar and ready for further action.

The vote was a victory for the strategy of the Democratic leadership in dealing with the hotly controversial legislation.

Nebraska's Republican senators, Roman Hruska, and Carl Curtis voted with the majority.

Hilsman Resignation Raises Speculation About Shakeup

Washington (AP)—The resignation of Asst. Secretary of State Roger Hilsman raised speculation Wednesday about possible further shakeup in the political-military high command directing the costly—and lagging—war against communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

Hilsman's decision followed disclosure that responsibility for the direction of U.S. policy in Viet Nam had been taken from his Office of Far Eastern Affairs and put into the hands of a newly created, high-level task force directly under Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

President Johnson, accepting Hilsman's resignation, praised his "courage and dedication" in government service. Hilsman said he wanted to return to university teaching as soon as possible. He declared there was no policy dispute involved in his decision to step down.

Evidence Adds Up

Nevertheless events of the last few days added up to evidence of determination on the part of Johnson, Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to try to intensify the war against communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam by tighter organization at the top in Washington and perhaps by other personnel changes and shifts in strategic concepts.

The change in the State Department's organization goes back about three weeks when Rusk decided to adopt in the Viet Nam situation the task force system.

William H. Sullivan, a special assistant to Undersecretary W. Averell Harriman, was named this week to head the task force committee.

Hilsman, 44, had been a key figure on Viet Nam ever since he became assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs a year ago. When it appeared that he was being by-passed he evidently decided there was no longer any reason why he should not revive a personal determination to build a career in university teaching.

A West Point graduate, he holds a doctor's degree in international politics from Yale University and taught that subject at Princeton.

During World War II Hilsman served with Merrill's Marauders in Burma and was a guerrilla leader with the Office of Strategic Services.

Hruska, Kansan Want Import Quotas Tacked Onto Ag Bill

Washington (AP) — A flurry of Republican amendments raised new hurdles Wednesday for administration efforts to hurry action on an election year cott-wheat bill.

Protesting increases in imports of meat and livestock products, Sens. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., and James B. Pearson, R-Kan., said they would try to tack import quotas onto the commodities price support and subsidy measure.

Hruska and Pearson, in separate statements, said they are not satisfied with an agreement limiting imports of Australian and New Zealand beef and meat products. Both said domestic cattle prices had dropped sharply.

Hruska said he wanted to hold such imports to the 1958-62 levels. The agreement continues them at the higher 1962-63 levels.

Mansfield hopes to call up the farm bill after the Senate completes action on a $17 million defense authorization bill, possibly late Thursday.

Man Treated For Accident Injuries

James E. Morris, 18, of 353 Nebraska Center, was released from Lincoln General Hospital Wednesday morning after treatment for injuries when his car collided with two parked vehicles on Potter, between 32nd and Grace.

Police said Morris struck a car owned by Marvin R. Rogers, 3235 Potter, parked in front of his home. The impact demolished Rogers' car, and then pushed it into a pick-up truck also owned by Rogers, police said.

Hilsman Resignation Raises Speculation About Shakeup

Washington (AP)—The resignation of Asst. Secretary of State Roger Hilsman raised speculation Wednesday about possible further shakeup in the political-military high command directing the costly—and lagging—war against communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

Hilsman's decision followed disclosure that responsibility for the direction of U.S. policy in Viet Nam had been taken from his Office of Far Eastern Affairs and put into the hands of a newly created, high-level task force directly under Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

President Johnson, accepting Hilsman's resignation, praised his "courage and dedication" in government service. Hilsman said he wanted to return to university teaching as soon as possible. He declared there was no policy dispute involved in his decision to step down.

Evidence Adds Up

Nevertheless events of the last few days added up to evidence of determination on the part of Johnson, Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to try to intensify the war against communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam by tighter organization at the top in Washington and perhaps by other personnel changes and shifts in strategic concepts.

Murky Waters Cloak Jetliner

New Orleans (AP)—The main wreckage of an Eastern Air Lines jetliner lay cloaked by the murky waters of Lake Pontchartrain Wednesday — continuing to elude searchers from boats, planes and helicopter.

Until the big fuselage is recovered, aviation authorities said, investigators will be in the dark as to the cause of Tuesday's pre-dawn crash that killed all 58 aboard.

The Coast Guard sent divers down some 10 to 18 feet to the bottom of the 30-mile-wide lake just north of New Orleans after a day-long fog lifted somewhat.

The search, hampered by high winds and mist, is centered around a two-mile-area where rescue teams sighted two oil slicks.

Impact

CAB investigator William L. Lamb told a news conference the jet's "breakup impact" might be the reason its big tail section isn't sticking up from the shallow waters.

No one knows how much breakup there was, Lamb said, or how far the plane sank into the mud bottom.

The CAB said every available recovery method—including magnetic cranes and underwater closed circuit TV will be made available.

Searchers have recovered about 25 pounds of human remains and bits of floating debris. These include torn seats and interior cabin decorations.

No bodies have been found intact, a CAB spokesman said.

No Trouble Told

The pilot of the Atlanta-bound DC8 did not report any trouble to the control tower before he and his airship vanished from the radar scope.

The Weather Bureau said moderate to light surface winds blew out of the north when the plane took off from New Orleans.

Lamb said a conventionally-powered Delta plane had taken off on the same flight pattern prior to the Eastern flight. A short time after the jet had left, a Delta jetliner took off, again on the same pattern.

Neither Delta plane encountered trouble, Lamb said.

The accident was the first major crash of an airliner taking off on a scheduled flight from New Orleans International Airport.

Beatrice Asks Other Towns Follow Lead

. . . On Beef Ban

Beatrice (UPI)—Mayor W. W. Cook Sr. mailed letters to all first class cities in Nebraska, asking them to follow Beatrice's lead and pass an ordinance prohibiting the sale of imported beef in their cities.

The City Council here this week passed such an ordinance, which carries a $50 fine for sale of fresh or frozen beef produced or processed outside of the boundaries of the United States.

Cook also sent copies of his letters to Nebraska's delegation in Congress.

The letter called the beef industry one of the most important in Nebraska. He said large imports of foreign meat amounted to "tying a rock on the foot of a drowning man."

He said many other industries are protected by tariffs and the beef industry should be too.

The mayor said local reaction to the new import ordinance has been good and that all retailers were co-operating. He said his investigation showed that no imported beef was being sold here now. He said he had no evidence that any was before the passage of the ordinance.

Drive To Halt Foreign Drug Purchase Sought

Omaha (AP)—A campaign to halt purchase by the federal government of drugs from foreign firms, which use stolen American patent secrets and cultures to produce them, will be placed this weekend before the Nebraska state organization of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The VFW's state council of administration, meeting in Hastings, will consider a resolution condemning the purchase of such drugs and their use in Veterans Administration and military hospitals.

The resolution will be sponsored by the VFW's Tenth District organization, which represents 10 posts in Douglas County. It was approved unanimously by the district group.

Nebraskan Given Small Business Council Position

Washington (AP)— The appointment of John W. Kissack, Scottsbluff, Neb., businessman, as a member of the National Small Business Advisory Council was announced Wednesday.

Kissack is a partner in the firm of Elmer R. Kissack Co., a retailer of office equipment.

The advisory council evaluates the effectiveness of Small Business Administration programs. Council members serve without pay.

Aussies Up Quota

Canberra (AP)—Australia has increased its British immigration quota by 10,000 to a record total of 55,000 for 1963-64, Immigration Minister Hubert Opperman announced.

Judge Dittrick To Preside In Swiney Trial

Columbus (UPI) —District Judge George Dittrick of Norfolk will preside at the child stealing case involving the Rev. George D. Swiney, pastor of the Bible Baptist Church here, and his son, Loren.

Judge Dittrick will replace Judge R. D. Flory of Columbus, who has disqualified himself at the request of the defense.

Date for the start of the trial has been set for March 23.

Although defense attorney Leonard Dunker of Lincoln had indicated earlier he might ask for a change of venue in the matter, no such motion has yet been filed.

The minister and son were bound over to District Court to face the child stealing charges by County Judge William Goetz. They are accused of taking four children of Mrs. Carol Brinkman by a previous marriage. Also facing the same charges is Mrs. Brinkman's husband, Harold.

However, County Attorney C. Thomas White said that Brinkman has co-operated with the prosecution in the matter. The Brinkmans resided here at the time of the incidents in August, 1963, but have since moved to Oregon, where they lived before moving here at the request of the Rev. Mr. Swiney.

Ham Operators Find Strange Coincidence

Holdrege (AP) —As ham radio operators often do, Dave Allerheiligen of Holdrege and Garth Kennedy of Lincoln struck up an acquantance via the air waves.

Allerheiligen was intrigued when he discovered Kennedy lives on Holdrege Street in Lincoln. Allerheiligen lives on Lincoln Street in Holdrege.

Exon's Asks Court To Make Authority Call For New Bids

Exon's Inc., Lincoln office equipment and furnitire firm, filed suit in Lancaster District Court Wednesday seeking to force the Lincoln Airport Authority to readvertise for bids on some $15,000 worth of office equipment.

The injunction suit results from protests made by J. J. Exon after the Airport Authority awarded a contract for office fixtures and equipment to another bidder, even though the Exon bid was low. The authority said the Exon bid did not meet specifications.

Exon alleges that the specifications were drawn so that only one bidder could meet them.

The petition asked the court to enjoin the authority from "entering into a contract with the higher bidder, and from accepting bids on specifications for fixtures, and from not drafting new specifications and readvertising for bids for the fixtures and equipment which are reasonable and which are in accordance with the law."

Exon specifically asks that the defendants be compelled to readvertise for bids based on reasonable specifications.

Exon said his firm will refrain from bidding if new bids are taken in order to demonstrate "that this action is not for the plaintiff's gain."

He contends his firm has suffered substantial loss as a result of the authority's action, and that awarding a contract to the higher bidder results in a loss to taxpayers.

Gering Minister's Wife Dies At 71

Gering (AP) — The wife of a Gering Methodist minister, Mrs. Leslie A. Moore, 71, died unexpectedly Tuesday night in a Scottsbluff hospital after suffering a heart attack.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Friday at First Methodist Church in Gering.

Though the Rev. Mr.Moore had officially retired several years ago, he returned to active ministry to build and serve the Trinity Methodist Church in a new Gering subdivision. Other churches the couple had served include Riverdale, Gurley, Stratton, Scotia, Crete, Lincoln, Curtis, Red Cloud and Mitchell-Hull.

Survivors in addition to her husband include two sons, Carroll L. Moore, a professor at Nebraska Wesleyan University, and the Rev. Raymond W. Moore of Douglas, Ariz., and two daughters, Mrs. Marjorie A. Brabetz of Cheyenne, Wyo., and Mrs. Fern E. Mier of Alexandria, La.

ROOM GUTTED AS GIRL, 16, BATTLES FIRE

A fire Wednesday night gutted an upstairs bedroom at 5628 Saylor.

Mrs. Isabel Nobbman told firemen that one of her daughters discovered the fire about 9 p.m. when she went upstairs to study. The girl, Laura, 16, tried to extinguish the flames with a wet towel, while her twin, Lois, called the Fire Department.

Laura's hair was singed by the flames.

Fire Inspector DeWayne McIntyre said the fire caused considerable damage to the house. He said he did not know the origin of the fire.

Mrs. Nobbman said the girls smelled smoke when they came home from school around 4 p.m., but thought the smell was coming from the outside. She told firemen she did not have insurance on the house.

Stocks Climb In Late Rally

New York (AP) — The stock market snapped out of a spell of irregularity with a late rally Wednesday which boosted market averages to new highs. Trading was active.

Motors, airlines and farm implements were prominently on the upside. Steels, oils, cigarette issues and nonferrous metals preformed indifferently as groups. But blue chips displayed enough strength to give the stock indicators a pretty good boost.

Passage of the $11.5-billion tax-cut—biggest in the nation's history—appeared to bring new buying into the list.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 2.79 to a record peak of 799.38.

Volume rose to 5.35 million shares from Tuesday's 5.01 million.

Gainers outnumbered losers by 609 to 423, among the 1,328 issues traded. Highs for 1963-64 totaled 62 and lows 13.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.2 to a record 297.8 with industrials up 1.9 to a record high, rails up .4 to a yearly high and utilities up .5.

Ten of the 15 most active stocks advanced and 5 declined.

Studebaker paced the list on volume, rising ½ to 7½ on 135,100 shares. Second was Chrysler, up 1¾ at 42½ on 119,100 shares. Third was General Dynamics, up 1¼ at 30⅜ on 103,500 shares.

Some airlines were breaking out in new high ground, bolstered generally by improving load factors. Pan American was heavily traded and up 1½. Delta rose 1⅞, Northwest Airlines 2⅛, Western Airlines 2½ and Eastern 1¾.

Prospects of heavy spending for capital equipment as well as good evenings already on record helped International Harvester to a gain of 2½ and Caterpillar to a rise of 1⅞.

Johnson & Johnson rose 5⅝, IBM 5¼, Polaroid 5⅜, Motorola 3¾, Eastman Kodak 1¼ and U.S. gypsum 1¼.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were generally higher.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were mixed.

Old Crop Wheat's Setback Variable

Chicago (AP)—Old crop wheat futures galloped over a broad range of weakness Wednesday in a generally lower market on the Board of Trade.

Setbacks at times ranged to six cents from the day's high for the March contract but the losses had been mostly recovered at the close. The feed grains were mostly slightly easier.

Speculators, influenced by word that the tieup of wheat shipments to Russia would end soon, became active buyers. Traders said the demand appeared to be both short covering and establishment of long positions.

Wheat closed ⅛-3 cents a bushel lower, March $2.15-15⅛; soybeans ¾-1½ lower, March $2.64⅛-¼, corn ⅜ lower to ⅛ higher, March 65⅞ cents; rye 2¼-3½ lower, March $1.36.

Discussion Set On Salt-Wahoo Work Thursday

Proposed construction plans and the construction schedule of the Salt-Wahoo Watershed District from Calvert St. on the south edge of Lincoln downstream six miles to the junction with Oak Creek in the State Fairgrounds will be discussed at a meeting Thursday.

The meeting to be held at 7 p.m. at the America Forward Hall will be conducted by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Hal Schroeder, the district general manager, said landowners and interested parties are invited to attend.

Senators Seek U.S. Indian Day

Washington (AP)—Forty-three senators, including such unlikely allies as Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., called on Congress to establish a national American Indian Day.

Russell, who has often been at odds with Javits over civil rights, joined the New Yorker in cosponsoring a resolution to fix the fourth Friday in September each year as American Indian Day.

The original idea for an American Indian Day, he said, stems from a letter he received in 1960 from a then 7-year-old girl, Lynn Michaelson of Jackson Heights, N.Y.

Meyer Suggests Daily Mailing Of Bills Introduced

State Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer Wednesday suggested that copies of all bills and amendments filed during the legislative sessions be mailed every day to the clerks of the District Courts in Nebraska's 93 counties.

Meyer told the Legislative Council legislative processes study committee this would make such information more readily accessible to people in the state.

The committee is considering ways of streamlining the legislative process.

State Sen. Elvin Adamson of Nenzel is chairman.

Scottsbluff Man Pleads Guilty To Embezzling

Gering (AP)—Ralph O. Sayre, 44, of Scottsbluff has pleaded guilty in District Court to charges of embezzling city property.

Judge Ted R. Feidler continued the case for a pre-sentence investigation.

Sayre is one of four former city employes to come before the courts here on charges of embezzlement. Cases on the other three are pending.

Dean Leitner Is Promoted To Lieutenant

Police Sgt. Dean Leitner, 30, has been promoted to lieutenant, effective March 1, Chief Joseph T. Carroll announced Wednesday.

Leitner

Leitner, a police officer since 1957 and a desk sergeant since 1961, will leave Lincoln Monday to begin a three - week traffic supervision training program at the Northwestern Traffic Institute, Evanston, Ill.

Carroll said Leitner's promotion was brought about by a transfer of Lt. Reynold McMeen from second shift traffic commander to that of supply officer on the 7:30 a.m. shift. Leitner will be assigned to the 10:30 p.m. shift.

Carroll also announced the promotion of Officers Larry Kellison to sergeant and Donald Kahler to detective, effective March 1.

Commonwealth's Bid Is Low On Lighting District

Commonwealth Electric Co. was apparent low bidder at $36,900 for Ornamental Lighting District 60 for N from 11th to 16th and 11th from M to P, city officials said Wednesday.

The new mercury-vapor lighting was ordered in by the City Council. The project's cost will be assessed against the abutting property.

Two bids were received on Sidewalk District 10 near 46th and High.

Judd Bros. Construction Co. bid $4,860.40 and Wasemiller Concrete Construction Co. submitted an incomplete bid of $3,967.99, according to officials. The Wasemiller proposal did not include removal of old sidewalk.

On steel fencing around the Fire Department's training tower under construction in Sawyer-Snell Park, Lincoln Steel Corp. was apparently low at $2,082.

Other bidders were General Steel Products, $2,995, and Midwest Steel Works, $3,154.

Lyle Dowling, Former Omaha Newsman, Dies

New York—Funeral services for Lyle Dowling, 55, New York newspaperman and native of Madison, Neb., will be held Thursday noon at the Mayfield Chapel in New York. He died Monday, apparently of a heart attack.

A former student at the University of Nebraska, he was married in 1934 to Eleanor Bonney Brown of Omaha. He was woman's section news editor of the Omaha World-Herald before leaving Omaha in 1934. Later he became executive editor of the old Brooklyn Eagle. At the time of his death he was with another New York paper.

Surviving are a daughter, Kate of New York; his mother, two brothers and a sister. He was a grandson of the late U.S. Senator William V. Allen of Madison, Neb.

Three Towns OKd For Housing Loans

Annexation Issue Hearing Moved To March 11th

Lancaster District Judge Bartlett Boyles continued until March 11 hearing on a mandamus action filed in an attempt to force the West Lincoln Village Board to place the annexation issue on the March ballot.

The board submitted an answer Wednesday on the request to show cause why it should not be required to proceed with the annexation vote in March.

The action was brought by Ralph Wever of West Lincoln, who has been active in petition efforts to get the village annexed to Lincoln.

Murky Waters Cloak Jetliner

New Orleans (AP)—The main wreckage of an Eastern Air Lines jetliner lay cloaked by the murky waters of Lake Pontchartrain Wednesday — continuing to elude searchers from boats, planes and helicopter.

Until the big fuselage is recovered, aviation authorities said, investigators will be in the dark as to the cause of Tuesday's pre-dawn crash that killed all 58 aboard.

The Coast Guard sent divers down some 10 to 10 feet to the bottom of the 30-mile-wide lake just north of New Orleans after a day-long fog lifted somewhat.

The search, hampered by high winds and mist, is centered around a two-mile-area where rescue teams sighted two oil slicks.

Impact

CAB investigator William L. Lamb told a news conference the jet's "breakup impact" might be the reason its big tail section isn't sticking up from the shallow waters.

No one knows how much breakup there was, Lamb said, or how far the plane sank into the mud bottom.

The CAB said every available recovery method—including magnetic cranes and underwater closed circuit TV will be made available.

Searchers have recovered about 25 pounds of human remains and bits of floating debris. These include torn seats and interior cabin decorations.

No bodies have been found intact, a CAB spokesman said.

No Trouble Told

The pilot of the Atlanta-bound DC8 did not report any trouble to the control tower before he and his airship vanished from the radar scope.

The Weather Bureau said moderate to light surface winds blew out of the north when the plane took off from New Orleans.

Lamb said a conventionally-powered Delta plane had taken off on the same flight pattern prior to the Eastern flight. A short time after the jet had left, a Delta jetliner took off, again on the same pattern.

Neither Delta plane encountered trouble, Lamb said.

The accident was the first major crash of an airliner taking off on a scheduled flight from New Orleans International Airport.

Beatrice Asks Other Towns Follow Lead

. . . On Beef Ban

Beatrice (UPI)—Mayor W. W. Cook Sr. mailed letters to all first class cities in Nebraska, asking them to follow Beatrice's lead and pass an ordinance prohibiting the sale of imported beef in their cities.

The City Council here this week passed such an ordinance, which carries a $50 fine for sale of fresh or frozen beef produced or processed outside of the boundaries of the United States.

Cook also sent copies of his letters to Nebraska's delegation in Congress.

The letter called the beef industry one of the most important in Nebraska. He said large imports of foreign meat amounted to "tying a rock on the foot of a drowning man."

He said many other industries are protected by tariffs and the beef industry should be too.

The mayor said local reaction to the new import ordinance has been good and that all retailers were co-operating. He said his investigation showed that no imported beef was being sold here now. He said he had no evidence that any was before the passage of the ordinance.

Drive To Halt Foreign Drug Purchase Sought

Omaha (AP)—A campaign to halt purchase by the federal government of drugs from foreign firms, which use stolen American patent secrets and cultures to produce them, will be placed this weekend before the Nebraska state organization of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The VFW's state council of administration, meeting in Hastings, will consider a resolution condemning the purchase of such drugs and their use in Veterans Administration and military hospitals.

The resolution will be sponsored by the VFW's Tenth District organization, which represents 10 posts in Douglas County. It was approved unanimously by the district group.

Nebraskan Given Small Business Council Position

Washington (AP)— The appointment of John W. Kissack, Scottsbluff, Neb., businessman as a member of the National Small Business Advisory Council was announced Wednesday.

Kissack is a partner in the firm of Elmer R. Kissack Co., a retailer of office equipment.

The advisory council evaluates the effectiveness of Small Business Administration programs. Council members serve without pay.

Aussies Up Quota

Canberra (AP)—Australia has increased its British immigration quota by 10,000 to a record total of 55,000 for 1963-64, Immigration Minister Hubert Opperman announced.

Judge Dittrick To Preside In Swiney Trial

Columbus (UPI) —District Judge George Dittrick of Norfolk will preside at the child stealing case involving the Rev. George D. Swiney, pastor of the Bible Baptist Church here, and his son, Loren.

Judge Dittrick will replace Judge R. D. Flory of Columbus, who has disqualified himself at the request of the defense.

Date for the start of the trial has been set for March 23.

Although defense attorney Leonard Dunker of Lincoln had indicated earlier he might ask for a change of venue in the matter, no such motion has yet been filed.

The minister and son were bound over to District Court to face the child stealing charges by County Judge William Goetz. They are accused of taking four children of Mrs. Carol Brinkman by a previous marriage. Also facing the same charges is Mrs. Brinkman's husband, Harold.

However, County Attorney C. Thomas White said that Brinkman has co-operated with the prosecution in the matter. The Brinkmans resided here at the time of the incidents in August, 1963, but have since moved to Oregon, where they lived before moving here at the request of the Rev. Mr. Swiney.

Ham Operators Find Strange Coincidence

Holdrege (AP) —As ham radio operators often do, Dave Allerheiligen of Holdrege and Garth Kennedy of Lincoln struck up an acquantance via the air waves.

Allerheiligen was intrigued when he discovered Kennedy lives on Holdrege Street in Lincoln. Allerheiligen lives on Lincoln Street in Holdrege.

Exon's Asks Court To Make Authority Call For New Bids

Exon's Inc., Lincoln office equipment and furnitire firm, filed suit in Lancaster District Court Wednesday seeking to force the Lincoln Airport Authority to readvertise for bids on some $15,000 worth of office equipment.

The injunction suit results from protests made by J. J. Exon after the Airport Authority awarded a contract for office fixtures and equipment to another bidder, even though the Exon bid was low. The authority said the Exon bid did not meet specifications.

Exon alleges that the specifications were drawn so that only one bidder could meet them.

The petition asked the court to enjoin the authority from "entering into a contract with the higher bidder, and from accepting bids on specifications for fixtures, and from not drafting new specifications and readvertising for bids for the fixtures and equipment which are reasonable and which are in accordance with the law."

Exon specifically asks that the defendants be compelled to readvertise for bids based on reasonable specifications.

Exon said his firm will refrain from bidding if new bids are taken in order to demonstrate "that this action is not for the plaintiff's gain."

He contends his firm has suffered substantial loss as a result of the authority's action, and that awarding a contract to the higher bidder results in a loss to taxpayers.

Gering Minister's Wife Dies At 71

Gering (AP) — The wife of a Gering Methodist minister, Mrs. Leslie A. Moore, 71, died unexpectedly Tuesday night in a Scottsbluff hospital after suffering a heart attack.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Friday at First Methodist Church in Gering.

Though the Rev. Mr.Moore had officially retired several years ago, he returned to active ministry to build and serve the Trinity Methodist Church in a new Gering subdivision. Other churches the couple had served include Riverdale, Gurley, Stratton, Scotia, Crete, Lincoln, Curtis, Red Cloud and Mitchell-Hull.

Survivors in addition to her husband include two sons, Carroll L. Moore, a professor at Nebraska Wesleyan University, and the Rev. Raymond W. Moore of Douglas, Ariz., and two daughters, Mrs. Marjorie A. Brabetz of Cheyenne, Wyo., and Mrs. Fern E. Mier of Alexandria, La.

ROOM GUTTED AS GIRL, 16, BATTLES FIRE

A fire Wednesday night gutted an upstairs bedroom at 5628 Saylor.

Mrs. Isabel Nobbman told firemen that one of her daughters discovered the fire about 9 p.m. when she went upstairs to study. The girl, Laura, 16, tried to extinguish the flames with a wet towel, while her twin, Lois, called the Fire Department.

Laura's hair was singed by the flames.

Fire Inspector DeWayne McIntyre said the fire caused considerable damage to the house. He said he did not know the origin of the fire.

Mrs. Nobbman said the girls smelled smoke when they came home from school around 4 p.m., but thought the smell was coming from the outside. She told firemen she did not have insurance on the house.

Stocks Climb In Late Rally

New York (AP) — The stock market snapped out of a spell of irregularity with a late rally Wednesday which boosted market averages to new highs. Trading was active.

Motors, airlines and farm implements were prominently on the upside. Steels, oils, cigarette issues and nonferrous metals preformed indifferently as groups. But blue chips displayed enough strength to give the stock indicators a pretty good boost.

Passage of the $11.5-billion tax-cut—biggest in the nation's history—appeared to bring new buying into the list.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 2.79 to a record peak of 799.36.

Volume rose to 5.35 million shares from Tuesday's 5.01 million.

Gainers outnumbered losers by 609 to 423, among the 1,328 issues traded. Highs for 1963-64 totaled 62 and lows 13.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.2 to a record 297.8 with industrials up 1.9 to a record high, rails up .4 to a yearly high and utilities up .5.

Ten of the 15 most active stocks advanced and 5 declined.

Studebaker paced the list on volume, rising ¼ to 7¼ on 135,100 shares. Second was Chrysler, up 1¾ at 42½ on 119,100 shares. Third was General Dynamics, up 1¼ at 30⅝ on 103,500 shares.

Some airlines were breaking out in new high ground, bolstered generally by improving load factors. Pan American was heavily traded and up 1½. Delta rose 1⅛, Northwest Airlines 2⅛, Western Airlines 2½ and Eastern 1⅝.

Prospects of heavy spending for capital equipment as well as good evenings already on record helped International Harvester to a gain of 2½ and Caterpillar to a rise of 1⅜.

Jones & Johnson rose 3⅝, IBM 5½, Polaroid 9⅝, Motorola 3⅝, Eastman Kodak 1¼ and U.S. gypsum 1½.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were generally higher.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were mixed.

Old Crop Wheat's Setback Variable

Chicago (AP)—Old crop wheat futures galloped over a broad range of weakness Wednesday in a generally lower market on the Board of Trade.

Setbacks at times ranged to six cents from the day's high for the March contract but the losses had been mostly recovered at the close. The feed grains were mostly slightly easier.

Speculators, influenced by word that the tieup of wheat shipments to Russia would end soon, became active buyers. Traders said the demand appeared to be both short covering and establishment of long positions.

Wheat closed 3¼-3 cents a bushel lower, March $2.15-15½; soybeans 4¼-1½ lower; March 2.64¼-¾; corn 1¼ lower to ⅛ higher, March 65¾ cents; rye 2¼-3½ lower. March $1.36.

Discussion Set On Salt-Wahoo Work Thursday

Proposed construction plans and the construction schedule of the Salt-Wahoo Watershed District from Calvert St. on the south edge of Lincoln downstream six miles to the junction with Oak Creek in the State Fairgrounds will be discussed at a meeting Thursday.

The meeting to be held at 7 p.m. at the America Forward Hall will be conducted by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Hal Schroeder, the district general manager, said landowners and interested parties are invited to attend.

Senators Seek U.S. Indian Day

Washington (AP)—Forty-three senators, including such unlikely allies as Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., called on Congress to establish a national American Indian Day.

Russell, who has often been at odds with Javits over civil rights, joined the New Yorker in cosponsoring a resolution to fix the fourth Friday in September each year as American Indian Day.

The original idea for an American Indian Day, he said, stems from a letter he received in 1960 from a then 7-year-old girl, Lynn Michaelson of Jackson Heights, N.Y.

Meyer Suggests Daily Mailing Of Bills Introduced

State Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer Wednesday suggested that copies of all bills and amendments filed during the legislative sessions be mailed every day to the clerks of the District Courts in Nebraska's 93 counties.

Meyer told the Legislative Council legislative processes study committee this would make such information more readily accessible to people in the state.

The committee is considering ways of streamlining the legislative process.

State Sen. Elvin Adamson of Nenzel is chairman.

Scottsbluff Man Pleads Guilty To Embezzling

Gering (AP)—Ralph O. Sayre, 44, of Scottsbluff has pleaded guilty in District Court to charges of embezzling city property.

Judge Ted R. Feidler continued the case for a pre-sentence investigation.

Dean Leitner Is Promoted To Lieutenant

Police Sgt. Dean Leitner, 30, has been promoted to lieutenant, effective March 1, Chief Joseph T. Carroll announced Wednesday.

Leitner

Leitner, a police officer since 1957 and a desk sergeant since 1961, will leave Lincoln Monday to begin a three-week traffic supervision training program at the Northwestern Traffic Institute, Evanston, Ill.

Carroll said Leitner's promotion was brought about by a transfer of Lt. Reynold McMeen from second shift traffic commander to that of supply officer on the 7:30 a.m. shift. Leitner will be assigned to the 10:30 p.m. shift.

Carroll also announced the promotion of Officers Larry Kellison to sergeant and Donald Kahler to detective, effective March 1.

Commonwealth's Bid Is Low On Lighting District

Commonwealth Electric Co. was apparent low bidder at $36,900 for Ornamental Lighting District 60 for N from 11th to 16th and 11th from M to P, city officials said Wednesday.

The new mercury-vapor lighting was ordered in by the City Council. The project's cost will be assessed against the abutting property.

Two bids were received on Sidewalk District 10 near 46th and High.

Judd Bros. Construction Co. bid $4,860.40 and Wasemiller Concrete Construction Co. submitted an incomplete bid of $3,967.99, according to officials. The Wasemiller proposal did not include removal of old sidewalk.

On steel fencing around the Fire Department's training tower under construction in Sawyer-Snell Park, Lincoln Steel Corp. was apparently low at $2,082.

Other bidders were General Steel Products, $2,995, and Midwest Steel Works, $3,154.

Lyle Dowling, Former Omaha Newsman, Dies

New York—Funeral services for Lyle Dowling, 55, New York newspaperman and native of Madison, Neb., will be held Thursday noon at the Mayfield Chapel in New York. He died Monday, apparently of a heart attack.

A former student at the University of Nebraska, he was married in 1934 to Eleanor Bonney Brown of Omaha. He was woman's section news editor of the Omaha World-Herald before leaving Omaha in 1934. Later he became executive editor of the old Brooklyn Eagle. At the time of his death he was with another New York paper.

Surviving are a daughter, Kate of New York; his mother, two brothers and a sister. He was a grandson of the late U.S. Senator William V. Allen of Madison, Neb.

Annexation Issue Hearing Moved To March 11th

Lancaster District Judge Bartlett Boyles continued until March 11 hearing on a mandamus action filed in an attempt to force the West Lincoln Village Board to place the annexation issue on the March ballot.

The board submitted an answer Wednesday on the request to show cause why it should not be required to proceed with the annexation vote in March.

The action was brought by Ralph Wever of West Lincoln, who has been active in petition efforts to get the village annexed to Lincoln.

Dean Leitner Is Promoted To Lieutenant

Police Sgt. Dean Leitner, 30, has been promoted to lieutenant, effective March 1, Chief Joseph T. Carroll announced Wednesday.

Leitner

Leitner, a police officer since 1957 and a desk sergeant since 1961, will leave Lincoln Monday to begin a three-week traffic supervision training program at the Northwestern Traffic Institute, Evanston, Ill.

Carroll said Leitner's promotion was brought about by a transfer of Lt. Reynold McMeen from second shift traffic commander to that of supply officer on the 7:30 a.m. shift. Leitner will be assigned to the 10:30 p.m. shift.

Carroll also announced the promotion of Officers Larry Kellison to sergeant and Donald Kahler to detective, effective March 1.

Commonwealth's Bid Is Low On Lighting District

Commonwealth Electric Co. was apparent low bidder at $36,900 for Ornamental Lighting District 60 for N from 11th to 16th and 11th from M to P, city officials said Wednesday.

The new mercury-vapor lighting was ordered in by the City Council. The project's cost will be assessed against the abutting property.

Two bids were received on Sidewalk District 10 near 46th and High.

Judd Bros. Construction Co. bid $4,860.40 and Wasemiller Concrete Construction Co. submitted an incomplete bid of $3,967.99, according to officials. The Wasemiller proposal did not include removal of old sidewalk.

On steel fencing around the Fire Department's training tower under construction in Sawyer-Snell Park, Lincoln Steel Corp. was apparently low at $2,082.

Other bidders were General Steel Products, $2,995, and Midwest Steel Works, $3,154.

Three Towns OKd For Housing Loans

Washington (AP) — These loans to local housing authorities in Nebraska for construction of low-rent homes were announced by the Public Housing Administration: Blue Hill, $333,724 for 25 homes; Imperial, $280,683 for 20 homes; Clay Center, $384,298 for 30 homes.

Governor, Ag Director To Attend Beef Price Talks

Gov. Frank Morrison and State Agriculture Director Pearle Finigan will take part in a discussion of cattle prices at a meeting Monday in Shenandoah, Iowa sponsored by the Cattle Industry Committee for Legislative Action.

The governor Wednesday said he and Finigan will tell the assembly of industry leaders what his administration has proposed to solve the problem.

Morrison said if the five steps recommended by him as a result of a study by Finigan last year had been adopted the problem of declining meat prices would be closer to solution.

Morrison forwarded the recommendations in December to Congress and President Johnson.

They called for the establishment of import quotas on beef, a beef promotion program by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, encouragement of lighter marketing weights by the Agriculture Department, increased use of domestic meat in school lunch programs and further studies into retail beef prices.

Politically Inspired

The governor suggested criticism leveled against him recently over the cattle price situation has been politically inspired.

He noted he recommended the 1963 Legislature appropriate money to find out why the decline in beef market prices wasn't being reflected in retail stores but the Legislature refused to act or support the investigation.

Morrison said if retail prices had been cut, there would have been an increase in consumption which might have forced market prices up.

Morrison also said economists generally agree that imports are only responsible for 15% of the drop in prices and "we can't lose sight of these other factors."

The governor said congressional action is the only solution and the cattle industry is now realizing it cannot exist independently of federal assistance.

"I think it is obvious to all of them now that the cattle industry as well as all other industries has to utilize the facilities of the federal government in the promotion of the general welfare of the industry," he said.

Youngman State Representative To Tourism Group

Gov. Frank Morrison reported Wednesday he has named Lawrence Youngman of Omaha as his representative on a national committee to promote tourist trips to the United States by foreigners.

Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges asked the governor to designate a representative.

Youngman, a tourist agent, is chairman of the governor's State Development Committee.

Baker's Best Knocks Dandruff-Itchy Scalp

GRAND ISLAND, Nebr. — Mr. W. A. Shaffer, 1012 W. 8th says: "I have used Baker's Hair Tonic for many years. It beats anything I've tried for dandruff and itchy scalp." Any shampoo will wash dandruff away, but who wants to shampoo every day or two. Baker's is the easy, pleasant way. For years it has been tops for dandruff and itchy scalp. Now, a new ingredient makes it even more effective. You'll agree: "Baker's Best beats all the rest," or money back.
